Battle For Second Place is Main Issue of Race Today; Seaboard Life Scares Cleaners

Well, here it is, the home stretch in the Twilight League with the champion due to be decided this week in a playoff between the first two teams. The Campus Cleaners are virtually assured of first place unless they pull the same stunt they did last Wednesday. However, the battle is on for second place, with the Aggie Cleaners, Campus Theater, and the Aggie-land Pharmacy doing all the scrapping. At this writing the Theater boys are hanging on to second place with a defeat by Campus Cleaners marring their record, while the Aggie Cleaners and the Aggie-land Pharmacy lodged in third place with two defeats apiece. Speaking of last week's games, Tommy Burnam's Seaboard Life almost pulled a David-Goliath stunt against the Campus Cleaners when they came within two runs of defeating Wayne Todd's polished team. For six innings, Seaboard Life outshone the Cleaners in every department, but the strain was too much for them in the next inning, with the result being that the infield loosened up and let in two unearned runs. Bill Wilson, the Life's hurler, pitched the game of his life, allowing the Cleaners but five blows. Only one run was earned off his delivery.

Bryan-Aggie All-Star Game Today Should Be Rousing Battle; Bryanites Are Favored

The Bryan All-Stars play host to the Aggie All-Stars tonight in a doubleheader, with the first game due to start at 8 o'clock. The Bryan diamonders are composed of players from the Commercial League, while the Aggie team is made up of softballers from the Twilight League teams. Rudy Rutherford will probably toe the slab in the first game and if he's right, the Bryanites will be in for a night of misery. However, the Bryan All-Stars will be slight favorites to cop both tilts because of their organization and vast experience. Stretching our neck far on the not-so-solid limb, this corner sees a split, with the first game to go to the Aggies, and the second one to go to the Bryanites. Whichever way the games go, however, the tilts should be hard fought and close, and of interest to everyone.

Spirit and Memory of Lou Gehrig Spurts New York Yanks to Great Heights and Glory

The far-reaching cry of "Stop the Yankees," of a year or so ago is re-echoing again as Joe DeMaggio and his mates are setting the American League afire. Not so long ago the mighty Yanks were securely lodged in fourth place and were about to be chased out of the first division. Then came the tragic death of Lou Gehrig, their former first baseman. Everyone thought the Yanks would fold up for sure, but instead of that they came out of their doldrums to blast everything in front of them and today are some 4 games ahead of the second-place Cleveland Indians. Yes, the jolting DiMaggio has set records, the pitching staff has come through with flying colors, the combination of Priddy and Rizzuto has been magnificent, but the real pacesetter has been Lou Gehrig, whose spirit and memory seems to have spurred the Yankees on to glory and fame. It's a hard and rocky road to the penant still, but should the Yanks come through, it'll be for old Lou Gehrig, the beloved Yankee!

Cleaners - Theater in Playoff Tomorrow

Rutherford Pitches Another No-Hitter In Season's Finale

Seaboard Life Almost Pulls Big Upset Against Campus Cleaners in Last Week's Tilt

The Campus Cleaners and Campus Theater will continue their two out of three game series tomorrow evening, and if necessary, will play the clincher either Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Cleaners Favored
The Cleaners are naturally favorites to cop the series because of their season record. However, the relative strength of the two teams is not known as the teams have never met each other. During the regular season the Theater forfeited its tilt to the Cleaners.

Rudy Rutherford, who incidentally pitched his second no-hitter Monday evening against North Gate Project House, and Maxie Bloodworth, slim right-hander, are the mainstays of the Cleaners. Their Team	W	L	Pct.

Campus Cleaners	9	0	1.000
Campus Theater	8	1	.889
Aggie-land Phar.	6	2	.750
Aggie Cleaners	6	3	.667
Rivet Busters	4	5	.444
Lipscomb Pharmacy	2	6	.250
Milner Hall	2	7	.222
Seaboard Life	2	7	.222
Leggett Hall	0	9	.000

pitching has been short of sensational all year, and it is upon their shoulders that Manager Wayne Todd pins his hopes for a clean sweep of the series. Chick Fuller, third baseman, and Dub Sibley, ace backstop are depended on to supply the offensive punch.

