WORK WITH CITY OF DALLAS

The City of Dallas has advised that they will soon hold apprentice examinations for students who are graduating from college this year whose homes are in Dallas and who are interested in municipal work. The successful applicants are employed as apprentices for one year at a salary of from $60 to $90 per month and at the end of that year are permanently placed in some classification for which they will have to qualify by taking a non-competitive examination. Additional information on this may be secured from the Placement Bureau and interested seniors should come by Room 133, Administration Building at once.

McCormick, Aggie Ex of '91, Will Receive Honorary Doctor's Degree Here

George McCormick, general superintendent of Motive Power for the Southern Pacific Railroad Company, with headquarters in San Francisco, will be awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Engineering by the A. & M. college and the degree conferred at commencement, June 6, this year.

Superintendent

George McCormick, '91, will be the third graduate of the college to be honored with an honorary degree from his Alma Mater. The degree will be presented at the Commencement Exercises. His inventive achievements were recently honored in San Francisco.

Other honorary degrees to be awarded at the same time will include, Doctor of Law to Mr. W. L. Clayton, Houston and to Mr. Edwin J. Kiest, Dallas; and Doctor of Agriculture to R. J. Kleberg, Jr., Corpus Christi. All are outstanding citizens of Texas and the nation.

Mr. McCormick is famed in the motive power field of American railroads. He was recently honored for his inventive achievements at a giant banquet in San Francisco, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers.

He has been general superintendent of the Southern Pacific since 1916, going with that company shortly after graduation from A. & M. with a degree in mechanical engineering. He was located in Houston for many years before being moved to San Francisco.

He is the third graduate of the college to be honored with an honorary degree by his Alma Mater, the others being Dr. F. M. Law, '95, Houston banker and veteran member of the College Board of Directors; and Dr. Charles E. Friley, '19, president of Iowa State College.

The appeal of jobs opening to youth in defense industries has had little effect in drawing students from their studies at Kent State university.

sense of devotion to duty. That is a sublime work and that attitude is required equipment for success in any field. I urge you to acquire the capacity of decisive orderly action. I urge you to be respectful, loyal and obedient to those who may be your seniors and that you likewise be considerate and helpful to those who are your juniors."

Diplomas were presented by F. Marion Law, president of the Board of Directors, Lieut. Col. James A. Watson, commandant of A. & M. then presented reserve commissions in the Army to the graduates. Dr. Watts then closed the exercises with the benediction. Organ music for the ceremony was played by Marion Lyle, junior in Company F, Engineers.

These special graduation exercises were scheduled by the Academic Council following the decision of the War Department to call these men to active duty.

In explaining this unprecedented action Dr. Walton said, "The Council in its desire to accord all honor to those young men who, after four years of preparation through the R.O.T.C., are now subordinating their normal objectives and ambitions to answer their country's call for military service, hereby sets Friday, May 30, for special commencement and graduation exercises for all such members of the graduating class who have completed the requirements for graduation."

complete building program of the company and had constructed factories in Belgium, Holland, Yugoslavia, North Africa, and England.

In the months following the Peace of Munich, Neuman saw the handwriting on the wall and having no desire to live under Nazi domination, he prepared to leave the country. Wanting to get as far away from Germany as possible, he had all his passports made for passage to Brazil. In the week before the Nazi invasion of Czechoslovakia, Neuman began his flight. Going first to Norway, he found that country, although technically neutral, so completely under German control that he wasn't allowed to leave.

The September "blitzkrieg" of 1939 found Neuman still in Norway. His only chance to leave the continent was through France. He finally got out of Norway and down to France in time to witness the invasion and the debacle that was Dunkirk. At Bordeaux he was put single, and graduates of a high-ranking engineering school with some work in electrical engineering. The trainees so far selected have a working knowledge of English, and many FEA employees are learning Spanish.

In addition to Uruguay and Peru, Argentina and Mexico have already suggested candidates, both highly skilled engineers.

During the early part of their stay in Washington, the Central and South American engineers will work with the trainees from United States engineering schools.

After a short period of orientation, the Central and South Americans will be given training and practical duties in keeping with their experience and ability.

During their year in North America, the REA will make arrangements for their housing, for their training, and for inspection trips which they will take. These will include assignments with leading manufacturers of electrical supplies and equipment. Toward the close of their stay, they will be assigned to visit REA systems throughout the United States in company with REA construction and operations engineers.

Each of the two engineers named has won considerable distinction in his own country. Sr. Lopez-Jimenez, who is 30 years old, was graduated from the Peruvian National School of Engineers in 1937.

After graduation, he went to Ayacucho to start an electric power system. Upon his return to Peru after his year with the REA, he expects to engage in rural electrification engineering in the central Andean region on a rather ambitious scale.

Started Career in Albany

Bumpers hails from the little town of Albany, Texas, where he first started his baseball career. He played sandlot ball there a few years back, and pitched for a local team now and then. Last year, he was signed up by Grand Prize, and within a few days became their leading hurler. Lefty considers his best performance of his hurling career to have been against the Halliburton Cementers, world champion, semi-pro team, whom he shut out, 4 to 0, scattering a total of only 3 hits. That happened last year.

This is Bumpers' fifth year at A. & M. As a freshman he took Mechanical Engineering as his major, but found it a bit too hard, and took up Animal Husbandry. Un-

Wild Life Agreement Adopted by Americas For Nature Protection

Dr. W. P. Taylor and Dr. W. B. Davis of the Fish and Game Department report that an agreement of continent wide scope on "Nature Protection and Wild Life Preservation" has been adopted in the Western Hemisphere.

The agreement was drawn up under the auspices of the Pan American Union, Washington, D. C., which met October 12, 1940.

Up to February 25, 1941, the following countries had signed the convention, Cuba, Ecuador, El Salvador, the United States, Nicaragua, Peru, Dominican Republic, Venezuela, Brazil, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, Mexico, Uruguay, and Bolivia.

The purpose of this convention is to protect and preserve scenery of extraordinary beauty, unusual and striking geologic formations, regions and natural objects of aesthetic, historic and scientific value, and areas characterized by primitive conditions in those cases covered by this convention. Another objective is to preserve certain species and genera of native flora and fauna, including migratory birds.

picture to his listeners of the French invasion. He described the scene as being one of complete confusion with literally thousands of terror-stricken people fleeing their homes without food, supplies, or accommodations of any sort.

Neuman described all the peoples in German-occupied territories as anxiously awaiting the day when they could revolt against the German occupation. He attributed the intense bitterness which the occupied countries hold toward Germany to two causes: the inherent hatred the people of the smaller countries have always had for Germany, and the conduct of the present German army of occupation. He expressed the belief that an all-out American aid-to-Britain would inevitably increase the determination of suppressed peoples to overthrow the Nazi regime.

Neuman's complete program and ambition for the future is to take out naturalization papers and become a citizen of the U. S.

less the army or some professional baseball club should call him up, Lefty expects to get his sheepskin next June.

Accepts Detroit Offer

Baseball, baseball, and more baseball is Bumpers' hobby as well as his hoped-for livelihood. He has had some half dozen baseball offers by professional teams, and it's a safe bet to say the wrong-hander will accept one of them. He has already accepted an offer made by the Detroit Club of the American League to have a trial with them. If he comes through, he'll probably be sent to Beaumont of the Texas League, as the Exporters have been making a determined bid to land him.

One thing Bumpers knows for sure is that the Aggies will be wishing him all the luck in the world, and will be pulling for him to take a place with such Aggie baseball greats as Rip Collins, Beau Bell, and Jo-Jo Moore.
