

Train-Weary Aggies Arrive Home Wednesday

Play of Aggie Forward Wall Responsible For Cadet Victory; Weldon Maples Shines

The Texas Aggies will arrive at College Station tomorrow around noon, and every Aggie should give this team a rousing welcome. They certainly deserve it after the way they got off the ground to give the Washington State Cougars a sound thrashing. The score was 7-0, but it did not even indicate how badly the Cougars were really outclassed. The Ags played most of the game deep in the State's territory, but when the Cougars did threaten, the Cadets threw up the strongest forward wall faced by the Pacific Coast team this year. Never did the Aggies charge as hard as they did Saturday. Jim Sterling, Bill Sibley, and Martin Ruby played a whale of a game, making those Cougar backs look

Sam Houston Kats Overwhelm Ags 50-33

Huffman, Nabors Shine for A & M

By Mike Mann
(Senior Sports Assistant)

The Texas Aggie cagers went down in defeat last night in DeWare field house before the onslaughts of the Sam Houston Teachers by a score of 50 to 33 in the opening game of the season. The Bearkats took the lead early in the game and were out in front all the way.

Cole and Joe Walker sparked the Bearkats and shared the high-point honors for the game with 15 points each. Gardner was close behind with 12 tallies. The latter was the free goal star of the game, making six out of eight of the free attempts. The Sam Houston squad was full of speed and cunning, passing the ball all over the court with much accuracy.

In the Cadet lineup, Nabors and Huffman led the scorers with eight points each and Jarrett was in the running with seven points. Bad passes were numerous for the Aggies and these resulted in the loss of a number of points. The Cadets also missed a number of field goal attempts and were unable to follow the ball off the backboard closely.

The Bearkats were noticeable at times in their failure to play the backboard closely enough. Missing from the Sam Houston lineup was Don Walker, a hustling six foot six inch center. The starting lineup for the Aggies was: Cokinos and Jarrett, forwards; Nabors, center; and Klutz and Huffman, guards. Substitutions were: Stevenson and Watkins, forwards; Bayer, center; and Peden and Underwood, guards.

For Sam Houston the starters were: Gatlin and Cole, forwards; Gardner, center; and Joe Walker and Green, guards. Bearkat subs were: Mitchell and Dyson, guards, and Smith, forward.

Moser Chosen On Second All-America Team - Williamson

Daniel Makes First Team; Layden on Second While Jack Wilson Makes Third

By Paul B. Williamson
The Southwest Conference has five representatives on the first three All-America teams of the Williamson poll. Chal Daniel, guard of Texas university, was named on the first team. Derace Moser, Texas Aggie halfback, and Pete Layden, Texas Longhorn fullback, were placed on the second team while Jack Wilson of Baylor and Jack Crain of Texas were placed at the quarterback and halfback positions on the third team.

The Williamson All-America first team is made up of: Holt Rast, Alabama, and Dale Gentry, Washington State, ends; Dick Wilding, Minnesota, and Ernest Blandin, Tulane, tackles; Endicott Peabody, Harvard, and Chal Dainel, Texas, guards; Darold Jenkins, Missouri, center; William Dudley, Virginia, quarterback; Steve Lach, Duke, and Frankie Sinkwich, Georgia, halfbacks; and Robert Westfall, Michigan, fullback.

The members of the second team are: Blalock, Clemson, and Schriener, Wisconsin, ends; Beauman, Northwestern, and Reinhard, California, tackles; Frankowski, Washington, and Abel, Nebraska, guards; Banonis, Detroit, center; Albert, Stanford, quarterback; Smith, Minnesota, and Moser, Texas A. & M., halfbacks; and Layden, Texas, fullback.

On the third Williamson All-America team are: Dove, Notre Dame, and Motl, Northwestern, ends; Eason, Oklahoma, and Wistert, Michigan, tackles; Fife, Pittsburgh, and Wyhonic, Alabama, guards; Barnett, Duke, center; Wilson, Baylor, quarterback; Crain, Texas, and Bertelli, Notre Dame, halfbacks; and Hapes, Ole Miss, fullback.

Dr. Harold J. Hoflich, assistant professor of economics at Kent State university is serving as economic analyst with the U. S. treasury department during a year's leave of absence.

Moser Suffers Slight Hip Injury In Game With Washington State; All Others OK

After a brief stopover in Sun Valley, Idaho yesterday, the train-weary Texas Aggies will arrive in College Station at noon tomorrow. The team will enjoy a brief and well earned respite from practice for a few days, with drills in preparation for the Cotton Bowl Classic with Alabama's Crimson Tide scheduled to begin Monday, December 15.

Miami on November 28. Since then they have been taking it easy, but workouts in preparation for the Aggies started again this week. The Aggies came through their grueling battle with Washington State's Cougars in good shape. The only injury of any consequence was a slightly bruised hip sustained by Derace Moser, but he should be in top shape by the time January 1 rolls around. Other members of the squad sustained slight bruises, etc., but barring injuries in practice, all should be in top shape for the game with Alabama.

Aggie Water Polo Team Rolls Over TU In Austin; Score 13-7

Playing in Austin before a capacity crowd, the Texas Aggie water polo team defeated the University of Texas water polo squad 13-7 last Friday night. The game was swam in Gregory gym pool and at the half the game was tied 3-3. At this point the Texas squad looked good. The Aggies then rallied and in the remaining time left in the half came back and piled up ten more points.

In the game with a Galveston water polo club, the Aggies won both of them. The scores were 12-2, and 16-3. Playing Texas university twice, the Aggies have won both of those too. Now the only team the Aggie varsity water polo team has to play is the Campus Club, a water polo team composed of men on the A. & M. campus. So far, the Aggie water polo squad is undefeated and is leading in the state water polo league.

Ninety-five students are employed in NYA work at the University of Akron.
