AGRICULTURAL ENGINEERS
The last meeting of the A.S.A.E. will be held tonight in the Agricultural Engineering Lecture room at 7:15 tonight. All members who have not voted for the election of next year's officers are urged to come by the Agricultural Engineering Office and vote before 5 P. M. Thursday.

ANNUAL A.S.C.E. BANQUET
The A. S. C. E. will hold its annual banquet in Sbsa Hall tonight at 7:00 P. M. The guest speaker for the evening will be Colonel Ike Ashburn. Colonel O. A. Seward will be present to make a short talk.

As is customary Seniors will be admitted free of charge. The banquet is given in their honor and is the last social event of the year for them in the society.

This year, in an effort to get the freshmen civil engineers interested in the work of the society, it has been decided to admit them free also. The president of the society and junior representative on the engineering council for next year will be elected at the banquet, and it is hoped that all of the freshmen will be present to take part in the election. The winners of the award for the most valuable senior and most valuable junior member of the society during the past year will be announced.

AGRONOMY SOCIETY PICNIC
The Agronomy Society will hold its annual picnic Thursday afternoon after 5 P. M. at Hensel Park. All Agronomy Society members are urged to attend. Fun and good eats guaranteed.

All freshmen or other students who are contemplating taking sophomore Aeronautical Engineering courses next year are requested to meet at 7:00 p. m. Friday, May 23rd in the Chemistry Lecture Room. Attendance at this meeting is important since it will help in making an estimate of the number of sophomores there will be in Aeronautical Engineering next year.

SUMMER EMPLOYMENT
The Fuller Brush Company has a limited number of summer jobs for College students. Students make from $35.00 to $50.00 per week with these jobs. If you are interested in one of these jobs see R. K. Whitfill, Project House No. 10.

W. R. HORSLEY
AERONAUTICAL AND MARINE ENGINEERING
We contemplate offering ten or twelve weeks' training to June graduates in both Aeronautical Engineering and Marine Engineering - Naval Architecture. This is to enable such graduates as take these courses to qualify as Junior Aeronautical Engineer or Junior Marine - Naval Architecture Engineer after obtaining their Civil Service rating.

In order to ascertain the interest in this instruction, we have prepared forms for June graduates which are based on the possibility that deferment might be obtained long enough to take the training. These forms may be obtained at my office or at the office of the head of any engineering department.

'41 Longhorn—

horn. A special group is devoted to pictures of home town clubs and mothers' clubs. Two anti-aircraft guns manned by members of the Coast Artillery Corps here are the subject of this section's division page.

The Longhorn this year is a colorful book which accurately provides a resume of the year's activities at Aggieland. The many sections of the Longhorn are printed in colored inks which add much to the beauty of the book. Editor Morton J. Robinson has said that this is the largest year book ever published at A. & M.

From the first page to the last, this year's Longhorn promises to be one that every Aggie will prize as one of his most honored possessions. The book is a fitting tribute to all Aggies who have attended school this year and participated in Aggieland's activities. The 1940-41 Longhorn is Aggieland.

Members of the Longhorn staff to whom all credit for this book should go are: Morton Robinson, editor; L. L. Kilpatrick, managing editor; O. G. Allen, advertising manager; Phil Golman, photographer; and J. P. Jones, vanity fair assistant. Other members of the staff are: Cecil Grissom and E. B. Kyzar, camp section assistants; R. L. Heitkamp, junior editor; Harvey Lynn, J. B. Hancock, J. O. Alexander, junior assistants; and A. R. Ramirez, R. B. Jones, freshman assistants.

National Defense is foremost in the minds of patriotic Americans at this time, and the Longhorn timed its dedication perfectly to join in with all Aggieland in displaying loyalty to our country. Throughout the book are quotations of famous Americans pertaining to the subject of National Defense. Indicative of this theme and expressing the views of all Aggieland are the words of Theodore Roosevelt which form the introduction to the activities section: "We have room in this country for but one flag—the stars and stripes. We have room but for one loyalty—loyalty to the United States. There can be no 50-50 Americanism. There is room here for only 100 per cent Americanism, only for those who are Americans and nothing else."

