A salesman from the states appeared at a Canadian recruiting office to enlist.

"I suppose you want a commission," said the sergeant.

"No, thanks," was the reply. "I'm such a poor shot I'd rather work on a straight salary."

"Do Englishmen use American slang?"

"Some of them do. Why?"

"My daughter is being married in London, and the duke just cabled me to come across."

—Old Maid.

★

He:—Do you know how bad the drouth is in the Midwest?

She:—No. How bad is it?

He:—It's so bad the trees are going to the dogs.

★

An Englishman was seeing some Aggies dancing. He seemed greatly impressed, and after a lengthy pause, inquired of his guide, "I say, my dear chap, they marry afterwards, don't they?"

★

Gent:—Your pooch has rather a bulging appearance—what's the matter with it?

Polly:—I think she has stowaways, sir.

★

You can't tell a farmer girl that a stork brings baby calves, because she knows it's the bull.

★

A couple was sitting on the lawn admiring the scenic beauties.

"Some moon out tonight," said he.

"Some stars," said she.

"Some dew on the grass," said he.

"Hell, no, Not me!" said she—and left.
