Aggies Risk Undeclared Record Against Rice Today

Corps Trip Parade Will Begin at 10 on Congress

Colonel Welty and Houston Mayor Will Review Cadet Corps

The traditional Aggie corps trip parade will start this morning at 10 o'clock thru the streets of the Bayou city. Colonel Maurice D. Welty, commandant and P. M. S. & T., and Neal Pickett, mayor of Houston, will review the parade from the reviewing stand in front of the Rice Hotel.

The corps will form in areas designated each organization on Congress Street as soon as the two special trains arrive from College Station. The parade will proceed up Congress Street to Main and thence South on Main past the reviewing stand to Lamar Street. Turning west on Lamar, each organization will march to its respective dismissal area on Smith, Brazos or Bagby Street.

Order of march for today's parade is as follows: corps commander and staff, Field Artillery Band, Infantry Regiment, Field Artillery Regiment, Composite Regiment, Infantry Band, Cavalry Regiment, Engineer Regiment and Coast Artillery Regiment.

Aggie headquarters in Houston for this week-end will be at the City Auditorium located at the intersections of Louisiana, Texas and Milam Streets. Buses to the Rice stadium will leave from there.

A special train will leave Houston tonight at 12:30 a. m. Other trains will leave at 11:30 p. m. tonight and at 8 a. m. and 1:30 p. m. Sunday. Major Elwood and Lieut. Williams will be tactical officers in charge of the Sunday trains.

Shepardson To Open Dairyman's Short Course Here

Shepardson, Moore Jennie Camp to Speak First Short Course Day

Professor A. L. Darnell, of the dairy husbandry department, will direct the seventh annual Dairyman's Short Course which opens Monday, November 17. Visiting dairymen from all over the state will be in attendance to hear talks on modern dairy problems.

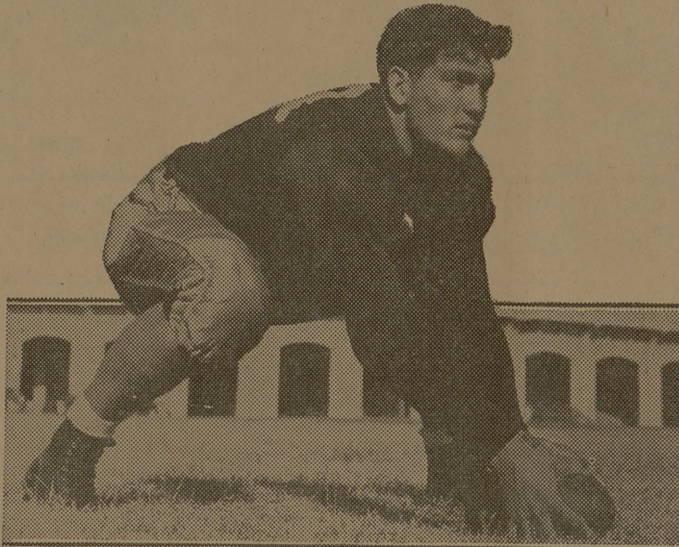

Visitors will register at the office of the College Creamery at 8:00 a. m. C. N. Shepardson of the dairy department will open the short course at 9:00 a. m. with a discussion of "Some of the Economic Problems of Dairying." Following Shepardson's talk, A. V. Moore will talk on "Problems in the Care of Cream and Milk on the Farm." Other speakers will talk on roughages, dairy equipment, breeding, and sex control.

Shelton Opens Personnel Talks

Jack Shelton of the Farm Credit Administration will be the first of a series of lecturers presented by the Placement Service of the Association of Former Students beginning Monday evening at 7:30 in the Chemistry lecture room.

Following Shelton's talk on how to make yourself a better prospect for employment will be James M. Reynolds of the Soil Conservation Service with advice as to what a personnel officer looks for in a job applicant.

Ex 4-H Club Will Send Boy On Chicago Trip

Representative Will Attend National Meet At Chicago in December

At its last regular meeting the A. & M. Ex 4-H Club appointed a committee to determine the qualifications its members must possess to be eligible for selection as the club's delegate to the National 4-H Congress to be held in Chicago the week of December 1-7.

This delegate will have an all-expenses paid trip to the windy city accompanied by L. L. Johnson and J. W. Potts of the Extension Service. The three will leave Dallas with the Texas State delegation of fifty-five 4-H clubbers next Friday night.

The National Congress is an annual affair in which fifteen-hundred boys and girls from the United States, Canada, Hawaii, Mexico, and other neighboring territories air their views and accomplishments of the past year. Plans are formulated for the betterment of farm life, and a complete program of action for all 4-H Clubs is discussed.

Cadets Will Be On North Side Of Owl Stadium Today

The Aggies will be seated on the north side of the stadium to witness Saturday's game against the Rice Owls. The senior section will extend from the 25 yard line to the 50 yard line.

Cadet Colonel Tom Gillis and nine other seniors have been in Houston since Thursday night making all necessary arrangements for the corps trip and football game. Friday night they attended the Rice bonfire festivities as representatives of the corps of cadets.

