Announcements

Since the postponement of the effective date for gasoline rationing makes transportation more readily available during the Thanksgiving period and makes it possible for many students to spend a few days at home, the Academic Council has extended the Thanksgiving holidays to include the period from 6 p.m. Wednesday, November 25, to 6 p.m. Sunday, November 29. The time missed is to be made up by holding classes, which are to consist primarily of written tests and quizzes, on three Saturday afternoons. The schedule will be as follows:

November 21—Thursday evening schedule
December 5—Friday afternoon schedule
December 12—Saturday morning schedule
Classes scheduled for 9 a.m. on Friday or Saturday are to meet at 2 p.m. on the respective afternoons; those for 10 a.m. will meet at 3 p.m., and so on.

NOTICE TO ALL CLUB PRESIDENTS—Because of certain deadlines that must be kept so that the Longhorn may be out on time, please have your club picture made by November 15. It is imperative that this deadline be met. There can not be any extension of time. The Student Activity office is holding a copy of Herald's Manual of Plant Diseases from the McGraw Hill Book Company. Will the department ordering this book please call for same?

NOTICE TO DEER HUNTERS—Due to the fact that we are slaughtering a large number of cattle for the dining hall, it is going to be impossible for the Meats Laboratory to accept any deer or wild turkey for storage and comply with the sanitation regulations relative to the inspection of the meat. C. E. Murphy.

Women Will Study for Just & Lasting Peace

While they work to help win the war, Texas' 46,000 home demonstration club women will study the Atlantic Charter to prepare for a just and lasting peace. This wartime study program was adopted by nearly 500 delegates attending a recent meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Ft. Worth.

The Association also gave considerable attention to nutrition. Members will make eating by the Texas Food Standard "a patriotic duty" in war-time and will demonstrate for families the benefits of better nutrition.

To promote maximum cooperation in the war program, the Association is asking all its members and their families to live by the Victory Demonstrator's pledge.

INTRAMURAL HIGHLIGHTS

by Mike Mann

Forfeits are still taking their toll in the ranks of teams entered in Aggie intramurals. According to Dewey Hoke, intramural department statistician, a total of 14 teams had been eliminated from their leagues because of excess forfeits. As the intramural season nears the halfway mark, nearly one-third of the teams have been disqualified on account of forfeits.

These teams which have been disqualified because of forfeits are:

threat in that Aggie backfield. There's Lightnin' Leo Daniels, the top passer of the conference who is expected to shower the air with footballs this afternoon. Cullen (Slick) Rogers, the leading pass receiver in the nation as well as the conference and the top Cadet scorer is another lad the Owls will have to keep their eye peeled for if they hope to get anywhere against the sudden-hitting Maroon attack.

And for defensive and extraordinary blocking ability, there's fiery Willie Zapalac who definitely has proven to be a mainstay of the Aggie team. The big Belleville blocker time and again has paved the path to the promised land and, today Coach Homer Norton places much hope on his ability to clear the way. He will be the co-captain of the game today along with end Bill Henderson.

In that hard-hitting Cadet forward wall, Norton places his hopes on Felix Bueck, one of the stand-out guards of the conference; Bill Henderson, phenomenal pass-snagging wingman; and Bill Sibley, center, to pave the way to victory. The rest of the line will include Elvis (Boots) Simmons at the other terminal; Wayne Cure and Henry Foldberg at tackles; and Ray Mulhollan at the other guard post.

For the Owls, it'll be Don Stephens and Virgil (Ike) Eikenberg who are expected to give the feathered flock that needed spark. Stephens is the power runner on the team while Eikenberg handles the passing chores.

Rice will go into this fray slightly favored to win, but the Ags, smarting under a two-game conference defeat, will be shooting the works in an effort to redeem their former prestige to its high rating. A win over the Owls undoubtedly would add much prestige to the Cadets.

And so it is today that the Maroon and White wearers of Aggie-gland climax their brilliant comeback trail. Victory naturally is the main objective but whether win, lose or draw this game should prove to be the top thriller of the Southwest Conference this year! It's a natural.

Turkey Growers Urged to Select Future Breeders

"It is only by selecting breeders now," says Geo. P. McCarthy, poultryman for the Extension Service, "that we can maintain the improvement which has been so pronounced during the past five or six years."

