Highlights in Past Weekend's Activities

Proclaimed by all who attended as the best dances of the year, the Barnyard Frolic and the Cattlemen's Ball highlighted a weekend of colorful costumes and care-free good times.

For the Barnyard Frolic, sponsored each year by the local chapter of the A.S.A.E. and held in the farm equipment room on the top floor, the Aggeland Orchestra held forth dressed for the occasion.

If I am elected is hard to say. A true statement that answers such a problem from any candidate would be close to an impossibility. But there are a few general conclusions that I have reached. Probably the most important is that next year's Battalion will be a paper for the corps. True, our paper is the official organ of the City of College Station, but I have enough Aggie tradition in me to try to keep our paper 99 and 44/100% pure Aggie news, about Aggies and for Aggies.

Let's make today's election one that we have all wanted to see on the A. & M. campus for some time. In other words, let's all get out and vote.

University of Michigan library extension service reports increased popular interest in defense, Latin-American problems, taxation, economic conditions, and problems of citizenship and adult education.

I have, also, gained considerable experience by working on my high school annual.
