Kyle Will Give Story of Experiences To Cadet Corps at Yell Practice Monday

Dean Will Tell Of Three Months South America Trip

Dean E. J. Kyle will speak to the cadet corps Monday night at yell practice at which time he will tell the student body of experiences on his trip through Central and South America.

After spending over three months on a trip through the Central and South American countries, Dean Kyle has several recommendations in mind which he will include in his report of the trip to Nelson Rockefeller commissioner of inter-American affairs, who with the cooperation of the Standard Oil Co. and the Anderson Clayton Co. made possible the trip.

Leaving College Station on July 27 he returned Wednesday after flying over 2,000 miles and traveling approximately 1,000 miles by train. Kyle states "I flew over strips of beautiful scenic country and wonderful farming land, trackless jungles, and great stretches of barren land."

He flew over the deltas of the Oranoka and Amazon Rivers; the Amazon over 200 miles wide at the mouth. The dean flew up the Amazon in a monoplane which took off and landed on the surface of the river. About 1,000 miles was made in this manner.

On the trip he visited the ancient rubber capital of Manaus and flew over the snow capped peaks of the Andes Mountains. In speaking of his trip in regard to the former students of A. & M. college which he visited, he asserted, "I saw lots of country and lots of people who were all kind and nice and extremely friendly and willing to give information." He visited with as many parents of students now at A. & M. as possible and "received a great thrill from meeting former students of (See DEAN KYLE, Page 2)

A Football Game, A Girl and A Night Of Dancing For Aggies

A football game, a girl and a night of dancing to music of Toppy Pearce's new Aggieband orchestra—a perfect weekend—that's what's in store for several hundred Aggies today.

Having set the Aggie Hit Parade into effect two weeks ago, Toppy is using the findings of the Baylor game corps dance to guide him. The poll revealed that about seventy percent of the dancers preferred sweet and slow music while the most popular tunes are swing.

Requests for tunes and announcements are handled at the booth in front of the bandstand.

Nine o'clock is the time when Pearce will downbeat the first tune, and the orchestra will play as late as midnight.

Rural Electric Short Course Has Three Day Session

The current Rural Electrification Short Course will come to a close today at 11:15 after a three day meeting. The course, held under the direction of the agricultural engineering department, had an enrollment of 70 R.E.A. workers coming from all parts of the state.

To end the activities of the first day, a program on fluorescent lighting was held Thursday night in the agricultural engineering lecture room. The demonstration was given by T. H. Brannan of the Texas Electric Service Company, Fort Worth, concerning types and uses of reflectors, location of farm lights, the size of lamps for outdoor purposes, and other similar topics.

Laboratory and discussion work Thursday and Friday was conducted by L. T. Day, Dallas; Tom Vernon, Houston; Paul Barmann, Fort Worth; W. C. Struble, Dallas; Price Hobgood and Don Christy of the college engineering faculty; M. R. Bentley, Extension Service agricultural engineer; and Gwendolyn Jones, Hamilton county home demonstration agent.

George W. Kable, editor of "Electricity on the Farm," will address the rural electrification workers this morning at 10:45 on the subject of "The Future of Farm Electrification."

Dairymen's Short Course Scheduled

The annual Dairymen's Short Course will be held on the campus for three days starting Monday, November 17. A. L. Darnell, professor in the dairy husbandry department, announced yesterday. This short course will be the seventh to be held here.

"An extensive program has been arranged which will provide information on current production problems," Darnell said. "The Dairymen's Short Course is primarily designed to serve the dairymen of Texas who do not have the time to take more extensive training in dairying. The problems to be discussed this year are more important than they have been in many years. In addition, special attention will be given to the economic factors affecting dairy farming."

Gohmert Directs New Lost and Found

Under the supervision of W. A. Gohmert of 2 Hdq. Field Artillery, a lost and found department has been organized. Articles may be turned in or claimed at room 328 Dorm. 8. Already the laundry has sent items valued above $150 to Gohmert.