Commencement—

bers of the faculty and ex-students. The Final Ball will begin at 10 p. m. in Sbsa Hall with Lou Breeze furnishing the music.

The activities Saturday will conclude the current school year. At 8:30 a. m. Major General Richard Donovan, commander of the Eighth Corps Area will make a formal presentation of resegge commissions to students who have completed their four years of military training.

The Final Review will take place at 9:30, and at 12 noon a joint luncheon of the faculty and former students will be held in Sbsa Hall.

Easterwood's Life—

now a lieutenant, was brought to the United States to serve at Hampton Roads, Virginia, and early in 1919 he was transferred to the naval air station at Coca Solo, Canal Zone.

On May 19, 1919, Lieutenant Easterwood died in active duty as the result of a seaplane accident.

His services and his sacrifices were recognized by navy department when he was posthumously awarded the Navy Cross in the following citation:

ENSIGN JESSE L. EASTERWOOD, U.S.N.R.F.

"For distinguished and heroic service as an aviator in an airplane engaged in active operations cooperating with the Allied armies on the Belgium front during September, October, and November, 1918, bombing enemy bases, aerodromes, submarine bases, ammunition dumps, railroad junctions, and so forth, attached to Northern Bombing Group."

Signed,
For the President,
Joseph Daniels,
Secretary of the Navy.

Math-English Contest Winners To be Announced

Winners of the F. M. Law and William Morriss English contests and the mathematics contest will be officially announced tonight at the English-Mathematics banquet to be held in Sbsa Hall at six p. m. F. M. Law, president of the Board of Directors of the First National Bank, Houston, sponsored the Freshman English contest and William Morriss, bank director of Dallas, sponsored the Sophomore English contest. The Mathematics contest was sponsored by the mathematics department of A. & M.

Prizes to be awarded in the William Morriss Contest will be $15 for first place and $10 for second. In the F. M. Law contest $20 will be awarded to first place and $10 to second. The two top entries in the Mathematics contest will receive a gold watch each and third place will receive $10.

F. M. Law will award the prizes to winning entries in the Freshman English Contest and T. D. Brooks, Dean of Arts and Sciences and the graduate school will make the presentation to the winners of the William Morriss English Contest. Mrs. R. M. Walton will present the awards to the winning entries in the Mathematics contest.

Saddle and Sirloin Club Holds Picnic

The Saddle and Sirloin Club held its annual barbecue Tuesday night in the Animal Industries building. Barbecue and all the trimmings was served to around 200 people including Experiment Station, and Extension Service men and their wives.

Immediately after awards were made to members of the junior, sophomore, and freshman livestock teams, and the Senior Meats Judging Team. Ribbons were presented to the winners of the Little Southwestern Exposition held in March.

Rained Out—

has been errorless.

Jeffrey's main contribution to the Aggie baseball team has been his consistent hitting and fielding. He covers that right field like a blanket, having been charged with no errors. He started the big Aggie rally against Texas last Saturday, and then proceeded to drive in the winning run with a single.

In case Bumpers should have an off day, there are still Roy Peden, Charlie Stevens, and Bill Henderson. Each has shown that they are ready for any crisis, with Peden being the first choice to relieve Bumpers. The rosy cheeked Aggie twirler has been constant all year, and should be in trim condition in case he is needed for Saturday. Stevenson's greatest contribution for the cadets was his "money" double with the bases loaded in the Aggie-Texas game last Saturday, while Henderson's one-hit pitching against T.C.U. a while back earned the Houston athlete his fourth letter at Aggieland.

The Aggies have to win if they expect to get a share of the title. A defeat for the cadets would automatically give Texas U. the title, while a win would put the Aggies in a deadlock for the flag.

Buck Speaks For Petroleum Engineers

E. O. Buck, consulting engineer of Houston, will speak on "Recycling and Condensation Recovery from Natural Gas" before the final meeting of the Petroleum Engineering Club Thursday night. Buck is recognized as an authority in the Mid-Continent area.