Texas turkey growers should select breeders for next year before all of their better birds have been sold.

Turkey hens which are showing heavy fleshing, especially across the breast and thighs, and have developed fat and feathered out well, including pin feathers, should be kept back as breeders, McCarthy explains. Producers should also be giving serious thought to buying

"Look, Boss Lady, You Knew When You Hired Me That I Couldn't Take Dictation!"—Fred MacMurray likes his job with boss Rosalind Russell, in their new Paramount picture, "Take a Letter, Darling," which comes to the Campus Theatre Thursday for three days, and who wouldn't. Fred's duties as private secretary to a brilliant advertising executive do not require a knowledge of shorthand and typing. Also in this romantic comedy are Macdonald Carey, Robert Benchley, Constance Moore and Cecil Kellaway.

point. Levermann attempted the conversion, but it was wide. The Slimes drove deep into Fish territory several times during the afternoon, but lacked the necessary scoring punch to penetrate the stout fish defense.

With only three minutes left to play in the first half, Gus White intercepted a Slime pass on his own 30 yard line, and raced back to the Slime 32 before being knocked out of bounds. On the next play, Haltom flipped a five yard pass to White who carried it all the way to the Slime one yard line before he was downed. The Fish were penalized 5 yards for too many time outs at this point. With time for only one play remaining, Haltom raced around his own left end behind excellent blocking to score.

The third quarter found the Slimes driving into Fish territory most of the time, but the needed punch was lacking. At one time they reached the 17 yard line, but the Fish halted the drive and took over on downs on the 20. Another drive carried to the four yard line where a field goal attempt was wide. George Strohmeier stood out for the Fish on defense.

With three minutes remaining in the game, and the score standing 6 to 6 the Fish had the ball on their own 12 yard line. Haltom dropped back and fired a long pass to Marion Flanagan who gathered in the pignskin on the Rice 44 yard line and raced down to the Slime 25 before being pulled down. Haltom drove through tackle for seven yards, and on the next play fired a pass to White in the end zone for a score. Strohmeier's conversion was good.

the ground but which shone like beacons from the air. His radio reports were received both in the plotting room and at the observation point on the dome of Old Main.

Within six minutes the city was completely blacked out, and from the Battalion observer's point of vantage no speck of light could be seen.

Meanwhile members of the WTAW staff were carrying a portable microphone from person to person and recording every phase of the new experience which the community was undergoing, and picking up side lights of human interest value.

When it appeared that total darkness had been achieved, the telephone operator was instructed to "sound the all clear." Within a few seconds three sharp blasts of the whistle told local citizens that they might once more light up their homes and enjoy the privilege of being American citizens far from the tortures and unpleasantness of the rest of the war-torn world.

toms to head up next year's breeding flocks. There is an excellent supply of good quality toms in Texas, especially in the broad-breast bronze strain, which may be bought from R. O. P. breeders. Growers buying hens or toms should see that they are pullorum-tested before putting them into breeding flocks.

Harvard students as "the actress least likely to succeed." The Aggie Cadet Corps promptly contended that Miss Sheridan had been grossly insulted and stated they would defend her honor in any arena—football, rifle shooting, or what have you.

The stand taken by the Aggies attracted nation-wide attention. In appreciation for Cadet opinion, Miss Sheridan wired for anyone concerned to look for her in the Aggie rooting section in the A. & M.—U. C. L. A. football game in the fall of 1940.

Each of the five members of the Aggie rifle team which shot against the TSCW rifle team asked Miss Sheridan for a photograph. She replied promptly and one of Cook's prize possessions is an 11 by 14 inch photo of Ann Sheridan with this inscription: "From one Texan to another, very best wishes to R. T. Cook, Ann Sheridan."

Cook is a major on the corps staff and is an excellent student. He was instrumental in the organization of the Puerto Rico A. & M. Club when he came to A. & M. He was club secretary in 1941-42 and is now president.

Any of you Aggies who are interested in improving your marksmanship in preparation for your meetings with the little brown skinned Japrats or the Helling Huns would profit with a lesson from Russell Cook, Ace Aggie Sharpshooter.
