Aerial Duel Looms for Aggie-Horned Frog Clash Today

TSCW Juniors Entertain Aggies With Food; Dancing

Steak Fry, Dance
Featured by Juniors

Feasted with a tasty steak fry and entertained with an informal dance, it would have been an unusual case to have found a junior Aggie who did not experience one of the greatest times of his life Friday night when the Junior Class of T. S. C. W. played the role of hostess for another traditional pre-corps trip party.

Although they were a banquet in themselves, the broiled steaks merely served as an appetizer to the group of Aggies and TSCW-ites as they whipped through a spirited yell practice under the direction of junior yell leaders, Jack Nagle and Chuck Chalmers.

Following the vocal festivities, the scene of entertainment shifted to the college gymnasium where an informal prom held sway until midnight.

Tippy Pearce Will Play For Aggies At Texas Hotel Tonight

Aggies of all ages will descend on the Texas Hotel tonight when Tippy Pearce and his Aggieband Orchestra get started at 9 o'clock with the official Aggie dance.

This year the Aggieband is featuring the vocals of lovely Norma Jean Jahn from Houston. She has been popular with the cadets at all previous appearances of the orchestra at College Station.

The dance is being sponsored by the Fort Worth A. & M. Former Students club.

The entertainment will last until 1 o'clock. The Aggie Hit Parade will probably start functioning at tonight's ball, and the results will be published later.

Corps Moves Thru Cowtown At 10:30 Today

Traditional Corps Trip Parade Will Be Led by Tom Gillis

The traditional corps trip parade, promising to be one of the best in the history of A. & M., will get into motion at 10:30 today. Scheduled to begin promptly after the special trains arrive, the parade will include the entire corps.

Cadet Colonel Tom Gillis and his staff will lead the corps through the streets of his home town, the first cadet colonel to have this distinction.