Feature Power-Hitting
The power hitting of Clint Edison, second-sacker, Buster Adams, catcher, and Charlie Heim, outfielder, will be a determined factor for the Theater boys as to the outcome of the series. Their slugging has been consistent all year, and if they come through as expected, the Cleaners will be in for some misery. As for the pitching staff, Manager Frank LeBus has B. J. Lloyd, ace speedballer, and Hal Gibson, consistent righthander, to throw at the Cleaners. Gibson has pitched most of the games for the Theater because of an injury to Lloyd, and has done yeoman service. Lloyd returned back to action last Monday with a splendid relief job against the Aggie Cleaners, whom he subdued, 9 to 4.

No-Hitter For Rudy
Meanwhile, the Twilight League came to an end last Monday. In the final games, the Campus Theater defeated the Aggie Cleaners, 9 to 4; the Aggie-land Pharmacy found the Seaboard Life easy competition as they set 'em down, 8 to 1; the Rivet Busters let loose a barrage of hits to mow down the Lipscomb Pharmacy, 10 to 3; and Rudy Rutherford's no-hit performance was too much for the North Gate Project House as the Campus Cleaners triumphed, 13 to 0.

Seaboard Scares Cleaners
For the first time this year, the Campus Cleaners had to come back from behind to win a game. The Seaboard Life softball team proved a hard nut to crack last Wednesday, but finally wilted in the closing frames. Bill Wilson's pitching performance for the Seaboard Life Team went for naught as his mates became as jittery as a future father. Maxie Bloodworth started the game for the Cleaners, but finally gave way to Rutherford in the closing innings.

It is estimated that the increase in the government rate of commodity loans to 85 percent of parity this year will add about $224,000,000 to the income of producers of cotton and about the same amount to wheat growers.

American forests occupy one third of the national area, exceeding the home lands of 230,000,000 people in Europe.

Ants have their milk cows also. The corn field ant cares for and milks the corn root aphids of its honey dew.

Campus and Aggie Cleaners Makeup Nucleus of Team

Doubleheader to be Played Involving the Rules of Both Teams; Game Time 8 o'clock

Monty Moncrief and Rudy Rutherford will be Manager Jimmy Parker's choice to face the Bryan All-Stars in a doubleheader at Bryan tonight. They will probably be opposed by Crenshaw, Coca Cola hurler, and Roger Bond of Western Auto or Norman Stuart, Bryan Cafe twirler. Game time will be at 8 o'clock.

A doubleheader instead of a single game was scheduled in order that each team may get to use its own rules in which tight bases are played, while on the sandlots of this campus loose bases are prominent. Six Campus and Aggie Cleaners comprise the nucleus of the A. & M. team. Voted on by the managers of the various teams, the squad is represented by every team but the North Gate P. H. and Lipscomb Pharmacy, and is due to give the Bryan boys a close contest.

The squad is made up of two teams, each about the equal of the other. After the completion of the first game an entirely new team will face each other.

Hitting power and pitching skill make up an Aggie All-Star team a definite threat in its game against Bryan. Rudy Rutherford, holder of two no-hit, no-run games this season, will probably pitch the second game, with Monty Moncrief, ace hurler of the Aggie-land Pharmacy due to start the first tilt. Should he get in trouble, his teammate and twirler, Lawler, will be on hand.

Chick Fuller, Campus Cleaners' third baseman, Slats Holder, Aggie Cleaner's first sacker, and Bill Wilson, centerfielder from Seaboard Life should add plenty of power to the first team. Seaboard Life's Bill Moore and Aggie-land Pharmacy's Jimmy Cashion should do likewise for the second team.

The probable starting lineups include the following:

If it's Swimming You Want, You'll Get Lots Of It Friday

By Al Krezdorn
Friday night at 7:30 summer school students and the natives of College Station will witness and take part in the second annual summer school swimming meet at the P. L. Downs Natatorium.

According to Luke Harrison, summer athletic program director, and Art Adamson, Aggie swimming coach, this should be one of the most successful of all the summer athletic events because the pool has been packed ever since it opened this summer.

Adamson is to have charge of this meet, and anyone interested in entering should register at his office at the swimming pool.

Due to the experience received in past years Coach Adamson has decided to have both a men's and a women's division. In each division there will be a junior class comprised of all entrants 12 years of age or under; an intermediate class of all those between the ages of 12 and 15 and a senior class for all those 15 years of age or over. In each class, participants may enter in any or all of three events which are as follows: free style, back stroke, and diving. The div- (Continued on page 4)
