NOTICE TO PATRONS OF THE A. & M. CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

We are now taking the school census for the school year 1942-43 and would like for all patrons who have not sent a census blank to the school to please call the Superintendent's office or get in contact with one of the teachers of the school so we can see that you get a census blank. We especially urge all parents who have no children in school but whose child will become six years old before September 1st, 1942, to report at the Superintendent's office so the child might be placed on the census roll for the next year. Some students have graduated and are in college but will still be under 18 years of age on September 1, 1942. These people are eligible for the census roll and each member of the census roll means $22.60 for our school finances. We will appreciate very much any assistance you can render in helping us have a 100% roll for the year 1942-43.

"Now girls, tell me, why am I so attractive?..."

"YOU?...It's your VARSITY-TOWN!"

Next time our friend dates these heart-breakers and ego thwarters he'll know enough not to ask any questions, for there are those who call a spade a spade, and they're usually the same ones who call Varsity-Towns exactly what they are... THE SMARTEST CLOTHES IN AMERICA! Which, gets over our point... that you'd better make a date to see the new Varsity-Towns with their longer jackets and modern styling.

Shortly, the mailman brought a post card for each from the girl—for correspondence. Academy.
Soon after he enlisted in 1904, he was on the USS Chattanooga on a cruise in the Atlantic when they were caught in a blizzard and reported lost in New York papers. After the storm abated, the vessel put into Long Island Sound and let out the anchor. The ice was so thick that the anchor did not break the ice and the near-by residents were able to walk out on the ice alongside the cruiser.
Adorning Young's left blouse sleeve are nine "has stripes" representing nine four year enlistments in the Navy or in the Naval Reserve. On his right sleeve is the insignia showing that he is a chief boatswain's mate. It consists of an arc surmounted by an eagle with three chevrons inverted beneath the arc. Inside the arc are crossed anchors representing boatswain's mate.
In 1914, Young was in Vera Cruz during the Mexican Incident. The American sailors were marching in ranks when the Mexicans fired on them, killing 42 of the sailors.

main in school until the end of the present semester. Those that enlist now will go into service April 23, or every two weeks thereafter. Preliminary training will be given at Hensley Field in Dallas for three months. Then the trainees will go to the Corpus Christi training station to finish their flight training and receive their commissions in ten or eleven months as ensigns.
Young has two sons in the army. One is a member of the parachute battalion at Fort Benning, Georgia, and the other is in the Hawaiian Islands. He was on Midway Island when it was bombed by the Japanese during the first days of the war.
After he went on inactive duty in 1921, Young worked as a civilian employee in the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Florida, and later at the Mussel Shoals dam in Florence, Alabama. He went back on active duty this month, and his assignment here will probably be to help maintain discipline among the sailors here for the radio training.

Collar ornaments for the Ordnance units have arrived at the Exchange store and may be purchased by those who are eligible to wear them.