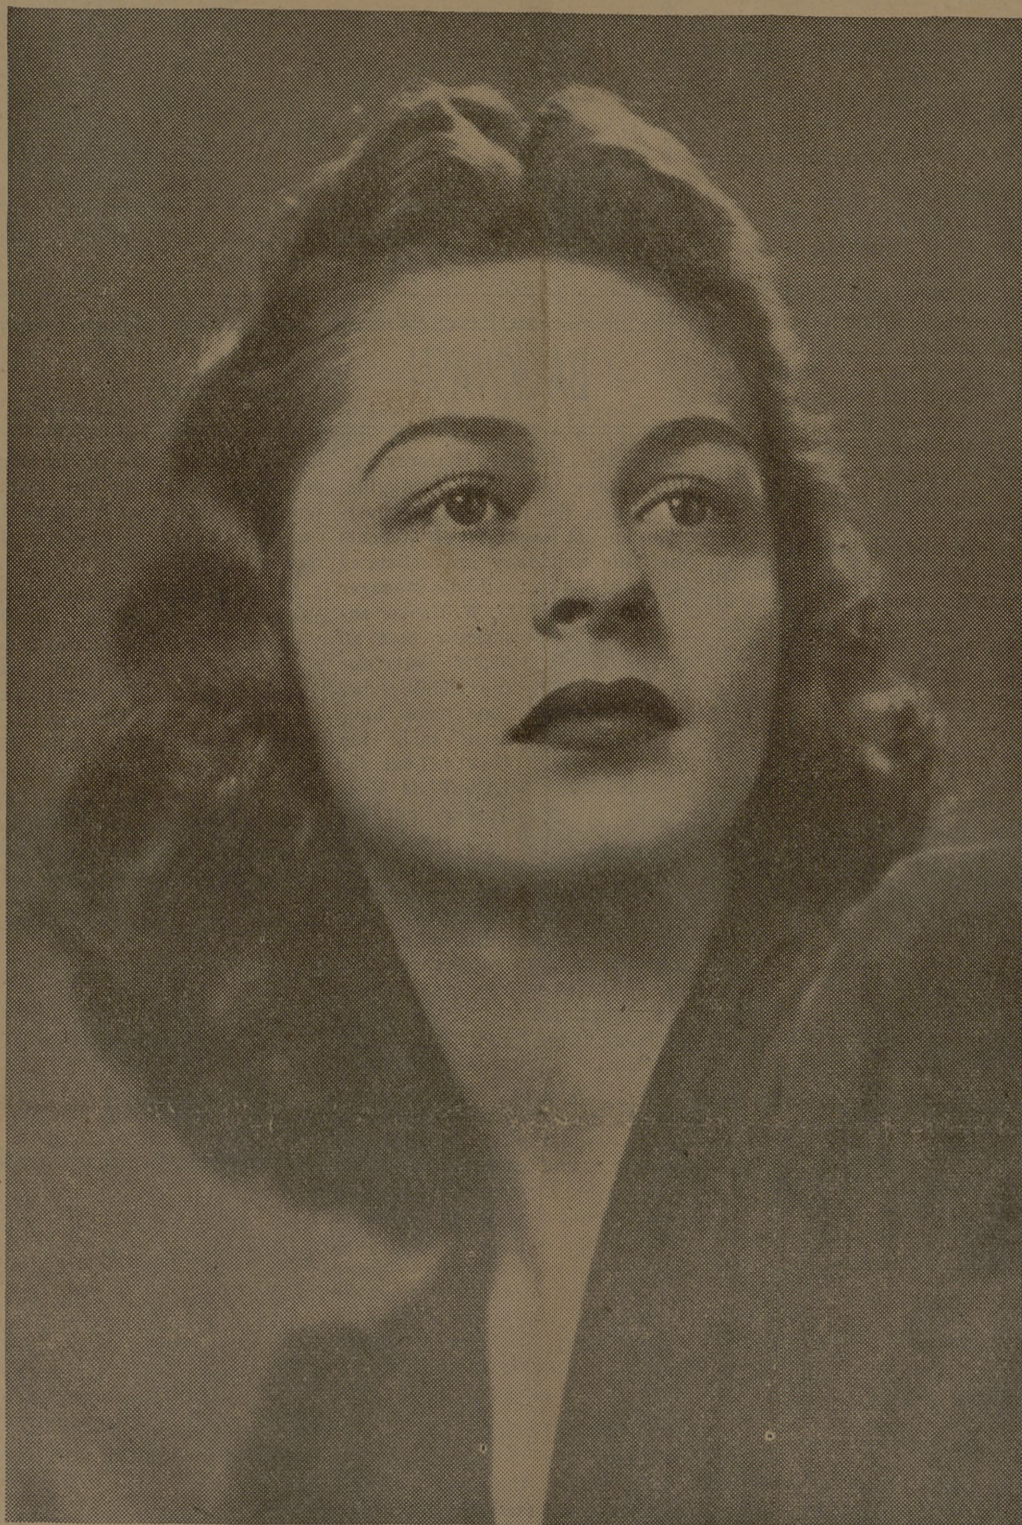

Colonel E. A. Keyes, Cavalry, Civilian Components Officer, 8th Corps Area, will receive the review from the stand before the Texas Hotel. Keyes is the head of all R. O. T. C. work in the Eighth Corps Area.

Bond Bids For JTAC Dormitories Come Before Board

A special meeting of the board of directors of A. & M. College for the purpose of discussing bids on bonds for the building of two new dormitories at John Tarleton Agricultural College will be held in Fort Worth Saturday.

The meeting will take place at 9 o'clock in the Texas Hotel. Building of the JTAC dormitories at a cost of $625,000 will be the only important item of business the board is expected to discuss at this time; other items will not be brought up due to lack of time at the special meeting.

Aggie-Day Sweetheart

Anna Ruth Ashe, Sophomore at TSCW and Aggie-Day Sweetheart who will be escorted to the field this afternoon while the Aggie Band plays "Let Me Call You Sweetheart". She will be escorted by Bob Russell, cadet Major of the band. As Russell presents Miss Ashe a bouquet of flowers the band will play the Alma Mater of T. S. C. W. This is Anna Ruth's second year at T. S. C. W. She was chosen from a bevy of 12 beautiful girls by a party of Aggie judges and became known as the Aggie Sweetheart after her introduction during the corps dance at Sbis Hall last week.

