February Draft Will Catch 56,000 Selective Service Director States

Approximately 56,000 male residents in Texas will be registered in the 20 and 21-year-old age groups on February 16th, General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director, announced today.

National Selective Service Headquarters anticipates a total registration in the Continental United States of about 9,000,000 men between the ages of 20 and 45 years, General Page has been advised, and of these about 1,650,000 will be in the 20 and 21-year-old group.

Holdeman Elected President Biology Club for New Year

The Biology club met Thursday night and held its annual mid-year election, electing Harold Holdeman, Battery A, Field Artillery, president for the coming year. Other officers who began their terms Thursday night were Harry Trodler, Vice-President; Jack Barnes, Secretary; and Ed Maddox, Treasurer.

The program of the meeting consisted of a talk by Randolph Peterson on a Fish and Game trip into the interior of Mexico. Peterson, a graduate student, was assistant to Professor W. B. Davis, the head of the fish and game department, who led the party in the trip from Laredo to the east coast of Mexico, via Mexico City, for the purpose of mounting animal specimens in the field. With his talk Peterson exhibited a number of these mounted animals.

Hoefflin Fills Vacancy in IE Department Staff

A. V. Hoefflin of Tuscon, Arizona, is filling the position of itinerant teacher-trainer in the department of industrial education which was left vacant by E. W. Glenn, who is on leave of absence with the U. S. Office of Education until September, 1942.

Hoefflin's work at A. & M. will consist of extension courses for teachers of vocational, industrial, and national defense classes in the public school systems of Texas.

He is a graduate of the Stout Institute Menomonie, Wisconsin, and has completed special courses at the University of Wisconsin, Bradley Polytechnic Institute, and General Motors Institute. He has to his credit thirty years of teaching industrial subjects in several states.

DISTRACTIONS

discovered America, is played by Jack Oakie in "RISE AND SHINE" at the Campus tomorrow and Monday. Supporting him in this farce to end all farces are Linda Darnell, the college yeller, and George Murphy. Oakie is noted for his ability to play football, sleep more than anyone else on the team, and learn less in class.

Walter Brennan is a retired Civil War drummer who keeps a chest full of Confederate money in his room and makes a play for any girl that will go with him more than once. Milton Berle plays a gangster's stooge named Seabiscuit with the horse name explaining itself.

All in all, it is as laughable as any motion picture could be. It seems practically impossible that anyone could put together such a complete lot of absolute nonsense, but it has been done, and you will enjoy it no end.

"THAT UNCERTAIN FEELING" starring Melvyn Douglas, Merle Oberon, and Burgess Meredith will be shown at Guion hall tonight. It seems that the triangular plot has a multitude of variations, and this one is as good as almost any other one so far. Merle Oberon, who is married to Melvyn Douglas, feels that something must be wrong with their marriage because she has the hiccoughs continually. She meets Burgess Meredith at a psychoanalyst's office. So the ground-work is laid for a bit of marital mixup. It gets more involved the farther we go, and those hiccoughs keep recurring quite frequently. The story is really great, and you ought to enjoy it a lot.

Something on the more serious side is "SHINING VICTORY" which will be at Guion Hall Monday. James Stephenson and Geraldine Fitzgerald are the featured players in the cast. The show is fine, but requires some reflection on its meaning to get the full benefit of it. It is a bit slow and heavy and treats on the foreboding topic of unbalanced mentality.

The cast did a good job on the story. It can be recommended highly if you care for something different in motion pictures.
