Sheep and Goats On Texas Farms Are on Increase

Sheep and goats continued to increase in number on Texas farms and ranches during 1941, says W. R. Nisbet, animal husbandman of the A. & M. Extension Service. Several million lambs are produced yearly in the state.

The expansion in sheep is being made at the expense of the cattle population in new areas, Nisbet observes, adding that "some of the heavily stocked ranges could carry fewer sheep and more cattle."

Sheep are pushing most rapidly west and north from the Edward plateau. Answers to parasite problems would permit more rapid expansion to the south and east where ranges seem superior for sheep.

While many lambs are kept for replacement in the current expansion, most of the wether lambs leave the state as feeders. Nisbet suggests an expansion in lamb feeding.

County agricultural agents have promoted a substantial number of lamb feeding demonstrations, largely through 4-H Club program.

Mohair production is next in importance to wool and lambs. The 16 to 17 million pounds of mohair sheared at six month intervals represents 85 per cent of the nation's production.

"It is generally accepted that selling mohair on an ungraded basis penalizes the growers because weight often is obtained at the expense of quality," Nisbet says.

Accordingly, a grading program was inaugurated in the fall of 1939 through cooperation of the Extension Service with the Agricultural Marketing Service and the Texas Angora Goat Raisers Association. In 1941 the Extension Service employed Walter Garth, Jr., of Sanford, Maine, during August and September to extend the program. Numerous grading demonstrations were given on ranches and some purebred flocks were culled on a quality basis. As a consequence, general support for marketing mohair on its merits was more nearly obtained.

About 500,000 pounds of hair was graded during the spring and fall seasons of 1941, compared with a volume of 335,000 and 500,000 respectively, in 1940. The 1941 graded hair sold for a low of 38 cents for No. 4 grown to 85 cents for No. 1 kid.

Trig and Physics Desirable for Air Corps Bombardier

Mathematics through trigonometry and physics are desirable for the applicant who wishes to become a bombardier in the U. S. Air Force.

The bombardier, as the name implies, is in charge of bombing operations. Schools are located at Midland, Texas; Albuquerque, N. M.; Victorville, Calif.; Higby-Chandler, Ariz.; Roswell, N. M.; Hobbs, N. M.; Carlsbad, N. M., and Kingham, Ariz.

No evidence of formal schooling is required and applicants for bombardier instruction spend nine weeks in fundamental study, 12 weeks at a bombardier school and five weeks in gunnery practice. Following this 26 weeks of schooling he becomes a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Air Force and draws $245 a month unless he lives on an army post where no rental allowance is made. During the training period he makes $75 a month, $1.00 a day subsistence, clothing, quarters, and a $10,000 government life insurance policy.

Applicants who wish to enlist in the U. S. Air Force may do so when the examining board comes to A. & M. May 13 and 14. He must bring three letters of recommendation and a birth certificate or a reasonable proof of age.

CLOSE FIGHT

Watkins may break the existing record in the high jump. Pete will also enter the broad jump—a new event for him—in addition to the javelin and high hurdles.

Rice's hopes have been dimmed somewhat by Bill Christopher's pulling a muscle. It is still doubtful whether he will be able to enter the meet this afternoon or not. Christopher was a cinch for first in the broad jump, a place in the high jump, and was also a relay man.

However, Rice still has Harold Hall in the dashes and Bill Blackburn and Jim Deal in the weights. All are favored in their events.

Aggie dashmen Ken Stallings and Derace Moser may give Hall trouble, though, and Felix Bueck will furnish plenty of competition in the discus. When A. & M. defeated Rice in a dual meet several weeks ago, Felix tossed the platter 141 feet for first place over Deal.

Texas is depending on Hafernick and Umstadt for the majority of their points. Hafernick is the defending champion in the mile.

GRADUATION
Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the college, will confer the degrees which will be presented by Dr. F. M. Law, of Houston, president of the Board of Directors. In event of rain the ceremonies will be moved to Guion Hall.

That same evening Dr. and Mrs. Walton will be at home informally to the graduating class and their guests, former students of the college and their families, and members of the faculty and their families. The final ball of the year will climax the day's activities.

In Guion Hall on Saturday morning, May 16, at 8:30 o'clock, those 565 members of the graduating class who have completed their four-year course in military science and tactics, will receive their commissions from Brig. Gen. Andrew D. Bruce, U.S.A., commanding Tank Destroyer Center, Camp Hood, Texas. General Bruce is a member of the Class of 1916.

After the commissions have been presented, the seniors will return to their organization and will lead them in the final review and then will turn over their commands to the juniors who will lead the cadets past the retiring seniors who will be on the reviewing stand. As each organization passes in review the seniors from that company, troop or battery will step forward and take the final salute from their schoolmates and when the last man has passed the school year will have ended.

Courses in first aid for all students have become part of the Muhlenberg college program.