In addition to the talk by E. O. Buck, there will be a business meeting which will include a discussion of this year's activities and the election of next year's officers.

The retiring officers are Jeff Montgomery, president; R. P. Dunkerly, vice president; Gerald King, secretary; John Waddell, treasurer; and Roy Chappell, chairman of refreshment committee.

DeWare Fieldhouse—

dent supporter of all athletic events in which the Aggies were figured, and was a familiar figure at all the games, attending them in a wheel chair.

He was an Aggie through and through, a grand character and never dropped his pace in his admiration for Athletes.

DeWare was fatally injured in an automobile accident on April 6, 1938, and the Aggies lost a good friend. It is fitting that his name was kept alive in the hearts of all Aggies by the naming of the field house.

His son Charles DeWare, Jr., is now a prominent figure in Aggieland being freshman football coach and assistant baseball coach.

ROA Honors—

ed to active duty.

The guest officers at the meeting who represented the various branches of service were Col. Mitchell of the Infantry; Col. Archur L. Pickens of the Engineers, Lieut. Col. James C. Parks, Field Artillery representative; Lieut. Col. John W. Bartlett, Chemical Warfare Service; Lieut. Col. Taylor, Cavalry; Lieut. Col. Homer E. Carrioco of the Cavalry; Major Graham C. Buchanan, Signal Corps; and Captain L. O. Vogelsang, Coast Artillery representative.

men is going to be greater with the passing years.

Further, it would be a mistake for a student to drop out of a course closely related to national defense and complete some short course in order to gain employment at less than a full professional level.

Students, the reports stated, are obligated to prepare and render themselves for the highest type of service and should not shift to work which can be done by a much larger number of men and women.

plane accident at Coco Sola, Panama Canal Zone on May 19, 1919. Easterwood served under the colors of three foreign nations during the World War. He made 16 successful raids across enemy lines during the war. The Navy Cross for bravery was awarded to Easterwood following his death.

Classes will be suspended from 1 to 5 p. m. today. Cotton O. D. Uniforms with Sam Browne belts will be worn at this review. First call for the review will be at 12:50 p. m.

Publicity Dept. Prepares Guide

The campus at Texas A. & M. College has become so large and so many new buildings have been erected in recent years that a guide book is almost necessary for old grads and other visitors to find their way about the 4000 acre plant. To fill that need the Humble Oil and Refining Company, of Houston, is planning to issue such a book this year.

At present the Department of Information and College Publications (Publicity Department) is at work preparing the copy which will be used in the forthcoming publications, three in number.

One tour of the college property will direct visitors interest in agriculture to the several departments of that school. Another will direct engineering visitors about the School of Engineering and the third book will cover a general tour of the entire campus.

Jealousy of the man-made birds which soared above him all day long is blamed by Colgate university men for the death of Sigismund the Swan.

Love at first sight is just about a myth, a panel of six faculty members at North Texas State Teachers college has decided.

A father and son, refugees from Holland, are college chums at the University of Pennsylvania.

Houston County PH Holds Annual Dinner

The Houston county project house held its annual junior-senior banquet last Thursday night.

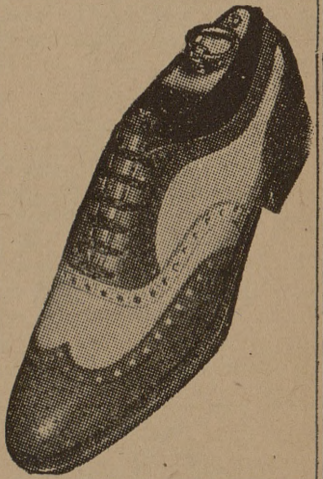

The guests for the evening were professor and Mrs. Dan Russell, Major J. F. Stevens, Dr. and Mrs. John Milliff, Mr. and Mrs. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood and Mrs. Mildred Wheeler.

J. B. Best acted as toastmaster. W. L. "Tick" Brice and Junior Baucomb furnished the entertainment for the evening.
