Picking Aggies, Steers, and Frogs to Win Today; Also taking Rice Owls Over Arkansas

The Southwest Conference really gets into the swing of things with three more league games rolling out of the well-known barrel. On Kyle Field, Homer Norton's Texas Aggies face their stiffest competition to date when they take on Matty Bell's rampaging Mustangs. Out in Waco, the Baylor Bears play host to Coach Dana X. Bible's polished Texas Longhorns. In Houston, the Rice Owls clash with the Arkansas Razorbacks in a "do-or-die" battle, while in Cowtown, T.C.U. finds a breather in the Centenary Gents.

We managed to survive last weeks' blast as far prognostications were concerned. You roll 'em out to us and we'll attempt to pick 'em.

A. & M.-S.M.U. . . . one of the top attractions of the nation, this one promises to be a lulu. The Aggies were kinda off against Arkansas last week, and should come back roaring today. With Red Maley not in there throwing for the Mustangs the situation is in the Cadets' hands. The cards say Aggies by a 14-0 score.

RICE-ARKANSAS . . . Since the Razorbacks have been on the upgrade, many experts seem to think that this will be the Porkers' day. However, the Owls should be on the upgrade today themselves after slipping far out of the limelight. The Razorbacks have a good passing attack, but here's giving Jess Neely's running game an edge for a change. This one should be a scoring game with the Owls on the long end of a 20-14 count. TEXAS-BAYLOR . . . Without blinking an eyelash, it's the Longhorns all the way by a 27-0 score. T. C. U. - CENTENARY . . . Rice beat the Gents 54-0 last week, and there is no reason why the Frogs shouldn't duplicate the feat. This will be a chance for Dutch Meyer to do a lot of experimenting before the Texas game next week. This should go to T. C. U. by a score of 34-0.

In other games we pick Navy to upset Notre Dame, Fordham over Pittsburg (this may be close), Army over Harvard by 6, Minnesota over Nebraska by three touchdowns, Stanford over Southern California, but not a runaway, North Carolina over Richmond, Tulane over Alabama (but watch out), Dartmouth over Princeton by 7, Ohio State over Wisconsin, Mississippi State over Auburn by 13, and Oregon State by 7 over U. C. L. A.

Sports Squibs From Here and There; Review Of Thrilling Games in Aggie-Mustang Series

Thrilling moments of play between S. M. U. and the Aggies since 1926 . . . in that year Gerald Mann, present attorney general, passed for a score and kicked a field goal to give the Mustangs a thrilling 9-7 win . . . the following year, with the Mustangs a heavy favorite, Joel Hunt, Aggie quarterback, ran wild to lead the Ags to a 39-13 victory . . . In 1928, again an underdog Aggie team rose up to hold S. M. U. to a 19-19 tie . . . then some ardent fans remember the years, '33, '34, and '35 when a little fellow named Robert Wilson proved to be a deep thorn in the Cadets' side . . . it was just the opposite the following three years as an Aggie named Dick Todd ran wild . . . In 1937 he made a 73 yard run for a score to lead the Aggies to a 14-0 win . . . in 1938 he made a 57 yard run to put the Cadets to a temporary 7-0 lead, but a guy named Joe—Joe Pasqua—disproved everything with a field goal to win the game for the Ponies, 10-7 . . . and how can anybody forget that thriller of 1939 when the Ags defeated the Mustangs 6-2 with the outcome being in doubt till the very last second . . . And what about last year's battle when the Aggies had to rally in the last half to win 19-7 with mighty John Kimbrough and Waltzin' Willie Cunnasser supplying the needed punch . . . All of them have been thrillers, and today's battle will be no exception . . . An underdog Aggie team rose up more than once to shackle the Mustangs, and, who knows, maybe the Ponies can return the favor today . . . Hm! Could be?

Williamson Picks Aggies Over SMU In Feature Game

By Paul B. Williamson

The most thrilling game in the Southwest today will be witnessed by the spectators of the Texas Aggies-Southern Methodist Mustangs clash. This game will be the toughest struggle yet this season for the undefeated-untied Aggies. We will ride with the fighting cadets for a close one. The Texas Longhorns should have little trouble taking the Baylor Bears into camp. The System takes the Steers to overwhelm Baylor.

The top game of the country will be found when two unbeaten but one-tied teams meet—Navy vs. Notre Dame. We say the Mid-dies from Annapolis will be the victors.

