 team spirit. At these schools the players seem to be playing for the love of the game and that alone.
 Since, of all the leading schools, A. & M. and Cornell were hardest hit, Sper plans to feature the methods that the two coaches, Norton and Carl Snavey, are using to rebuild their teams. Norton's method of starting at the bottom before working up was closely filmed last Saturday.
 Sper, who is known for his weekly football predictions during the season and for his selection of Liberty Magazine's all player all America team, was accompanied by his Hollywood cameraman, Al Wetzel and Bus Sutherland who is coach of Beverly Hills High School and member of the '38 and '39 U. C.L.A. football teams. With them was around $30,000 of equipment that they will continue using until they are through filming the Eastern schools late in the spring.
 Sper's completed shorts will be shown in Texas by the Interstate Theaters when released next fall. They will be shown at the rate of two or three a week, and their first runs will not be over until the middle of September. In all probability the pictures will be shown at College Station by the Campus Theater.

 lead changing hands on several occasions.
 With only ten minutes to go, Henderson hit the hoop for three straight field goals to forge the cadets ahead, 39 to 38. Then the Owls got red hot, and with Closs, Kinney, and Carswell making the two pointers regularly, took a lead of 46 to 39. Dawson and Dwyer, however, sank two goals, and Lang added a gratis shot to deadlock the score at 46 all with only 30 seconds of play remaining. Kinney then broke into the clear and sank a crisp shot which spelled defeat for the Aggies. Selman came through a second later with a field goal to ice the game for the Houston team, 50 to 46.
 Bill Henderson, with 17 points, took down scoring honors for the night, followed closely by Kinney, Carswell, and Closs, with 15, 12, and 11 markers respectively.

 the founders of the movement. Justice Hughes has interpreted the constitutional provisions concerning religious liberty in their practical sense. He emphasized that America has had a great share in the establishment of the principle of religious liberty, and that only by maintaining religious liberty can we continue to progress in civilization.
 The National Conference and its representative who will speak here are particularly interested in youth, realizing that the world of tomorrow will be composed of the young people of today, and that whether the America of the future will be a tolerant or intolerant nation depends in large part upon youth, who must be immunized against prejudice and equipped with attitudes and techniques of friendliness and cooperation towards members of all faiths and nationalities. This is one of the fundamental aims of the National Brotherhood Week.
