The Corps is still talking about the past glorious weekend. Everyone seems happy and pleased over the outcome. Bobby Stephens and L. D. Boone of the Student Activities report it was one of the largest crowds ever to attend a dance on this campus. Franklin's and Navie's report the biggest weekends in history, having to turn away hundreds of potential fun-lovers. While Uncle Ed, who hung out the Standing Room Only sign at ten o'clock both nights, had to extend his curb service half way over the C. E. Field. Of course all hotels, tourist courts, and private homes were filled to capacity. In fact, Scalpers were selling hotel rooms for $5.00 a night.

Yes sir, it will be many weeks before Aggieland fully recovers from the past weekend. Incidentally, the various Profs over the campus report that class attendance fell 65% over the period of two days, and the hospital looked like a Home for Aged Men when Dorothy Lamour was in town. . . I'm still sleepy.

This correspondent happened to over-see one of the most amusing incidents of the year Saturday night. Among the bird dogs and sweaters in front of the hand stand stood one of the daintiest, cutest, sweetest little chunks of flesh and bone we have ever had the pleasure of seeing on the campus. Some of the fellows said he was masculine while the general consensus was that he must have been feminine. You know the type. We see them along about every Thanksgiving. Anyhow, the sweet thing made a remark about how much better Ina's band was in comparison with the Aggieland Orchestra. Simultaneously three khaki-kad kadets turned, picked him graciously up, whisked him out the gate, and on into the darkness. At intermission his date was still looking for him.

Miss Hutton, who without a doubt possesses one of the finest chasms ever reviewed in "these hjar parts," also boasts one of the finest guitarists in the business—Jack Purcell. For the benefit of the girls . . . the male vocalist was Stuart Foster, a handsome stack of beautiful ballads, that really knew how to put them over.

Dean Jagger. This is a woman's picture—the story of a ballerina dancer who is loved by three men. The first, is Conrad Veidt, a retired actor whom she marries in gratitude after he makes her famous as a dancer. The second is a staid and solid American multi-millionaire who makes her promise never to dance again. She breaks her promise, but they are reconciled when their child is born. The third lover is the one she really loved but never married.

The dancing scenes are the best; dramatic ones are weakest. All in all its pretty entertaining with an out-of-ordinary story that proves interesting to most viewers. The Lowdown:—fair production of a unique story.

Announcements

CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES—All candidates for degrees to be conferred Sept. 19th, 1942 are called to attend a meeting in the Chemistry lecture room tonight (August 13, 1942) at 7:00 p. m. The meeting will be short. Important matters must be acted upon and announcements made. By order of President T. O. Walton. E. P. Humbert, Chairman.

To Engineering Department Heads and Professors: The Library has received as gifts from departments on the campus vols. 1, 5, and 8 of Scholmann's "Illustrated technical dictionaries in six languages . . ." We would be pleased to receive as transfers or gifts the other volumes of this 17 vol. set.—(Mrs.) A. A. Barnard, Acquisitions Librarian.

HORTICULTURE MAJORS are reminded that there will be a watermelon cutting about eight o'clock Thursday evening at the farm. Bring your dues and ball-playing shoes.

A letter from the Fitch company reminds us that the advance scouts are counting on heavy voting from this part of the state to put the Aggieland on the Bandwagon next month. Run up to the gate during your next period off and vote for the boys. By the way, they are being backed over the state by the various Ex-Aggie and Mothers Clubs.

Thirty-Second Notes Among the many visitors Saturday night was the former Aggieland leader Don Hackney. "Albino" you will remember as having played one of the finest saxes in the South. . . Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Boone were seen in the seething mass Friday night proudly inspecting "The Grove". It's a definite achievement and deserves all of the credit given it.

Curley Brient knows now why his boys played inspired music Friday. Besides singing the Fitch Bandwagon Theme Song to them before the dance, the boys also had their one and only admiring them from the dance floor, WE hope.

To those of you that have been complaining how small and rough the dance floor was, let me leave this thought . . . just be thankful that you can dodge the stags and other dancers instead of bombs and machine-gun bullets.

Openings in Civil Service Announced

Civil Service announcements of the opening for the positions of Junior Assistants Professional have been received by Dr. L. G. Jones of the Agronomy Department.

Only college graduates and senior students who will complete their course of study by September 30, are eligible to take the examination.

Junior Assistant Professional positions pay $2,000 a year although vacancies exist at $1,800, $1,620, and $1,440 a year which will be filled by persons willing to accept these salaries.

Appointments are known as War Service Appointments and will be for the duration of the war. Application may be made through the United States Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C., and application blanks may be secured thru any first or second class post-office.

A general examination is given to determine the applicants general knowledge and the aptitude for learning. Appointees will be placed on the Civil Service eligible list from which the thirty or forty bureaus in the Civil Service Commission will draw candidates for professional, sub-professional, technical, semi-technical or clerical work requiring specialized knowledge in connection with various governmental activities in the war program.

Students are not required to be majors in any particular field, however, qualified persons are particularly desired in the fields of public and business administration, economics, library science, and mathematics through calculus.

It's a long stretch from first violin to fourth down, but Donald C. Greason, artist, has successfully bridged the gap.

Greason, whose studies of the Boston Symphony orchestra won him fame, has concluded a folio of paintings and drawings made on the "playing fields of Harvard."

Greason sees no incongruity between his choice of subjects, Grace and Rhythm, he says, are as characteristic of football as they are of playing the viola.

A portable alcoholmeter to be used in determining degrees of drunkenness, invented by two Yale university scientists, has been accepted by Connecticut state police.

Walter Garth Made Specialist In Extension Service

Appointment of Walter Garth, Jr., of Sanford, Maine, as specialist in mohair and wool has been announced by Director H. H. Williamson of the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service. He is employed jointly on a full time basis by the Extension Service and the Texas Mohair Grading committee. He will work with W. R. Nisbet, extension sheep and goat specialist, toward establishing mohair grades and assisting growers in perfecting an action program. With Nisbet, he will meet with the grading committee at Rocksprings on August 7 to lay plans for the season's work. Buster Halbert of Sonora is chairman of the committee.

The angora goat raisers of Texas, producers of mohair, for several seasons have been developing a program designed to promote grading and marketing of mohair on Garth to conduct grading in the fall of 1940, and again in the spring and fall of 1941, but hereafter he will devote his full time to mohair and wool marketing work.

"Approximately 17,000,000 lbs. of mohair—mostly grown in Texas—normally finds its way into clothing, upholstery, drapery, carpets, and other fabrics yearly," Nisbet said in indicating the scope of Garth's work. "Mohair is a textile fibre of superior qualities, and its production should remain the basis of an important industry in Texas.

"An aggressive marketing program is essential to safeguarding its present position, as well as to finding new uses for the fibre."

Farthest outpost of the University of Minnesota is a weather station in Tucson, Arizona.

Students of Loyola university of the South (New Orleans) have quit kicking about examinations. The Rev. R. Jerome Mullin, S.J., gave his philosophy class a lone question for their examination. They groaned. Then he told them to consult their text books and notes, and to use the library for reference. They felt better. Then he said, "Hand in your papers in two days."
