

Fish to Play Camp Hood

BATTALION Sports

Ags Picked to Lose and Tie By Visiting Sports Writers

By Mike Haikin
Battalion Sports Editor

Aggies to Triumph, 7-0; Also Picking Texas University and Baylor Games Today

The feature of the conference this afternoon is, of course, in our own back yard—namely the A.&M.-T.C.U. battle on Kyle Field. Experts regard this melee as an adequate indicator as to who will wear the Southwest Conference crown come December.

While all this is going on, there are two other battles taking place this afternoon. Texas university travels all the way to Little Rock to meet the down-trodden Arkansas Razorbacks who are still seeking their first conference victory in 12 starts. Baylor travels to Lubbock to meet the Texas Tech Raiders.

Well, here I go again sticking my neck out on these conference games. At least it doesn't cost anything to prognosticate these tilts, so here we go!

Texas A&M 7, TCU 0—The battle of the year. TCU's Emery Nix versus A&M's Lightnin' Leo Daniels in what should be one of the finest passing duels of the year. The Frogs' running game has been the main feature of Coach Dutch Meyer's charges, but after the splendid defensive exhibition by the Aggie line against Corpus Christi last week, I figure a sweet win for Coach Homer Norton's victory-hungry Cadets! Anyway, TCU is favored and that's a disadvantage that is hard to overcome!

TEXAS UNIVERSITY 13 ARKANSAS 0—If somebody was nuts and wanted to make a good sucker out of the bookies, here would be a chance to pick the biggest upset of the year. I've got a hunch that

Good Shape After Allen Grid Fray

The Texas Aggie freshman football squad will play their second game of the season as they meet the 368th Tank Destroyer Battalion team Wednesday at 3 p. m. on Kyle Field. The visiting team is part of the contingent stationed at Camp Hood which is at Killeen, Texas. Their team is coached by Lt. Severn Stargynski, and very little is known of the material on their team. It is quite possible that some Aggies are playing on the team, since there are a number stationed at Camp Hood. Capt. J. W. (Dough) Rollins, great ex-Aggie coach is stationed there and would be eligible to play if he so desired.

The Aggie Fish looked good in their 25-8 triumph over the Allen Academy team Wednesday. Coach Lil Dimmitt was well satisfied with the team's showing, and praised Marion Flanagan and Beryl Baty's playing. Flanagan scored all the touchdowns, one was by a pass from Baty and one on a 95-yard kickoff return. Baty's brilliant passing sparked three of the touchdowns. Standouts of the line for the Fish were Ernest Genthner, end, and George Strohmeyer.

Dean Kyle Receives Redoption of Text

Dean Kyle went before the State Textbook Commission in Austin Monday and received a two year redooption of his elementary text on Agriculture, "Fundamentals of Farming and Farm Life." This text is used in the sixth and seventh grades in the public schools. It was first adopted in 1912, and, therefore has been in use by public schools for thirty years.

The book is published by Charles Scribner's Sons and there have been close to 250,000 copies used in Texas.

The Great Lakes "Hoodoo Ship", wrecked tanker J. Oswald Boyd, has gone to scrap.

Saturday Morning, October 17, 1942 Page 3

All-Conference Material

Willie Zapalac

The former Belville high school scoring ace hasn't gone in so much for making touchdowns at Aggie land but he has been responsible for clearing many a path to that promised land on the gridiron. Unheralded and overlooked in most pre-season All-Conference selections, Zapalac has proven to be one of the standouts on the Aggie team. Today the Aggies hope to get back on that comeback trail when they clash against the undefeated, untied TCU Horned Frogs, and if they accomplish that tedious task, you can bet your life that Zapalac will have had played an important cog in the deed. The Frogs are in for plenty of headaches when they encounter the hard-hitting Aggie blocker!

TCU Scribe Gives Froggies Edge In Today's Big Fracas

By Ruth Ridings (TCU)
We Horned Frogs are sticklers for figures (we're referring to statistics, at the moment, Aggies.) So before making any predictions as to the final score of today's grid battle between the Texas Christian Horned Frogs and the Texas Aggies, let's take a look at the season's standings of the two teams to date.

