Los Angeles is the best city in the United States in which to live, according to a survey by Prof. William L. Bailey, Northwestern university authority on city planning, based on 20 or more factors of city development.

The survey included 35 cities. Ratings were based on wage rates, cost of living, death rate, infant mortality, percentage of population married, church membership, child labor, parks, pavement, fire losses, public properties, library circulation, school attendance, school property, teachers' salaries, pupils per teacher, illiteracy, spoken English, rates of rent, home ownership and other factors.

Ranking in order behind Los Angeles were Minneapolis, Seattle, San Francisco, Portland (Ore.), Denver, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Washington, Omaha, Salt Lake City, New Haven, Detroit, Buffalo, Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh, Newark, Cincinnati, Chicago, Kansas City, Springfield (Mass.), Indianapolis, Scranton, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Providence, Baltimore, Louisville, Jacksonville, Birmingham, Atlanta, Memphis and New Orleans.

Professor Bailey said industrial and government conditions caused by the war will affect some cities, but with the exception of Washington and, perhaps, Los Angeles, factors involved in the rating system should not change much.

Certificates of Birth Essential For Defense Work

The easiest and sometimes the only way you can definitely prove native-born citizenship is by a birth certificate showing that your birth is on record at the State Department of Health.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, this week re-emphasized the importance of every American citizen being in possession of his birth certificate and outlined the simple procedure for obtaining this vital record.

"Requests for certified copies should be made direct to the State Health Department, Bureau of Vital Statistics," Dr. Cox said. "There is no charge except the fifty cents necessary to pay for making a search of the records and a photostatic copy if the record is on file."

Birth certificates are doubly important in the national emergency, serving as proof of citizenship which is necessary for entrance to our armed forces or for employment in any national defense industry. A record of birth is also useful in establishing the time and place of birth as well as parentage and can be of great assistance in the settlement of estates and other legal matters.

"American people are beginning to realize the importance of birth records since our entry into the war," Dr. Cox declared. "In the month of March alone, the Bureau of Vital Statistics received 19,810 requests for copies of birth records and in April and May, the requests have continued to increase steadily."

Kreiser Lends Aid With Wisconsin Song

MADISON, Wis.—(AP)—Fritz Kreiser, the violinist, and Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, president of Wisconsin university are working on a hymn to the glory of Wisconsin.

The melody and lyrics already have been written once, but the authors decline to have the work performed publicly until they are convinced they cannot make further improvements.

The new song grew out of a conversation in Washington while Dykstra was on leave of absence as first administrator of selective service. The talk turned to music and Dykstra declared Wisconsin could use another song, providing it was a good one.

"Why don't you and I get together, Fritz?" he asked. "You write the melody and I'll write the words."

"We'll do it," Kreiser said. After Dykstra had completed his job as draft director he returned Madison. It wasn't long before he received a manuscript from Kreiser with a notation that the music needed some polishing, but the phrasing was there and he should get busy on the words.

Dykstra is pretty handy on the piano and the melody furnished an inspiration for the lyrics. In 1859 the university of North Carolina had the second largest student body in America.

Market Problems Will Be Discussed At Co-Op Institute

An institute for Texas cooperatives will be conducted at the college on August 10, 11, and 12, according to J. Wheeler Barger, head of the department of agricultural Economics, who is also serving as chairman of the program committee.

The institute will be attended by representative leaders of all types of cooperative associations in the state. These associations include marketing groups for all types of farm commodities, such as cotton, wheat, rice, dairy products, vegetables, peanuts, livestock, wool and mohair, and citrus fruits. Included also are cooperatives dealing with rural electrification, purchasing supplies, insurance, hospitalization, credit and other services.

A few national leaders in the cooperative movement have been invited to appear on the program for special addresses. These include Murray D. Lincoln, president of the Cooperative League of the United States; Ezra T. Benson, executive secretary of the National Council of Farmers Cooperatives; and S. D. Sanders, cooperative bank commissioner of the Farm Credit Administration.

The Institute program will be devoted principally to discussions of problems of efficient operation and services, by various cooperative leaders of Texas.

The Texas Federation of Cooperatives is sponsoring the institute. Attendance will be open, however, to anyone who wishes to attend, stated Barger.