Moser, Gillespie, Expected To Carry Brunt of Offense

Teams Enter Fracas in Crippled Condition; Game Time Is Set For 2:30

By Mike Haikin
Battalion Sports Editor

It's corps trip time at Aggieband, and with that theme in mind, the cadet corps of 6700 and Coach Homer Norton's Texas Aggies "invade" Fort Worth this afternoon to meet the challenge of the highly touted Texas Christian Horned Frogs. Game time is 2:30, and a capacity crowd of 25,000 fans are expected to witness the question-mark teams of the conference fight it out for supremacy on the Frogs' soil.

Moser vs. Gillespie

Too, the fans will witness one of the greatest individual duels that the conference has ever put on when T. C. U.'s Kyle Gillespie meets the Aggies' Derace Moser in a contest for passing, running, and kicking honors. At this stage Gillespie leads the cadet triple-threat flash in only one department—kicking. Moser has the advantage in passing and running, being one of the leading passers in the nation. Both are considered as key men of their respective offenses, and are expected to open up with every trick imaginable.

Teams Crippled

The Aggies and Frogs enter this game with some of their stars on the sidelines. For the Aggies, Wayne Cure, guard; Jim Sterling, All-Conference end; Dub Sibley, Tom Pickett and Willie Zapalac, were injured in last week's game with N.Y.U. and are not expected to be in the peak of condition. However, Sterling, Sibley, and Zapalac are expected to start the game.

Cadets Will Occupy East Side Of TCU Stadium

Class sections that will be observed for today's game have been announced by Cadet Colonel Tom Gillis. The cadet corps will occupy the entire east side of the stadium.

The senior section will extend on both sides of the 50-yard line to approximately the 35-yard line. The junior section will be on both sides of the senior section to the 15-yard line.

All remaining seats in the Aggie section will be occupied by sophomores and freshmen. Sections V and W will be reserved for the seniors and sections U and X will be reserved for juniors.

The senior section will be maintained throughout the game, but after the first quarter, sophomores and freshmen will be allowed to take unoccupied seats in the junior section.

The same regulations that apply to seating in Kyle Field will be in effect at today's game.

Big Billy Blackstone, first-string center, and Gus Bierman, reserve back, are the Frog injuries who will be on the sidelines most of the time. Both sustained injuries in the Indiana fracas last weekend, and are not expected to be in the thick of the fight today. However, Blackstone may still get to start at the pivot post, but all indications point to A. G. Odell, a brilliant up and coming center, but one who needs game experience.

Same Lineup

Latest indications are that Norton will start the same lineup that has clicked so well in the past three games. Moser, leading passer in the conference, will be at (See AGGIE-FROG, Page 4)

First US Student Financed Fellowship Honors Hensel of Landscape Department

Fund Allots $500 Annually for One Deserving Senior

By Tom Leland

At the Landscape Art Banquet held last night, the new F. W. Hensel fellowship was announced. This fellowship will consist of a sum of $500 which will be given each year to some deserving senior in the landscape art department.

The fellowship is named after F. W. Hensel, head of the landscape art department at A. & M. Hensel graduated from A. & M. in 1907; from here he attended Cornell University where he received his master's degree. From Cornell he returned to A. & M. to teach in the horticulture department, where he was a professor until he founded the landscape art department here.

Hensel is directly responsible for the many attractive shrubs, flower beds, and all landscaping on the campus. He is in charge of the upkeep of the campus grounds, and through his efforts, the campus of A. & M. has been made one of the most attractive in the state. The senior who receives this money will be chosen each year by vote of the other seniors in the landscape department on the basis of his personality, scholarship, and board of other college officials.

This fellowship is the only one of its kind in any college in the nation in which the money is raised entirely by the students themselves. The fund will be raised from profits of the student flower concessions. In the past, these concessions were held by individual students for their own benefit. Now, the concessions will be taken over by the landscape club.

This new arrangement will not only raise money for the Hensel Fund, but also will give more landscape students experience in commercial flower arrangement and in the selling of flowers. A certain percentage of the money earned will go to the club members themselves and the rest will be contributed to the fund.

Present at the banquet in Hensel's honor were Dr. and Mrs. T. O. Walton, Dean and Mrs. Gibb Gilchrist, Dean and Mrs. D. W. Williams, professors of the landscape department, and students majoring in landscape.