Both the Horned Frogs and the Aggies have played three games so far this season. The Horned Frogs (ahem) won all of theirs. Thus T. C. U. has a percentage of 1.000. The Aggies managed to win one of their games, giving A. & M. a percentage of .333. (Tack a 1/3 onto that if you want to be technical.)

If you want some more statistics we can dish 'em out. The T. C. U. team managed to score a total of 61 points in their three games. The opponents' scores total 18.

As for the A. & M. team, they scored a total of 33 points in their three games. The opponents' total is 34.

So, on the basis of those figures given above, this writer picks the Texas Christian Horned Frogs to beat the Aggies today.

Not on the basis of statistics alone do we pick the Froggies to win, though. There's that matter of T. C. U.'s having more than its share of good players this year. Emery Nix, Dean Bagley, and Beacher "Beachnut" Montgomery are all standouts in the quarterback position. And judging from Beachnut's showing against the K. U. Jayhawks last Saturday, he's one player the Aggies had better watch.

We could go on naming good Horned Frog players. There's Drummond (Smokey) Slover, at right end, and Co-captain Derrell Palmer, the Horned Frogs' gift to All-American (I betcha), at right tackle. And on and on into the night.

If the Horned Frogs do win the game today, and I'm predicting

A 7-7 Deadlock Is Predicted By Baylor U Writer

By Bill Duncan (Baylor University)
"To be or not to be" champions for figures (we're referring to statistics, at the moment, Aggies.) So before making any predictions as to the final score of today's grid battle between the Texas Aggies on Kyle Field. (Whatever the outcome, it is sure to find the Baylor Bears at the bottom of the list—Inserted by a jealous Aggie.)

From the professional sports-writers' point of view the Frogs are slated to win, but that goes without saying. Texas Christian, up to date, stands at the top of the conference list, but for the past two days I have been observing the real "Spirit of Aggie land." That spirit may mean the game.

I have probably led you to believe that the winner of today's game will be Southwest Conference champions. I didn't, but if you think I did I'll contradict myself. If the Aggies win today, I predict the Baylor Bears to be champions. But if the Frogs win, Baylor will take her place as second in the conference.

I predict the game today will be a tie, A. & M. 7, TCU Horned Frogs, 7.

Meatless and fishless Wednesday in Washington's 52 government cafeterias are expected to save over six tons of the two products weekly.

Georgetown university, founded in 1789, is the oldest in Washington D. C., and the oldest Catholic college in the United States.

they will, I'm willing to take on all bets that T. C. U. will win the Southwest Conference this season.

Today's score? I'm not saying. But I do say that the T. C. U. Horned Frogs will take the Texas Aggies by at least one touchdown.

POP SHAW'S
Will Be Open on Sunday
From Now On
Remember the Place
Back of Leggett Hall

those Razorbacks of Arkansas University are going to be ready for their game with OU last week. The fact that the game is going to be played at Little Rock, where the Aggies almost met their Waterloo a year ago, isn't going to do the Longhorns any good. However inspired the Porkers may be, though, I just can't figure on a victory for George Cole's lads. They haven't shown any semblance of scoring punch in their three games and it's a bet that they won't start today. It's Texas University by two touchdowns, but I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

BAYLOR 20, TEXAS TECH 6—The Bears are heavy favorites to cop this tilt, so according to dope so far they should lose. They have yet to do what experts expect them to do. However, after viewing the Raiders weak offensive against the Aggies a few weeks ago, I can't see how Baylor will lose. Give the Bears a two-touchdown nod.

