

Longhorns in Hot Water at Swim Meet Here Tonight

With Hub Johnson

Dawson, Duncan, Dwyer and Lang fought a hard battle for their final game on Forty Acres Thursday night but it was all in vain. In their years, the Aggies have never starred on the courts of the Southwest but these four have played with fight and determination.

Champions meet tonight in Downs Natatorium as Harold Hensley the '40 champ and Harris McClamrock the '39 champ of the 50 and 100 yard dashes meet to decide the bearer of the '41 crown. Adamson has his strongest tank team in many years and will be near the top if not on it when the final score is marked up. A loss tonight does not necessarily mean Texas will take the title but it will make them the favorite. Baylor and S. M. U. might come through to take some of their points.

Last night the track team opened their season in the Border Olympics in Laredo.

Today they run in an invitation meet in the Alamo Stadium in San Antonio. Look for Roy Bucek and Albert Ricks to be the sparks of the cadet thinly clads this year.

The Texas Dairy Products Association will meet in Fort Worth April 9 and 10.

Track Team Enters Meet In Alamo City

Bucek Looms as Star Hurdler from A&M and Southwest

The Texas Aggie track team continues its jaunt around the country when it stops at the Alamo City today to participate in a San Antonio invitation meet which will be composed of selected teams.

Prospects for the track team this year seems to be better than ever before with such talent as Captain James Thomason, Roy Bucek, "Bama" Smith, and Pete Watkins, gracing the cadet lineup.

Of the four, Roy Bucek is probably the most sensational. He is the star Aggie hurdler, and promises to develop into the leading timber topper in the land. Last year, competition proved to be too much for Roy, with such stars as Freddie Wolcott, Boyce Gatewood, and the Aggies' own Ed Dreiss, cluttering the southwest conference. This year all have graduated, and Bucek is destined to take Wolcott's place as the top hurdler in the conference.

Jim Thomason should also add a few points to the Aggies' cause. He was formerly the shot-put champ in this conference but suffered a setback in the last campaign. This year, he is out for another fling, and will make it his business to regain his former title.

Others making the trip include the following: Pete Henry, star discuss thrower; Ralph Henderson, long-distance runner for the cadets; Jimmie Knight and Carleton Bush, who run the relays for the Aggies; and Albert Ricks, sophomore star of the high jump, pole vault, and broad jump events.

T.C.U. Gridders to Play Kansas in 1942

T. C. U. and the University of Kansas will meet on the gridiron in 1942 and 1943, on a home-and-home basis.

The Jayhawks will play in Fort Worth Oct. 10, 1942, and the Horned Frogs will open the 1943 season in Lawrence, Sept. 25.

The game will be the first between T. C. U. and a Big Six school.

"We are pleased to have the University of Kansas on our list of football opponents," Coach Dutch Meyer comments.

Football Game With 1941 Squad Is Festival Climax

Day's Activities Will Also Include Baseball And Water Polo Games

Rain, snow, or sun will not hamper the annual Sports Day Festival, which will get under way at 1:15 p. m. All preparations have been completed, with football, baseball and water polo taking the spotlight this weekend.

All proceeds will go to the "T" Club whose dance will be held here next week.

The water polo game will open the proceedings, with a tilt between the varsity and picked members of the corps being in the offing. Following that, a regular nine inning intrasquad game will be offered by the baseball team. This will be the first chance for the "twelfth" man to get a preview of how the team will fare in the conference race. Such players as "Lefty" Bumpers, John Scoggin, Jack Lindsey, "Dookie" Pugh, Roy Peden, and Bill Black should furnish ample thrills to the baseball hungry fans.

Serving as a climax for the day, a full length football game between picked players will be offered. The game will be given as a preview of the 1941 gridiron squad and will give the pigskin minded fan a chance to see what kind of replacements Coach Homer Norton has molded in place of the nine members of his star studded championship teams. Only two members, Derace Moser and Jim Sterling, are left from the team that amassed a total of 20 victories out of 21 tilts. What possibilities the team possesses will be the question answered tomorrow.

