

Aggies Face Wash State at Tacoma Today

By Mike Haikin

Picking Aggies to Nudge Out Washington State, 7-0, Today; Also Taking SMU and TU

The Texas Aggies end their regular season this afternoon at Tacoma, Washington in a battle with the tough Washington State Cougars. Coach Homer Norton's gridsters are reported to be in top shape for the fray and are due to put up a better exhibition than they did last week.

In other season ending games, the Texas Longhorns play host to Coach Tex Oliver's colorful Oregon eleven and S. M. U. takes on the ever-improving Rice Institute Owls at Dallas.

Now as to our picks:
A. & M.-WASHINGTON STATE . . . This one will be the toughest tilt of the day. The Cougars are now conceded by most Coast sports writers to be the best team on the Coast, and many regard today's game as the "Little Rose Bowl." They have a heavy line, a good running attack, and just about the best passing attack in the Pacific Conference. However, their main weakness is pass defense, and unless it is revised, the Aggies will complete many passes. So it's the best team on the Coast versus the champion of the Southwest! We'll take the Southwest and the Aggies by a 7-0 count!
TEXAS-OREGON U. . . . The Texas Longhorns are fresh from their 23-0 triumph over the Texas Aggies, and should be in the same frame of mind for the Coast team. This will be the last game for the senior Bible eleven and they should put up a grand performance before the home folks. It's TU by a 20-7 score.

RICE-S.M.U. . . . Here's another battle that has to be put in the "tough" class. The Mustangs have been somewhat of a disappointment in this season's play, having already lost four games, and nothing would please them more than to end their season with a victory. Playing before a home crowd, with Howard Maley, sensational sophomore flinger, in top shape, this corner gives S. M. U. a 17-14 edge. Don't underrate the Owls either! They are plenty tough and have been improving with each game. However, we just can't get over the fact that they still have a weak pass defense.

Sports Squibs From Here and There; Cage Squad to Have New Uniforms This Season

New uniforms will be inaugurated this season by Coach Marty Karow's basketball team . . . the home uniform is white with a maroon "V" running in front and back of jersey . . . if the team is as colorful as the togs, the championship is in the bag . . . at the opening of the first cage tilt Monday, the Aggies will also get a chance to view the new improvements at the DeWare Field House . . . Besides sporting a new floor, it also has a new roof, new backboards, electric timer, and improved lighting . . . all that is needed now is a new team to win a championship, something which has not been done since 1923 . . . in listing his All-Conference eleven, Coach Dutch Meyer puts the Aggies' Derace Moser as being close to the top for all-around performance . . . one thing funny about Dutch's selection is that nimble-toed Jack Crain of Texas is not even put on the second team . . . D. P. Jones, halfback for the Arkansas Razorbacks, carried the ball 58 times for a total net gain of 11 yards! . . . As if Duquesne has something to shout about, what

Sibley and Ruby Named on Frogs All-Opponent Team

Fort Worth, Texas, Dec. 5.—Jack Wilson, star of the 1941 Baylor Bears, is the best football player that T. C. U. faced all season.

That is the opinion of those best qualified to know, the Horned Frog players themselves.

Eight of the 10 teams that the Frogs played are represented on the players' all-opponent team. Included are two each from Baylor, Rice and Texas A. & M.; and one each from Fordham, Tulsa, S. M. U., Indiana, and Texas.

With the exception of one man, every Frog cast his vote for C. H. Greene, Tulsa, and Martin Ruby, A. & M., for the tackle posts.

Two Aggie players tied in the naming of a captain for the eleven—Bill Sibley, center, and Ruby.

The all-opponent team as named by the T. C. U. players:

Ends—Jack Russell, Baylor; Jim Lansing, Fordham.
Tackles—Martin Ruby, A. & M.; C. G. Greene, Tulsa.
Guards—Art Goforth, Rice; Ted Ramsey, S. M. U.
Center—Bill Sibley, A. & M.
Backs—Jack Wilson, Baylor; Bill Hillenbrand, Indiana; Pete Layden, Texas; Bob Brumley, Rice.

INTRAMURALS

By DUB OXFORD

Class A touch football is moving along nicely and the game schedule will be completed by about December 10 if the weather permits. Immediately after the completion of touch football, Class A speedball will begin. And all recreational officers are reminded that today is the last time that entry cards may be turned in.

The December meeting of the R. O.'s will be held in the C.E. lecture room next Tuesday, so hold that date open. New rulings in speedball and other important subjects will be discussed.

Intramural Heroics and Hysterics
H Replacement Center is still playing basketball, and if you don't believe me, ask their opponents. They haven't been beaten yet, and their closest score was 17-7. Continuing with the Replacement Centers, I RC is winning all their football games.

The perfect way to lose a game by a small score instead of a large score is to call the referee a few choice names. I'll explain.

A player was put out of the game for hacking and on his way out gave the "ref" a piece of his mind. As the score of his team was 0 to the other team's 13, the referee by some calculation ruled that the final score of the game was 2-0. Moral: Just "cuss out" the referee if you don't want to lose by an enormous score.