We like Arkansas over Rice also. The Owls should go down before the Razorbacks in a hard-fought game. This game isn't figured in the odds-on books.

Below are the Williamson predictions for Saturday, November 8, with the probable winners listed in capitals.

INTRAMURALS

By DUB OXFORD

Taking the spotlight along with the varsity football team this weekend, intramural cross country runners will have their big day tomorrow. Activities in the intramural sports world here at Aggieland will begin Sunday afternoon in the vicinity of Kyle Field. The "Fish" will lead off at 8:00 p.m. and the upperclassmen will follow at 8:30. All runners are asked to report at least fifteen minutes early for the event.

Last year class A honors went to 1 CHQ with W. Greif crossing the finish line 9:50 minutes after the starting gun had sounded. Running in a driving rain, J. M. Vadodos came in first for the class B division. Vadodos was a member of 1st Headquarters Field and set a time record for the course, 8:39.0.

Intramural water polo is now in the first rounds of the finals. League winners who have won their first matches and who are scheduled to play the winners of the one-eighth finals are: 2 CHQ vs. F FA, I FA vs. the winner of the D Eng-B Inf match; 5 CHQ vs. League D winners, and E FA vs. C CWS. Last year's water polo winner was E battery Field Artillery.

H Field Artillery met E Infantry and played them two minutes to decide the winner of a football game. Sounds silly, doesn't it? Well, here are the facts. With the score 13-13 and two minutes left to play, H Field kicked the ball. The ball bounced over the goal line and then by some trick of fate bounced back into the field of play. H Field covered the ball. The referee ruled a touchback, which he thought was right. After discussing the matter with the intramural department, it was decided that the ruling was in error. So, Thursday E Infantry was given the ball on the one yard line and they played H Field for two minutes. The outcome of the short game? E Infantry the winner.

Still fighting to the last minute, Welder of C Field was fouled and took his free shot in an effort to tie the game after H Coast had already won. Welder missed the free shot and the score of the game was 19 - 13 in favor of H Coast. Tough luck, Welder.

Aggie Water Polo Team Play Galveston

The second game under the sponsorship of the newly formed Texas State Water Polo League takes place tonight, with Coach Art Adamson's Aggies paired off against the strong Galveston Chamber of Commerce team. The Aggies are one game up on the Galveston crew, having taken a hard fought tussle last Saturday night in Galveston.

An added attraction for followers of the watery sport, an Aggie team sponsored by the Campus Theater, will also play the team from the coast city on Sunday afternoon. This team is composed of men who are ineligible for inter-collegiate competition and is led by Captain W. S. McCulley of the college military staff.

Fish Meet Rice Slimes For Game at Houston

Freshmen Are Decidedly Crippled For Owlets; Hold Win Over Allen Academy

The Texas Aggie Fish will play their first conference foe of the season when they meet the Rice Slimes in Houston on Armistice Day, Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 2:30 o'clock.

Winner over the Allen Academy Ramblers, 40-0, in their opener, they will be out to protect their undefeated record, but daily scrimmage against the Aggie varsity and resultant injuries has cut deeply into the bunch which won that game.

Fullback Otto Payne, ex-Amarillo all-stater, is out of action with a broken leg; Tackle Jim Wilson has a badly bruised knee; and End Nute Trotter, Berger, and Charlie Nanichia, Houston back, are hobbling about on sprained ankles, to list some of the more important player injuries. However, with a squad of between 75 and 80 from which to choose, Co-Coaches Charlie DeWare and Manning Smith will pick a squad of approximately 50 Tuesday morning to make the Houston trip.

To fill the gap left by Otto Payne, the coaches may shift Ed Dusek over from his halfback post, or may drop Bill Thomas, Sweetwater, at the fullback slot. At any rate, Thomas will be among the starters somewhere.

Probable starting lineup will include: Ends—Tom Coers, San Marcos, and Floyd Hand, Pasadena, if Trotter is not ready; Tackles—Ben Stout, Dallas, and Harold Attaway, Temple, if Wilson does not heal up; Guards—Johnnie Davis, Vernon, and Jim Cody, Dallas; Center—Long John Knight, Dallas. Backs—Barney Welsh, Stephenville; Ed Dusek, Temple; Bill Thomas, Sweetwater; and George Wilde, Graham, or Jennings Anderson, San Antonio.

During the 1909-10 term there were 243 tents stretched over a ten acre area on the A. & M. campus lodging 486 cadets.
