Aggies Take on Pass-Minded SMU Mustangs Today

Corps Deserts Campus for Big D

Only Scattering of Aggies On College Station Campus

Corps and Dates To Sit on East Side Of Stadium; Clubs Expect Big Crowds

By John Holman

From Main Street to the Northwest Highway, today in Dallas is Aggie day, for the 6500 man cadet corps of A. & M. has descended upon the big city on the Trinity like bees flocking to their hive, and this afternoon will swarm into the oval that is Ownby Stadium to lend the support for which the Aggie Twelfth Man is famous to the boys in maroon and white that will lock horns with the Mustangs of S. M. U.

This morning, and even yesterday afternoon, the Aggie campus in College Station looked like a deserted ghost town, occasionally crossed by some G. I. adorned sophomore or freshman slipping away from the grasp of desolate class-rooms and roll calls.

Instead, the pavements and night spots of Dallas are echoing to the laughter splattered footsteps of hooky-playing schoolboys, intent on making this, the last corps trip for the duration, an event to be remembered in years to come. And even though the college authorities could not, due to transportation difficulties, make this an official corps trip, the decision of whether to be in Dallas today or not was left entirely up to the individual.

Many Private Proms

Most of the corps was gone by noon yesterday, the Juniors having authorized absences to attend the annual TSCW Junior prom in Denton, but even though there was nothing official about them, gay indeed were the hundreds of private parties (See CORPS TRIP, Page 4)

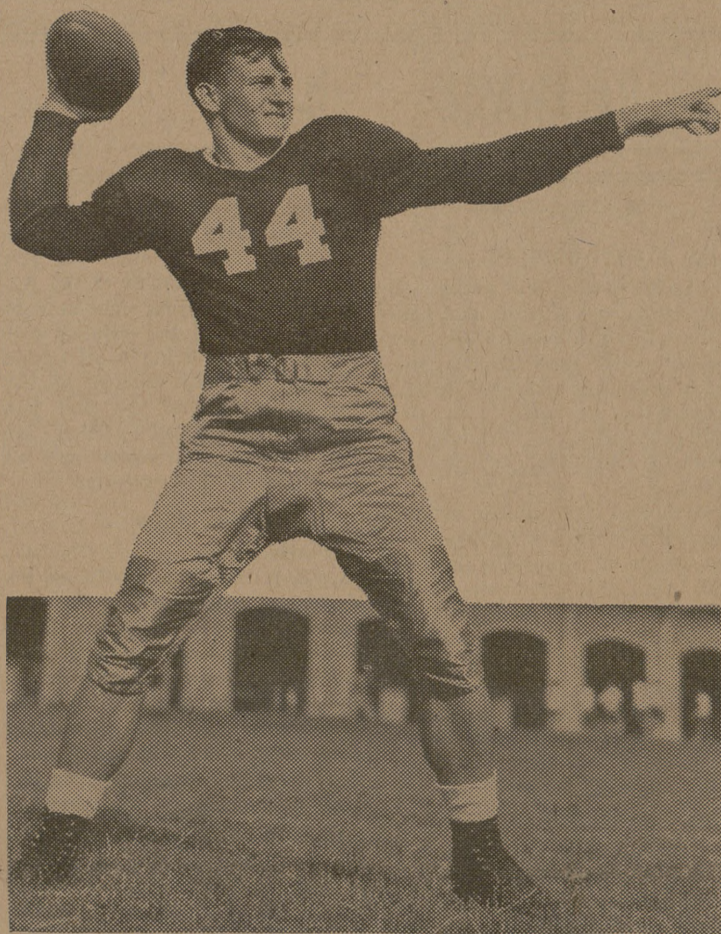

Mother's Club Holds Aggie Dance at the Adolphus Saturday

Admission Price is $1.10 Proceeds Go to Pay For Kiest Lounge Finishings

The Dallas A. & M. Mother's Club is having a dance Saturday night after the S. M. U. game in the Main Ballroom at the Adolphus Hotel. The admission will be $1.10 a couple the same as a regular Saturday night corps dance.

Every Aggie that attends this dance will be benefited in more ways than one. The Dallas A. & M. Mother's Club is helping to pay for the lounge in the north end of dormitory two, and the proceeds of this dance will be used for that purpose.

Since this will probably be the last football season for the duration of the war, every Aggie should try to make the trip to Dallas to see A. & M. smear S. M. U.

Daniels

The leading passer of the Southwest Conference is expected to spark the Aggies on to victory this afternoon against the SMU Mustangs at Ownby Stadium. Daniels has been the top Aggie ground gainer as well as flinger and he is due to utilize on that advantage today. He hasn't yet hit his top form but when he does, opponents will certainly know of it. Aggies and Coaches Homer Norton and Bill James hope that it will be this afternoon, against the Ponies!