Dub Sibley, Aggie varsity center, had better watch out. Paul Wolf, 119 pound center for C CW S, played a whale of a game yesterday. . . . Bernie Murray, who weighs in at 135 soaking wet also held down the guard slot very well. . . . Plans are being made for an open handball tournament.

Henderson, Jarrett Prominent Cogs of Cage Team; Open Season Against Sam Houston Mon

The Texas Aggie basketball team will open its season Monday night in DeWare Field House against the Sam Houston Teachers. The abilities of the Cadet cagers are definitely unknown and there will be a lot of new boys out for the team this year, in addition to having a new coach in Marty Karow.

Henderson to be Missed
Captain Jitterbug Henderson will be missing from the squad until after the January 1 Cotton Bowl game since he is a stellar end on the Aggie football squad. Leonard "Slats" Holder and Pete Slaughter, who are first year candidates, will also be kept back by the pigskin sport. Henderson is likely to be the key man of the Aggie offense. He has ranked in the top four high scorers for the past two years and is an outstanding player.

Henderson

Raymond Jarrett, junior college transfer last year and letterman, will be a mainstay in the lineup. He has been in charge of the team while Coach Karow has been tied up with football. A squadman of last year, Raymond Klutz, has been showing much promise. Other lettermen back from last year are Ralston Bayer, Fred Nabors, and Charlie Stevenson.

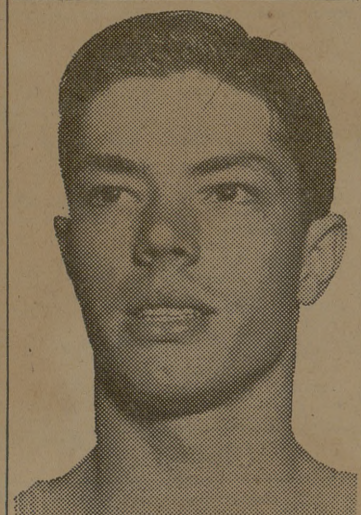

Sure Starters

Henderson, Jarrett, and Klutz are almost sure starters but there will be a battle for the other two places between Nabors, Underwood, Bayers, Stevenson, Huffman, Mike Cokinos, Pennington, Muller, and a number of first year men. Holder and Slaughter will fit in somewhere along the line but until they get in some practice nothing can be decided about them.

As Henderson will be on his way back from Tacoma, Washington, when the season opens Monday night, he will miss this game but will be on hand for games of December 12-16-17-18-19 against North Texas Teachers here, Phillips 66 and Texas Tech at Houston, Louisiana State at Baton Rouge, and Centenary at Shreveport on those respective dates.

New Coach

Marty Karow replaces Hub McQuillan, cage coach since 1935, who left A. & M. to coach at Texas Christian. Even though this is Karow's first year in basketball coaching, he is not new at the business, having handled the University of Texas team and assisted at the United States Naval Academy.

R. Jarrett

When asked about the prospects for a winner, Coach Karow answered, "About all I can tell you is that we are going to play 24 games and hope to win our share, but beyond that, anyone's guess is as good as mine. After I get in more time with the team I may know more about it, but right now—you guess."

Williamson Picks Ags, Steers And Mustangs to Win

By Paul B. Williamson
Only 15 leading games remain scheduled for the 1941 football season. Ten will be played this weekend.

The two games that will be followed most widely over the nation Saturday will be Oregon U. invading Texas U. and the Texas Aggies going to Tacoma against Washington State College.

The System takes both Texas teams in these games.

On Saturday games include Arizona over Utah (my, my!); S. M. U. over Rice; Mississippi State over San Francisco in a tentative game that may be called off if the Staters are invited to a bowl; Hardin Simmons over Tempe; and the U.C.L.A. Bruins over Southern California.

Moser, Sewell Aerial Duel Expected to Highlight Tilt

Weldon Maples in Place of Les Richardson Only Change in Lineup; All in Top Shape

Those Fighting Texas Aggies will close their regular grid schedule today when they meet the Washington State College Cougars in the high school stadium in Tacoma, Washington, at 2:00 p.m. Pacific Coast time (4:00 p.m. Central Standard time). This will be the Cadets last game before the New Year's Day classic in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas against the Crimson Tide.

Many football observers believe that this intersectional battle will develop into an aerial duel between Derace Moser and Leo Daniels of the Aggies and Billy Sewell and Jay Stoves of Washington State. Sewell is the kingpin of the WSC attack. The dope books show that last season Sewell bettered Davy O'Brien's great 1937 record in all but one department.

Stoves, a 200-pound junior, carries on for Sewell whenever the latter is off the field and does a good job, too. The No. 1 quarterback is Bob Kennedy, a fast triple-threatener who can handle any job in the backfield. The remainder of the backfield is made up by Felix Fletcher and Billy Holmes, right halfbacks, Fred Small, Kennedy's understudy at quarter; and Frank Londers and Earl Brenneis at fullback.

In the line it will be sterling and Henderson at ends, Ruby and Wesson at tackles, Sibley at center, and Bucek and Maples at guard. The Cougar's first string line is Nick Susoeff and Dale Gentry, ends; Joe Beckman and Jim Woody, tackles; Bill Ward and Stan Doepke, guards. At the pivot post will be Bill Remington who usually plays the full game.
