AGS CLASH

posts, flanked by Ray Mulholland, Felix Bucek, and Wayne Curren. The pivot spot will be taken care of by Bill Sibley. Much depends on the way Sibley will handle himself because if he comes through with a grand job, the Aggies will definitely be a threat in the conference race. Running right behind him will be A. J. Mercer, Leonard Holder, and Cotton Williams. Reserves Important

In the Aggies' two year role over the Southwest Conference, reserves have played a most important part. Today, it will be the same story, as the cadets have a wealth of reserve material. Coach Norton has about three men for each backfield position, and each is just about as good as the other. In Leo Daniels and Andy Andricks, Norte has two of the most promising Sophomores in the Southwest Conference. Both are already being groomed for a starting position before the season gets too old. They'll see plenty of service today.

Leonard Dickey, Don Leuthy, Bob Tulis and Jack Swank will be ample tackle reserves for the starters, while at the end there are Boots Simmons, Harold Cowley, Pete Slaughter, and Truman Cox, who will be ready to take Henderson or Sterling's place. Officials for today's game include the following: Eary Day-vault of Texas, referee; Jimmy Higgins of S.M.U., umpire; Jack Roach of Baylor, head linesman; and Ed Price of Austin College, field judge.

MOVING

really begin until last May. At first the transplanting progressed rather slowly, with one job being completed before another was undertaken. Then, as the contracts began pouring in more rapidly, the next house to be moved would take to the air while the house before it was still on its way to the new location.

Through May, June, July, August, and September the houses were being taken for a one-way ride—some on wooden ties and steel rails, and some on rollers. A Houston company was the first to begin these cross-country activities. Next came a house moving company from Mesquite who did most of the moving (they even had a church on his list). Then a Dallas company came down to get in a share of the work.

"Since the state cannot deal in real estate concerns, the contracts had to be made with the people themselves, and not through the College," G. B. Wilcox, acting mayor, said. "This changing will facilitate campus development to a great extent."

Because the moving was not completed on schedule, it will continue until the specified areas are clear of houses. The moving is still going on, and the campus is being cleared as rapidly as possible.

Texas A. & M. first opened its doors October 4, 1875 with an enrollment of six students. T. E. R. H. O. T. C. was first organized under the name of Student Army Training Corps (S. A. T. C.) The students in this service were subject to call at any time.

mings that comedy and farce provide. Another excellent dramatic piece is "THAT HAMILTON WOMAN" at the Campus tomorrow and Monday. The love affair of Lord Nelson, the hero of Trafalgar, and Lady Hamilton is played magnificently by Laurence Olivier and Vivian Leigh who have returned to England to aid in their country's defense.

"That Hamilton Woman" should be destined for one of the top spots in the roll-call of better pictures at the end of the year. These two English actors seem to be able to get the most out of a part and not detract from the other either.

Lady Hamilton was the wife of the British ambassador to Italy at the turn of the Nineteenth Century and became involved in a violent love affair with Lord Nelson. Nelson helps defeat Napoleon, and the pair return to England, only to be scorned by society there. They leave and eventually return in triumph. It is indeed a most remarkable picture.

Bette Davis is the shining star of "THE GREAT LIE" which is to be shown at the Assembly Hall Monday. Mary Astor takes away a little of the glitter and shine with her role though. And George Brent does all right as the husband of Bette and Mary.

First he is married to Mary. Some technicality causes this pair to be separated. Then George and Bette are wed. Here "The Great Lie" enters the picture, but any more said would be too much. Another excellent production.