B Coast Artillerymen Adams, Dreiss, King, Whitmore, Trotter, and Cox teamed up to take a 3-0 decision over L Infantry in their horseshoe match.

Horseshoe pitchers from E Infantry capitalized on their ability and cunning to down D Engineers 2-1. Zerr, Brittan, Pankey, and Yancey threw winners for the "paddlefeet" and Shurley and Burrus took in one for the "slide-rulers".

Speedballers came through with four games before the weather brought things to a standstill. H Coast Artillery defeated C Field Artillery 8-5 with their consistent play, B Signal Corps took D Field Artillery 6-2, B Field Artillery won over A Signal Corps in a hard fought game, and the Machine Gun Cavalry mowed A Infantry down 4-1.

G Coast Artillery brought F Infantry to the net in their well earned 2-1 volleyball game, as did G Infantry over C Engineers in their contest that ended in a like score.

Second Placings Will Possibly Decide Winner

Possibilities for First Places Appear Evenly Distributed

For the second time this week, Texas University and Texas A. & M. meet on the athletic field of battle. Tonight the Longhorn mermen will swim against a determined Aggie team in what promises to be one of the best meets of the year. The meet will be held in the P. L. Downs, Jr., Natatorium at College Station and is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

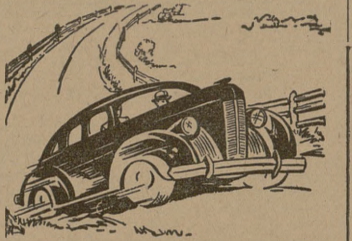

Main events will be the four free-style distances, in which are entered only the best swimmers of both teams, and the breast stroke that should feature a photo-finish between Beeler of Texas and Ponthieux of the Aggies.

Hensley, Aggies, holder of the Conference championship in both 50 yd. and 100 yd. free style is scheduled to defend his record time against McClamrock, who held the two championships in 1939. (Continued on Page 4)

Spring Training Over Today With Sports Day Intra-Squad Football Game

Eyes of the Texas Aggies will be focused for the first time this season on their championship team of '39 and '40 when they climax their 30-day training period with an intra-squad game as a feature attraction in the annual Sports' Festival today.

The "twelfth man" will get a chance to see what Coach Homer Norton has molded in the way of replacing nine lettermen of his two-year champions. Only Derace Moser, triple-threat back, and James Sterling, stellar end, are back from the starting lineup which defeated the Fordham Rams in the Cotton Bowl.

Norton certainly has a big job on his hands replacing Kimbrough Thomason, Pugh, Robnett, et al. However, all is not lost, as some promising freshmen and former ineligible gridsters are well reinforcing the squad. Among those showing great promise in developing into big threats include Dennis Andricks, powerful 220-lb. line plunger, Leo Daniels, swivel-hipped broken field runner, Dick Sharke, one of the best blocking backs on the squad; Willie Zapalac, who is destined to take up where Kimbrough left off; Bob Williams, sturdy and hard running back; and Jake Webster, power runner and place kicking artist.

tackles and passers. Loss of Ernie Pannell and Chip Routt left the Aggies with only one proven tackle, and that's Martin Ruby. The other tackle spot is being taken up by Euel Wesson. These two are the only experienced tackles on the squad. Bob Tulis, ineligible last year, is showing up well at practice and is giving Wesson a hot fight for the position.

Passers on the squad are few and far between. Some of the more prominent pass throwers include Derace Moser, Marshall Spivey, "Butch" Bando, and Tom Pickett. The spring training this year has not been filled with intra-squad games as has always been the fashion. Instead, fundamentals on blocking, tackling, and passing have been given daily to the hard-working gridsters.

Practice will continue through March 12, whereupon the boys will hang up their togs until Fall training.
