Announcements

SAILORS, MARINES and their wives—you are invited to a party at the First Baptist Church, College Station, at 2000 o'clock Halowe'en (8 p.m. October 31st).

I am in receipt of the announcement of 1943 fellowships offered by the Julius Rosenwald Fund to white Southerners who wish to work on some problem distinctive to the South and who expect to make their careers in the South. Candidates must be eligible to graduate study and from 24 to 35 years of age. The grants are available not only to students of the natural and social sciences and the humanities, but to those interested in the fine arts, journalism, education, agriculture, business, or public service. Further information may be had by calling my office. T. D. Brooks, Dean, The Graduate School.

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES—The last day on which students may apply for their degree will be Monday, November 2. This applies to both graduate and undergraduate students. If you have not already done so you should call the Registrar's Office immediately and file your application. R. G. Perryman, Assistant Registrar.

MARINES AND SAILORS! Attention! The adults of the First Baptist Church, College Station, are entertaining the Marines and Sailors and their wives and friends Saturday evening at 8:00 p.m. at the Church. A cordial invitation is extended to all who desire to attend.

Marines Complete 167 Years Of Exciting and Daring History

The United States Marine Corps on November 10 will round out 167 years of faithful service to the people of America during which time the Marines have made more than 180 landings on foreign shores. The anniversary of the Marine Corps again finds the Leathernecks scattered throughout the world battling with unequalled ferocity to uphold their reputation as the "fightin'est" service of them all.

Throughout its long history of ever faithful service to the nation, there is hardly a year in which the Soldiers of the Sea have not carried Old Glory ashore in the name of Uncle Sam, either to protect American lives and property, or to carry out some form of naval enterprise in the best interests of our government. No matter what the occasion—when or where—the action of the Marines has been that of valiant exploits and glorious victory.

Never have the Leathernecks retreated and all opponents have found that a fight with Marines is a fight to the finish. Such a fight was Wake Island. Against that gallant little garrison of 378 men the Japanese pitted an armada of 12 ships and scores of bombers. After 15 days of steady pressure, the physically exhausted Marines were overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers, but there was victory in their defeat. Those Marines could lift bloody heads from sandy foxholes and that tiny, tree-studded island and count the shattered hulks of a light cruiser, three destroyers, a gun boat, a submarine, not to mention the bodies of hundreds of Japanese seamen and soldiers.

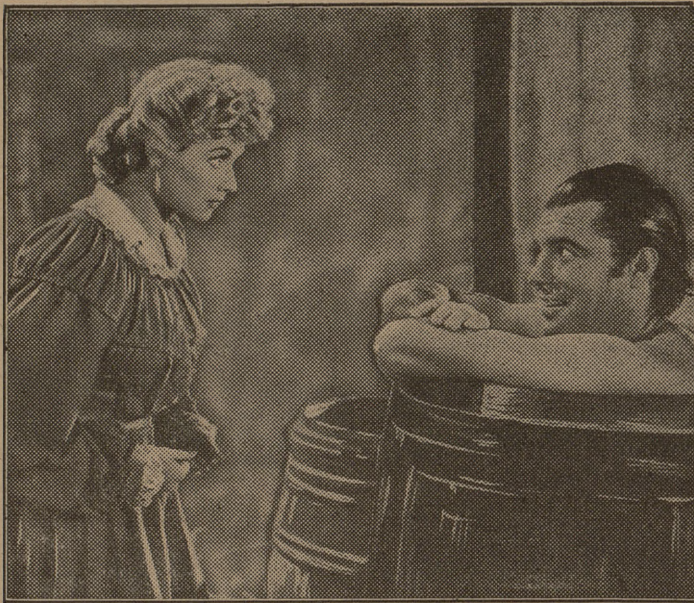

It is men of the Wake Island breed who have made wearing of the globe, anchor and eagle a badge of courage and tenacity for 167 years. To a Marine his uniform is something to be worn with pride and a little extra snap for it stands for all those men before—all those men who have fought for the Corps since Captain Samuel Nicholas conducted the first landing operation March 3, 1776—before the Declaration of Independence.

Today finds the Marines in every quarter of the globe fighting for the ideals of Democracy. The Marine Corps has grown from a small band of hardy patriots into one of the greatest fighting forces in the world. The American Marine has been put to the test countless times and has never been found wanting. His versatility, trustworthiness, singleness and tenacity of purpose, discipline, courage and self sacrifice have been proven throughout history.

On November 10 a grateful nation will pay tribute to the Marine Corps. America knows its record of achievements and it knows the Marines will carry on as they have always—first to fight for right and freedom and to keep America's, as well as their own, honor clean.

AN UNEXPECTED VISITOR!—Bewilderment upsets Lucille Ball's mental poise when she discovers James Craig taking a hasty bath in her drinking water in a humorous scene from RKO Radio's thrilling story of the great Southwest "Valley of the Sun" co-starring Lucille Ball and James Craig and featuring Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Dean Jagger, Peter Whitney, Bill Gilbert, Tom Tyler and Antonio Moreno, at the Palace, beginning at the Saturday night preview, and showing Sunday and Monday.

last appearance on this campus, at least for the duration. If you like music that is extremely danceable, as well as easy on the ears, please don't miss him. During this appearance Rayburn's only drawback seems to be that his repertoire includes too many tunes on the fast side and not enough ballads. This is purely from the dancer's standpoint, while from the average musician's viewpoint Raeburn sports a fine style and spikes it with just enough novelties to please the average crowd.

In the vocal department Boyd has changed his policy of using only male entertainers, and now boasts of a comely fem warbler by the name of Louise Raymond. Of the opposite sex Ted Travers tries miserably to fill the shoes of the band's ex-male vocalist, Hal Derwin, who is now appearing with Les Brown and his orchestra, but at the same time he possesses just enough of that certain stuff to keep up the well known Raeburn standard. See you tonight at the Victory Corps Dance.

These things always seem to be bobbing up in his conversation. "The cooperation which we coaches receive from the student body is a great contributing factor to whatever success we have. I don't believe there is a place in the nation where I could go and fail to find an ex-students' club."

That's... Coach Homer Norton... and we'll just add this: Win, lose, or draw the Aggies know they have THE championship team—Number 1 in the nation... they'll always be that to us. So don't worry about that fan mail, Coach—let the grousches "holler"...

Radio Waves Vital In Fusing of Tin

Radio waves broadcast from a ten-foot length of coiled copper tubing today demonstrated their ability to produce a smooth, shiny, corrosion-resisting finish on tin plate urgently needed to pack food for the nation's armed forces.

Harnessed to save dwindling supplies of war-scarce tin, the radio waves—200,000 a second—put a mirror-like finish on a strip of dull, pitted tin plate in less time than it takes to draw a deep breath.

Guest Scholars Are Back From Mexico City

Six American college men have returned home after completing courses at the University of Mexico summer school, where they were guest scholars at the expense of the university and the co-ordinator of inter-American affairs in Washington.

The six won a nation-wide speaking contest last spring which was sponsored by the co-ordinator's office. More than 250,000 students in 352 colleges and universities competed.

At the end of the summer term, they were congratulated by the head of the school, Sr. Don Martinez del Rio, who said, in part: "We feel that the contest which you won, particularly the knowledge of Central and South America which you have acquired, will tend to cement the relations of the countries of this hemisphere."

The winners were: James J. Rathbun, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.; Ted Groenke, De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind.; Tom Klink, Pacific university, Forest Grove, Ore.; John Lewis, Stetson university, DeLand, Fla.; Joe E. Sterling, University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla.; and Jack McComb, Syracuse university, Syracuse, N.Y.