Leo Daniels Expected To Match Wits With Red Shaw

Ownby Stadium to Be Scene of Thrilling Battle; Kickoff Is Set for 2:30 O'Clock

By Mike Haikin

DALLAS, November 7—Coach Homer Norton's Texas Aggies, finally hitting their stride last week after two doleful starts, will attempt to gain their second conference victory of the year when they collide with the pass-minded SMU Mustangs at Ownby Stadium this afternoon. Game time will be 2:30.

A capacity crowd of 25,000 football fans, including a throng of 3,000 Cadets, who followed their team by every available means of transportation is expected to be on hand to watch the Ponies and the Aggies battle it out for supremacy.

Passing Duel

But back to the game which promises to be one of the most thrilling affairs of the year. Both teams rely primarily on their passing game to get them anywhere and this afternoon, unless the weatherman decides otherwise, the scene of Ownby Stadium will be filled with aerials from one side to the other. The Ponies have three ace hurlers to throw against the Cadets and each is a dangerous man. Most prominent of the trio is Wayne (Red) Shaw, left-handed sophomore tosser, whose bullet-like passes have sparked the Mustangs in their two tilts.

Howard (Red) Maley, the ace sophomore flinger last year, has been on the injured list throughout the bigger part of the year but is due to see some action against the Aggies today according to word filtering out of Coach Jimmy Stewart's camp. The other passer is Abel (Frito) Gonzales, who also is one of the better Pony runners.

Daniels-Rogers Combination

On the Aggie side of the ledger, there's Lightnin' Leo Daniels, the top aerial artist of the conference who has Cullen Rogers, the lead- (See GAME, Page 3)

Cadet D. R. Sutherland will represent A. & M. College at the two youth forums at the State convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers in Houston, Wednesday and Thursday, November 18 and 19.

The theme of the meet is "Our Concern, Every Youth." Schools represented will be the University of Texas, Southern Methodist University, Texas Christian University, A. & M., Baylor University, Texas State College for Women, Rice Institute, Texas Technological College, the University of Houston, and the College of Arts and Industries.

Response to the youth workshop will be made by the presidents of these schools, or their representatives, at a round-table titled, "Do Our Colleges and Universities Prepare Youth for Life?" This will be conducted by Dr. R. S. Sutherland, director of Hogg Foundation, University of Texas.

Speakers for the convention include Mrs. Oveta Culp (W. R.) (See SUTHERLAND, Page 4)

Composite Dance Plans Being Made For Duncan Hall

First Time Ball Held In Duncan; Noble Sissle Is Featured With Orchestra

In the first regimental dance ever to be held in Duncan Hall, Aggies composing the Composite Regiment will dance to the music of Noble Sissle, popular orchestra leader, who is bringing with him the largest swing orchestra ever to play at Texas A. & M.

The dance is set for November 20, the same date as the Engineers Ball, which will be held in the main dining room of Sbis hall, and will be furnished music by Herb Miller. Sissle has only a one night engagement, and will leave early the next day after playing Friday night for the Composite Regiment. Herb Miller will remain to play for the corps dance Saturday night.

This will be the first engagement. (See COMPOSITE, Page 4)

Fish and Frogs Fill Vacancies At Year's First Meet

McWilliams is President; Plans for Ball Discussed; Welfare Officer Elected

A.&M.'s Assembly Hall was the scene of the recent Freshman class meeting held Wednesday night, Nov. 4. This, the first meeting of the semester of the class, saw the Frogs and Fish acting in harmony to solve their immediate problems. Even though the group was active throughout the meeting, it was apparent that the entire Freshman class was not present and a hope has been expressed by the officers that turnouts in the future will be much larger.

The main item on the evening's calendar was the election of a class welfare officer. This office was left vacant when all class officers moved up one notch, because the former president dropped out of school. Each officer moved up one place, leaving the aforementioned office vacant. The students nominated 20 cadets and when the final vote was taken, there was a tie between William Miller, B Signal Corps and Howard Oliver, A Signal Corps. The tie was run off and a final count found Oliver the victor. The other freshman officers elected last semester are C. Williams, president; Albert Orsinger, vice-president; W. J. Terrel, secretary; M. A. Coulter, treasurer; J. D. Thompson, historian.

The coming Fish ball, scheduled for January 9 was also discussed by President McWilliams. It is estimated that the assessment to class members will be about $1.25. This figure, however, is not definite and may be changed at a future date, at the discretion of the officers.
