get sick from any other kind. You can see, he's very spoiled. Ghillia had a job once. A friend of my father's who was in the rubber business made a certain kind of rubber dog bone, and he wanted to test it. He had Ghillia chew on it, and for this he paid Ghillia a pound of dog meat. The job lasted for three or four weeks—with options!"

Government Service Needs Technicians In Washington, DC

For the third time this year the United States Civil Service Commission is holding an examination to recruit college seniors and graduates for Federal war work. This examination is for the benefit of college students who will complete their courses in the summer session. Applicants are particularly desired in the fields of public administration, business administration, library science, economics, statistics, and mathematics thru calculus. Graduates and senior students who will finish their college course by September 30 may apply. Applications must be filed by August 27 with the Commission's Washington, D. C., office.

Nursing education consultants are needed to cooperate with national agencies on nursing education problems in administering training funds appropriated for training nurses in national defense, and to give consultation service to schools of nursing. Positions are in the Public Health Service and pay from $2,600 to $4,600 a year. Registered nurses who have completed a course in a recognized college with a full program in advanced nursing education of at least a year, and also graduated from an accredited school of nursing with a daily average of 100 or more patients, may apply if they have had appropriate experience.

Additional medical technicians are being sought. Salaries range from $1,440 a year for junior laboratory helper, to $2,000 for senior medical technician. Under the new requirements, graduation from high school is no longer necessary. Completion of an approved course for clinical laboratory technicians may be substituted for 2 years of

"They All Kissed the Bride"

Joan Crawford, rug-cutter! With Allen Jenkins as her partner, the glamorous star swings into the groove in Columbia's hectic new romantic comedy, "They All Kissed the Bride," in which she co-stars with Melvyn Douglas at the Campus Theatre. The attraction will be shown at the midnight show Saturday and will play through Sunday and Monday. The score is directed by Alexander Hall.

country. A favorite in the Mural room of the Baker Hotel in Dallas, and the St. Francis in Frisco, Sudy has fiddles instead of trumpets and uses them to a good advantage. The Coast should reconsider. Other bands in the very far offing are Horace Henderson, and Claude Hopkins, both colored swing bands (and both good), and Tommy Reynolds, a white-boy that could if he came down here pull a Boyd Raeburn on us. Remember how Boyd, little known at the time, came down for the Composite Ball in '41, and has become a campus favorite since? Agents are expected on the campus shortly to try to make something definite according to Lawrence Boone of the Student Activities office. We are waiting—meanwhile let's vote for the Aggiedland and the Fitch Band Wagon, what do you say!

Then there's this classic "pome" from the Dubuque U. Cue: Wabbits have a funny face, Their private life is a disgrace O'd be surprised if oo but knew The awful things that wab-bets do. And often, too.

The required experience for all positions. A clinical laboratory internship of 12 months in a recognized hospital may be substituted for 12 months of the required experience.

Geologists are desired for geologic mapping and studying of mineral deposits and ground waters. Positions pay $2,000 a year. Applicants must show at least 30 semester hours' work in geology in a recognized college; graduates or senior students may apply. No experience is necessary.

There are no age limits for any of these positions. For Nursing Education Consultant, Medical Technician, and Geologist, there will be no written test; applicants will be rated on their experience and training. Applications must be filed with the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., and except for Junior Professional Assistant, will be accepted until the needs of the service have been met.

Full information as to the requirement, and application forms, may be obtained from College Station, Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at the post office or customhouse in this city, or from the Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners at first and second-class post offices.

Fish & Game Club Eat Melon With Dr Taylor

All Fish and Game majors and minors who plan to attend the watermelon party Monday night will meet at the water fountain just in front of the new mess hall immediately after supper.

The watermelon party will be held in the back yard at the home of Dr. W. P. Taylor, head of the Fish and Game department and the group will go there immediately upon assembling. Dr. Taylor lives in South Oakwood at 113 Lee avenue and those who expect to attend are requested to leave their names on the list outside the Fish and Game office before Monday noon in order that they may get their share of watermelon.

University of Connecticut enrollment has jumped from slightly over 1,400 students to 1,700, setting a new record.

East Texas Forest Fires Help Axis

A lot of East Texans are helping the Axis whether they know it or not, was the opinion expressed by W. E. White, vice director of the A. & M. forest service in charge of forest fire protection today after he had analyzed the fire report for the pineywoods region covering the first six months of the year. More than 2,200 forest fires have burned 117,000 acres of privately-owned timberland in East Texas, the report showed.

Fires have occurred in merchantable or potential timber stands, and instances were reported of damage to standing timber which the government has declared of No. 1 vital importance and which forest industries are making an all-out effort to produce for needed Army construction right here in the state.

Incendiarism, smokers and field burning accounted for 90 percent of the blazes during the six-month period. Other causes were all in minor amounts.

White said that it was hard to see how patriotic East Texans who were buying bonds, collecting scrap materials and doing war work could stand idly by and permit their forest resources which the government is needing in astronomical amounts to be damaged by carelessness or intent.

Secretary of Agriculture Wickard in a nation-wide radio broadcast said, "Every fire in our fields or forests this year is an enemy fire. It makes no difference if a great forest blaze is started by enemy action or by the carelessness of an otherwise loyal American."

President Roosevelt has directed several government agencies and the Office of Civilian Defense to supplement protective measures of the armed branches in the anti-sabotage program on forests. A bill is now before Congress to amend the Anti-Sabotage act of 1918 to include "forest products and suitable standing timber" as "war materials".

Student Boy Scouts Organize Senior Troop

The Boy Scouts of America have approved the organization of a senior scout troop for the students of A. & M., said Louis White, Field Artillery.

"Aggie Rover Club" has been taken as a name to identify the club. Meetings are held every first and third Monday nights. All of those interested in becoming a member of this troop are requested to contact White, room 224, dorm 17.

The next court of honor will be held on September 11, when scouts from five counties will gather on the campus for a day's program. Listen for radio announcements of the next meeting.