Moser, Sterling, Zapalac Not in Top Shape for Fray

Owls Expected to Rely on Sophomore Stars Against Ags; Brumley May be Ready

By Mike Haikin
Battalion Sports Editors

Having fought their way up to the No. 1 spot of the Southwest Conference, the Texas Aggies will attempt to protect their perfect record for the season against a dangerous in-and-out Rice Owl team this afternoon in Houston. An anticipated crowd of some 30,000 football hungry fans are expected to attend the game which starts at 2:30.

Aggies Crippled

For the first time in two years, the Aggie team will go into the fray with three of their first string not in the peak of condition. Triple-threat Derace Moser, the Cadet No. 1 back sustained a slight ankle injury against S. M. U. last week. He missed the hard workouts all week and is not expected to be in top shape for the fracas. It's a 50-50 chance that Moser will start today, but should he be out, Leo Daniels, flashy sophomore ace, will take his place. Willie Zapalac also was hurt last week, and Coach Homer Norton has indicated that he may move Jake Webster to the blocking back post and insert Andy Andricks in Webster's position. Marshall Spivey, one of the leading pass receivers in this part of the country, will start at the wingback spot.

Simmons To Start
The cadet line will also stand a bit of revision on the part of Coach Homer Norton. Jim Sterling, vicious blocking end, suffered a shoulder injury against S. M. U. and may not start. In that case Boots Simmons will take his place. Bill Henderson will take over the other terminal and is expected to be in the middle of things this afternoon. It may be remembered that it was this same Henderson who drove the Owls dizzy on Kyle Field last year with his great pass snagging. This year he is bigger and better and is a threat every time he lays his hands on the ball.

Another change in the Aggie line will be at the tackle post where Leonard Dickey, sensation all sophomore lineman will take over Euel Wesson's spot. The rest (See OWLS, page 4)

Senior Team Of Livestock Judges Selected
Senior livestock judging team prospects have been working toward one goal this year; that of winning the contest at the International Livestock Show. Under the careful hand of coach I. F. Edwards and his assistant William Warren, these boys have been engaging in long hours of practice. The winners and the six high judges are Tommy Stuart, 93.65; Jack Cleveland, 92.71; Victor Loefler, 92.48; W. T. Berry, 92.13; Gordon Grote, 91.48; and Jake Hess, 91.42. Of these, five will make up the team proper with the sixth man as alternate. The judging contests will be held in Chicago November 29, followed by a banquet on the 30th. The group will leave Chicago December 2, and plan to arrive here about midnight December 4. The team has a high goal to achieve in as much as last year's team walked off the field with the second place banner firmly in hand.

Arabia Temple Will Be Scene Of Aggie Dance After Game With Owls

Furthering an already successful season, the Aggieband Orchestra under Topsy Pearce will move on to Houston with the Corps this weekend to offer their "Music As You Like It" to the Corps at the official Aggie dance after the game.

The orchestra, with charming Norma Jean, everybody's sweetheart, will get in the groove at the Arabia Temple in the Sam Houston Coliseum at 9:00 p. m. and will beat it out until 1:00 a. m.

Topsy and the orchestra have enjoyed a phenomenally successful '41 and '42 seasonal debut at increasingly successful corps dances.

Another Aggie hit parade is on schedule and will function throughout the entire dance. The Hit Parades of former corps dances have had exceptionally good results.

Long the favorite orchestra of more than a few Aggies and others, the Aggieband was also the pick of the Rice Dance Committee which is sponsoring the dance.

Forty-Five Thousand Grades Mailed Out By Registrar Today

By Ken Bresnen
Forty-five thousand grades were recorded by the registrar's office Friday night in preparation for mailing the mid-semester reports to the homes of 6500 cadets. Sixty students working at top speed for thirteen or fourteen hours make it possible for the grades of A. & M. students to be sent out faster than those of any other college in the country.

Shortly after registration is finished, secretaries in the registrar's office begin to fill out the forms on which the grades are sent out. It would take one typist about forty days to type all these reports in blank. The blanks for the mid-semester reports and for the final semester grades are all typed at one time. Reports are made in triplicate, the first copy being sent to the student's parents, the second, to the deans of the various schools, and the third to the files in the registrar's office.

The information on the report blanks contains the student's name, the courses he is taking, and the name and address of the person to whom the grades are sent. The heads of the departments are required to have the grades in the registrar's office by nine o'clock in the morning at which time clerks begin to alphabetize them. This process takes about seven hours.

Then students working in pairs begin the recording of the grades on the blanks. In order to prevent errors in the records caused by misunderstanding, the clerk who calls the grades uses a language all his own. Instead of calling letters, he calls words beginning with the grade letter. The callers' jargon might sound like this: "Jones, J. A. English 103, Cadillac; Math 101 Dodge; Biology 110, Buick; Chem 101, Ford; History 105, Auburn."

When the grades have been recorded the blanks are torn apart. One is placed in an envelope for mailing, another is sent to the dean. A clerk adds up the hours (See GRADES, page 2)