Other Picks of the Day; Taking Michigan U Over Northwestern Wildcats

Here's a flock of games over the nation: Michigan over Northwestern in a close tilt, Iowa Navy over Notre Dame by a couple of touchdowns, Illinois over Iowa in a squeeze (close enough for a tie), Ohio State over Purdue despite the latter's 7-6 upset win over Northwestern last week, Wisconsin to upset Great Lakes Naval Base (our long shot of the day), Alabama to continue undefeated at the expense of Tennessee, Georgia Tech over Davidson, Minnesota to get back in its winning ways against Nebraska (I hope!), UCLA over California but don't bet on that one, Oklahoma over Kansas, Iowa State over Drake, Georgia over Tulane (this is the Greenies' "out" week since they were "in" last Saturday against Rice), Mississippi to pull the unexpected against LSU, Mississippi State over Vanderbilt (Another surprise), Missouri over Kansas State (I'll hit that one if nothing else), Washington State over Southern Cal and Santa Clara over Oregon State.

Life-Savers to Meet Mon at 9 PM; Ushers To Be Ready at One

All students interested in Senior Life Saving report to the P. L. Downs Natatorium Monday at 9 p. m., according to an announcement by Art Adamson, swimming coach. All frogs wishing to go out for fish swimming team report to the Natatorium at 6 p. m. Monday. Football ushers are to report for duty at 1 p. m. today.

An average tire contains as much rubber as 55 goggles for the Army Air Corps.

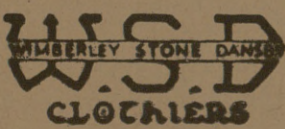

MANSFIELDS
In a Military Manner

You'll be right on the beam with these famed-for-wear MANSFIELDS.

As military as a "drill sergeant" and built to "dish out" comfort like an old house shoe. A handsome hunk of leather for any type of wear.

$6.50 to $7.50

Other New Oxfords
$5.95 to $11.00

SHOE DEPT.
B. C. Allen, Owner
College and Bryan

SENIORS...

ORDER YOUR ICE CREAM SLACKS NOW

SOPHOMORES AND FISH...

WINTER IS ON THE WAY, SO NOW IS THE TIME TO GET THAT EXTRA PAIR OF SLACKS

Uniform Tailor Shop

MENDL AND HORNACK NORTH GATE

INTRAMURAL HIGHLITES

by Mike Mann

By Pokie Platzer
TSCW Sports Writer

Neck-and-neck-a good term for most all sports-is an expression that can be applied to Bill Dreiss and Dick Gillette of B Coast Artillery. Scoring eight points each they led their team to a 37-10 victory over 3rd Headquarters in a Class A basketball game.

Field Artillery, in another Class A basketball game, scored a 17-6 victory over A Quartermasters. 2nd Headquarters Field defeated B Ordinance by a score of 20-11.

FORFIET DOGHOUSE
CLASS A
B Infantry, tennis
K Infantry, tennis

Scoring once in each quarter of a class B football game, 7th Corps Headquarters freshmen trounced 1st Headquarters Field Artillery 26-0. Two games ended in scoreless ties with the winner being decided by 20-yard line penetrations. D replacement Center took C Engineers by having two penetrations to one for the Engineers. A Signal Corps pierced the E Infantry 20-yard strip to win the game as the Infantry boys failed to scratch.

In a Class B basketball match F Coast Artillery ploughed under C Field Artillery team by a score of 32-10. Leading the group was high point man S. L. Williams of

Infantry Band Gets Football Sign Prize

The Infantry Band this week was winner of $5 for the best freshman football sign of the week.

J. E. Loupot, class of '32, awards $2.50 for the best sign of each week. This week $5 was the prize because no awards were made for the first two games.

Cadet Colonel Walter Cardwell and the lieutenant-colonels of each regiment are judges for the contests. At the end of the season $25 will be awarded for the best sign of the season.

The University of Michigan is offering courses in Siamese and Malay.

Six thousand Boy Scouts recently were admitted to a Brooklyn Dodgers ball game in return of six tons of scrap.

AGGIES

LET'S

BEAT

THOSE

FROGS

TODAY

LOUPOT'S
Trading Post

GIG THOSE FROGS, AGGIES

THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR QUALITY MILITARY CLOTHING AND EQUIPMENT

- UNIFORMS
- HATS
- SHOES
- SHIRTS
- SLACKS
- INSIGNIAS
- TRENCH COATS

Our Stock Includes Only Those Articles That Are

Nationally Known

THE EXCHANGE STORE

"An Aggie Institution"