

Mobile Chemistry Lab Used for Defense

A mobile chemistry laboratory housed in a two-ton truck has been placed in use by Pennsylvania State college to meet the emergency demands of defense education throughout the state.

The laboratory equipment will travel approximately 10,000 miles by 98 class centers where high school graduates are being trained by the college for technical jobs in defense industries.

Leaders in Annual East Texas Yamboree

President Walton Serves as Principal Speaker at Gilmer Meet

A. & M. college authorities are playing a prominent part in the Annual East Texas Yamboree at Gilmer, Texas, which began Wednesday and will continue through Saturday. A field day was held yesterday at the State Sweet Potato Investigations Laboratory at Gilmer.

Dr. S. H. Yarnell, of the Division of Agriculture at the Texas A. & M. Agricultural Experiment Station, will preside as chairman of the afternoon programs. "Recent research on Increasing Yields" will be the lecture given by Dr. J. C. Miller, Head Horticulturist of the Louisiana State university. Walton T. McKay of the Texas State Department of Agriculture in Arlington will speak on "Potato Diseases and Their Control" and J. F. Rosborough will lead the down to earth round table discussion on "How Shall We Market Our Sweet Potato Crop." Rosborough is extension Horticulturist at Texas A. & M. college.

Also among prominent guests attending will be Dr. T. O. Walton, President of Texas A. & M. college, who will be principal speaker on the All-Service Club luncheon program Thursday, October 23rd, a feature of the East Texas Yamboree.

Climaxing this special program will be an old-fashioned barbecue whereby all guests will be feted in true Texas fashion.

Doctors Miller, Yarnell, Morgan, and Messrs. McKay and Rosborough will also act as judges for the yam exhibits during the Yamboree.

attention to management and breeding.

"There will be no trouble whatever in reaching the goal in eggs, provided prices remain at the present level," says George P. McCarthy, Extension Service poultryman. Producers are being encouraged to buy protein concentrate to mix with home-produced grains in order to obtain a better balanced feeding program. A high percentage of farmers have not been using protein other than skim milk, but with prevailing prices for eggs producers are justified in making the additional expenditure to place this supplement in the ration, he believes.

With pullets coming into production, McCarthy estimates that the 1942 production of eggs in Texas will exceed that of 1941 by more than 12 percent. Some of the major poultry-growing counties will increase their output of eggs beyond the 10 percent goal, but no county, he added, would fall below it.

Junior Professional Assistant Jobs Announced by Civil Service Commission

The Civil Service Commission yesterday made its annual announcement of examinations for "Junior Professional Assistants." These junior-grade positions are intended to promote careers in Government professional and scientific fields by enabling graduating students at colleges to enter the service with no experience in these fields.

The registers established for Junior Administrative Technicians, Business Analysts, and Economists from the Junior professional Assistant examination announced early this year have been used extensively. In anticipation of continuing heavy demands the United States Civil Service Commission has announced the new examination in these three fields. This examination is announced to augment, not to replace, those registers. Both regular and defense agencies of the Government are in need of these three types of eligibles. The positions pay $2,000 a year.

It is expected that further Junior Professional Assistant examinations covering other subjects will be announced in January 1942, but without these three fields. Accordingly, all interested persons, including college seniors and graduate students, who are qualified and will complete the required special courses prior to July 1, 1942, are urged to make application under this announcement. Applications must be filed not later than November 3, 1941 with the Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C. Applicants must not have passed their thirty-fifth birthday.

Further information, and application forms, may be obtained from the Commission's representative at any first or second class post office, or from the Commission's central office in Washington.

Food for Freedom Program Calls For More Texas Cattle

The largest percentage increase among the food production goals announced for Texas by the State U.S.D.A. Defense Board under the 1942 "Food For Freedom" campaign, is 18 percent in cattle and calves for marketing and farm slaughter. Other goals include a 17 percent increase in hogs; 10 percent in eggs; 6 percent in sheep and lambs; and 3 percent in milk.

The suggested increase in beef is sought for processing rather than enlargement of herds, and would represent 269,093,000 pounds more than was placed on the market in 1941.

George W. Barnes, animal husbandryman of the A. & M. college Extension Service, says there should be no difficulty in reaching the goal if current or better prices for livestock prevail. Ranchmen would cull their cows closer and sell off irregular breeders, and barren and over-age animals. There are very few herds of any size in Texas, he added, which do not have a selection of these types of animals, and on account of excellent pasturage and surplus feed older cows readily could be put into conditions to go to market at 900 to 1,150 pounds live weight and sold at a profit.

Since the increase requested is a matter of pounds rather than units, the good pastures, trench silos and other home-grown feed reserves have made another contribution to the program. Calves are heavier this fall than for several years and the percentage of herd calf crops is larger. Furthermore, cattlemen will give closer