Any rewards collected will go to the finder or to the Student Aid Fund. This is a non-profit organization and all students are asked to cooperate.

Since the founding of the college in 1876, there has been a need of a centralized lost and found department. The continual loss of personal belongings by the students may now be minimized.

Largest Home Crowd of Season Expected To Attend Festivities; Kickoff Set at 2:30

By Mike Haikin
Battalion Sports Editor

Bowling over 26 opponents out of their last 27 games, and climbing their last six foes, the Texas Aggies will attempt to keep their slate clean today when they take on the crippled but unpredictable S. M. U. Mustangs on Kyle Field this afternoon at 2:30. A crowd of approximately 23,000 fans are expected.

Considered a "darkhorse" team at the start of the season, the cadets have surprised everyone with their victory streak. Many experts still contend, however, that the Ags have not really been tested, but admit that if the Maroon and White gridsters of Homer Norton get by the Ponies today, they will be a tough lot to handle the rest of the year.

Col McIntyre Is Honored With Farewell Banquet

Field Artillery Seniors and Officers Attend Farewell Banquet

Lieut. Colonel O. C. McIntyre, senior instructor of the Field Artillery, who has been transferred to active duty with the second division at Fort Sam Houston was given a farewell banquet in Sbsa Hall last night at 7:30 p.m. Approximately 125 seniors from the Field and officers from that branch of the college military department were present.

Louis Kercheville, I FA, toastmaster, introduced Lieut. Colonel J. K. Boles, who is replacing Col. McIntyre. Col. Boles told that group that he would do his best to fill the vacancy and that he was glad to be at A. & M.

All the officers present were introduced individually and each expressed his reluctance that the Colonel was leaving and commended his work here.

Following these speeches, Kercheville presented Col. McIntyre a watch on behalf of the Field Artillery Regiment in order to show their appreciation of his work for them.

Vasquez Selected As President For Cosmopolitan Club

H. V. Vasquez was elected president of the Cosmopolitan club at the first meeting held October 26. Xavier Fernandez and R. M. Lynn were elected vice-president and secretary-treasurer respectively.

Following the election, "Count" Sugareff of the history department discussed the history of cosmopolitan clubs and stressed the development to the present day.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the speech and music in the Cugat manner featured.

The second meeting will be held on Sunday, November 9, at 3:00 p.m. in the chapel of the old "Y". Mr. Schlesselman of the Ag Economics department will be the guest speaker. His topic will be the geography and natural resources of Latin America.

Defensive Team

Coach Matty Bell's Mustangs were given the No. 2 spot behind Texas at the start of the year, but that 34-0 plastering by the Longhorns last week made many of the "smart" boys shudder. The Ponies haven't displayed any offensive tenacity most of the year, but, then, Coach Bell is noted more for his defensive strategies. Since opening their season with a 54-0 win over Denton, the Mustangs have not had an easy time of it. With a breather in College of Pacific in between Fordham and Auburn, the Mustangs have had a hard time getting their offense started. The real break and the answer to the Pony strength came in their game with Auburn when they had to fight hard to gain a 20-7 victory.

Moser vs. Johnston

Again, this game, like nearly all others, promises to be an individual duel battle. This time it'll be between Derace Moser of the Aggies and Preston Johnston of the Ponies. Both are known to be good kickers, and it is in that department that most of their duel will be centered. Johnston is leading the kickers with an average of 41.9 average while Moser has an average of 33.3. However, Moser's average can be remedied in the fact that most of the Aggie star's boots have been attempted coffin corner kicks thus reducing his average. When he has had to kick out of a hole, he has come through in fine style with punts of 55 and 58 yards respectively.

To add to all of Matty Bell's (See AGGIES PLAY, Page 4)

Colonel Welty To Speak to Corps

Colonel Maurice D. Welty will address the corps for the first time this year at yell practice Monday night. Head Yell Leader Sken Staley will introduce the Colonel.

It is usually the practice for the Commandant to address the corps at the first yell practice of the year, but as Colonel Welty could not take over the duties of Commandant until November 1, the corps will hear him express his views at yell practice Monday.

