gie infield helped snuff out any aspirations the Owls might have had as far as scoring was concerned.

The Aggies wasted no time in getting to Lefty Vogt's offerings. Ballow was safe on Collura's error and scored on Glass' double. They added a run each in the second and third, two in the fourth, and climaxed their spree with a four-run outburst in the seventh frame. Glass' second double of the day was the big blow of the inning.

In the second game, Smokey Carden, after a shaky first-inning start, held the Owls to one hit. Rice accounted for two of its three blows in the initial frame, but thereafter was easy prey for Carden.

Two runs behind in the first, the Cadets tied it all up during their half of the inning. A walk to Ballow, a double by Glass and a ringing single by Captain John Scoggin brought in the tallies.

The Cadets went ahead in the third as Scoggin singled and came in on Porter's triple to right. They tied the game, then, in the fifth, as Scoggin smashed a home run with two aboard.

Three Aggies Attend Annual ASCE Meet In Roanoke, Virginia

Three student members of the American Society of Civil Engineers traveled 3,200 miles to attend the National ASCE Convention in Roanoke, Virginia, April 21-23 inclusive. Jesse Teague, Clayton Muse, and Luther Peterson made the trip by rail. Mr. and Mrs. J. T. L. McNew also attended. Mr. McNew is a member of the Board of Directors for the National Society.

A prize of $20, offered to the student society traveling the most man-miles, was won by this group.

A number of technical papers was presented which were about the civil engineer's place in modern warfare. These papers were prepared and presented by some of the nation's leading engineers.

Since all industries were closed to visitors because of the war situation, an inspection trip was impossible. However a trip to V. M. I. was made where there was a garrison review for the occasion. On the return trip a stop was made at the Natural Bridge, one of the seven wonders of the world.

Baptist Students Elect O D Jones Next President

New Officials Installed At Sunday Service; Frank Camp Retiring President

The new officers of the A. & M. Baptist Student Union were installed at a service at the College Station First Baptist Church Sunday night.

The new officers are Oran D. Jones, president; LeRoy Priest, treasurer. The vice-presidents are James Kennedy, Garnett White and Bert Johnson. The class presidents are Sam Lewis, senior class; Spencer Ellis, junior class. The junior training union president is Bob Wright. Other officers are Bob Kokernot, reporter; Charles Barnes, Sunday School representative. Other officers are yet to be filled.

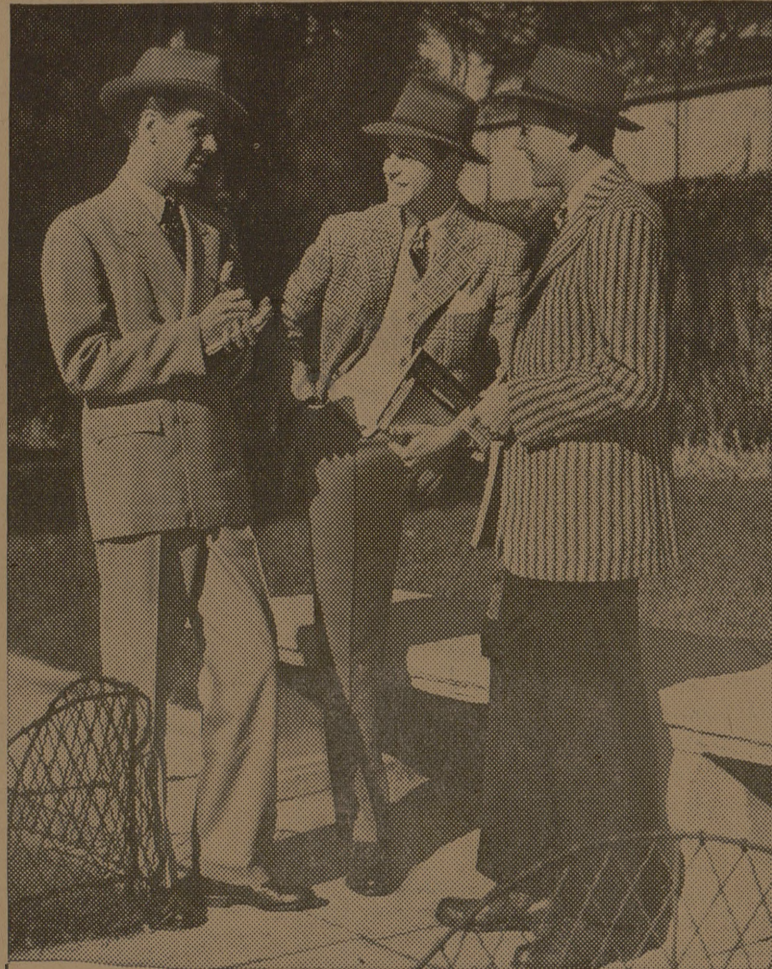

Harvey Hatcher, music director of the church, led the song service after which Frank Camp, the retiring B.S.U. president, called for the new officers to come to the front. Frank Camp asked the nominees a number of questions and then Rev. R. L. Brown, pastor, led the church in voting to approve the new officers.

Oran D. Jones, the new president, came to the platform to receive the symbol of his office, a gavel with the name of every president for the past twenty-two years carved on it. He spoke briefly, accepting the challenge and pledging his allegiance to Christ and the Baptist program on the campus.

The service concluded with a brief sermon by the pastor on the subject, "Today's Challenge to Youth."

Cotton Society Elects Officers

The Cotton Society held the last of a series of successful meetings Thursday night. At the beginning of the meeting officers were elected to serve for the coming year. They were: H. F. Hickman, president; C. B. Hunter, vice-president; J. Q. Irwin, secretary and treasurer; and G. C. Marsh, reporter. The new president presided throughout the meeting.

Ex-Aggie Fights With Flying Tigers Over Warring Burma

One of the "fightingest" of the fighting sons of A. & M. is Flight Leader David Lee Hill. He flies with allegedly the world's best combat fliers—The Flying Tigers of Burma. Their official name is the American Volunteer Group. Hill was a cavalry boy at A. & M. and later joined Uncle Sams flyers where he got his combat training.

There are two Texans in the Flying Tigers—a San Saba boy and Hill—although their number is small. Their pictures may be seen in the latest issue of Life Magazine.

Psychologically speaking, it is sound to maintain many peacetime extra-curricular activities during war, in opinion of Dr. Paul White, Texas university psychiatrist.

TEXAS A. & M. MEN WILL BE INTERVIEWED AGAIN . . .

► Last year, on 39 different college campuses, men were asked for candid opinions about clothing styles. This poll, conducted by The Saturday Evening Post, is being repeated this year for more than reasons of fashion. It should have important usefulness in the national conservation of cloth and other materials.

Manufacturers and retailers want to know exactly what kind of clothing college men like best—what they find most practical. Government regulations about clothing make it vital to get such facts in advance.

Maybe you were one of the 4,179 college men who helped provide the information last year. Maybe you also saw the Post Portfolio of College Styles in your favorite store when you bought clothes last fall. It made buying simpler for a good many men.

The 2nd Annual Post Poll of College Styles will be made very soon through cooperation of the BATTALION.

Results will again be available to you in leading stores this fall. When your local reporter asks you for information, your answers will be appreciated.