Batt Magazine Features Revielle

With the cover picture portraying Revielle tugging at the skirt of a Texas university coed, the Battalion magazine will be distributed to the corps Monday night at 7:30. This issue will feature the all or ill-famed Blue Book, a feature that was written by Don Gabriel, quoth magazine editor Pete Tumlinson this morning.

This November issue of the magazine will also include feature stories by L. B. Tenison and John Holman that will cause a history shaking debate concerning its meaning. The name of the story is "Union Now With T.S.C.W."

Cartoonist Sid Lord has contributed and to top it off, ace humor writer John Holman takes a dig at Texas university with his story, "A Page of Sabotage From the Annals of Phelthi Thl."

Breath-Taking Thrills, Spills, Plus Beautiful Cowgirls Make Aggie Rodeo Exciting Show

Thrills and spills, breath-taking events and beautiful cowgirls—that's the twenty-third Aggie Rodeo in a nutshell. The first two performances Friday afternoon and night were superb examples of a well planned rodeo, and the performance tonight promises to be even better with the final winners in all events to be chosen.

Shorty Fuller, king of the rodeo and director of last year's rodeo, pronounced last night's performance the "best that has ever been held at A. & M." Cowgirls from all over Texas lend color to the affair, and perform expertly in the special ladies event. Miss Annabelle Edwards of Big Spring is the queen of the rodeo and leads the grand entry with Shorty Fuller.

Winners of yesterday's events will compete tonight to determine the final winners. Johnny Hardin of D Cavalry was outstanding in the mule riding race in the afternoon performance. The other contestants either failed to saddle their mules or were unable to start them going after they were saddled. In the calf roping events, Bill McBride and Tainey Towns made excellent showings by finishing in less than 45 seconds.

Cowboy clown Duke Harrison of Hdq. Cavalry, provides the laughs of the show. Between the events he also gives whip-cracking and rope-spinning demonstrations that are worth the price of admission by themselves.

Joe Hall and Johnny Bonner were outstanding in the bare-bronc riding. The ride for such events lasts only a matter of eight seconds, but due to the wild careening and pitching of the broncs many of the contestants are thrown off in a fraction of this time. Judging for these events is based on the manner in which the performer rides and the wildness of the mount.

Other exciting events of the rodeo are the bull riding, the wild cow milking and the ladies balloon race. Every minute of the show is packed with thrilling events, excellent riding and suspense.

The final performance of the show will be given tonight in the Animal Husbandry Pavilion. General Admission tickets are 50 cents each and reserved seat tickets may be purchased for 75 cents in the AH office of the Agriculture building. The Aggie rodeo is sponsored by the Saddle and Sirolo club and is directed this year by Caddo Wright.

Aggies, Do Not Stay Out Late Today Sadie Hawkins Roams

By Clyde C. Franklin
Ole Sol rose at 6:32 today on another annual Sadie Hawkins Day. All you Aggies beware of the female element which according to the traditions built around the day will chase you fair lad until she catches him for her own.

Ever since Fish Blotto left the north gate open in the days of yore, November 8 has been acclaimed as a dia de fiesta or Sadie Hawkins day. Lil' Abner is expected to be seen running through the north gate closely pursued by all the fair young women of Dogpatch running in true Dogpatch style. If one of the women catch him maybe she will take him to the game on Kyle Field this afternoon.

Sadie Hawkins Day was originated by Sadie Hawkins and her father in an effort to get Sadie a husband so the story was told to me. Sadie had always hoped for a husband but was not getting one, although she was ageing rapidly. Pa conceived a scheme whereby the women would chase the men after giving them a fair start and the one that she caught she would wed.

On many college campuses all over the United States the day is observed with various degrees of enthusiasm. In some schools the girls dress in rags Dogpatch style and go through the entire ritual. The men line up and when the gun is fired start running and are closely followed when the second shot rings forth in the morning air.

Possibly TSCW will get the idea and come on down for the weekend.
