Musical Meanderings

By BILL MURPHY

Before I begin my meanderings, let me say that this column is definitely not going in for "back-patting" but is trying to give you the pure and unbiased truth. Here's the way things are . . .

For almost fifteen years now the Aggieldand Orchestra has been playing dances on this campus, and for almost fifteen years the same outfit has been bringing credit and revenue to this school. In fact, not once during this period has this orchestra been a discredit to its name—the "Aggieldand."

Through these years as the band changed hands, it has continued to grow in quality as well as quantity. Last year, with Topsy Pearce at the helm the Aggieldand reached new heights in style and popularity. But this year the boys were lucky enough to find a kid who has been a hustler and dynamic in all his undertakings enough to land the Aggieldand on the Fitch Summer Bandwagon with the highest vote yet recorded a band on that program. Since then the band has landed jobs in some of the finest niteries and hotels in the South, not to mention the large radio shows. Whether you realize it or not, this orchestra will never hit the heights it has achieved the past few months, and after next May the Aggieldand will lose much of its spark that has made it the "best known college band in America." In "We've Never Been Licked" the orchestra is coming through again with a hit tune that is sure to land on the hit parade.

I could go on for hours but you know most of it already. The main thing is that this school has definitely become music-minded and Aggies now know the difference between Joe Blow and his Squires and Glenn Miller. Now, for the first time, organizations don't have to rely entirely on the taste and judgment of their dance committees, but can now demand the orchestra of their choice.

BUT with the war hitting dance bands all over the country not only by the draft, but with transportation difficulties as well, bands will be a thing of the past after December 15, in this section especially. With this thing in mind, why can't we work out a system whereby all campus organizations and clubs can have their dances next season with a minimum of expense, and at the same time help out the boys in the Aggieldand who depend upon this as their means of paying that maintenance every month. If you are worrying about the quality of the band, I think that can be best answered by asking those who compared the band with that of Herb Miller and those who heard the broadcast "Showtime."

I only ask you to think this over and if you approve, then let your ideas and opinions be heard. After all, that's why we have a Social Secretary and Student Activities. Why not sign a contract with the Aggieldand to play all dances for the duration, and the Aggieldand in return should set a universal price for all dances on the campus? There is nothing to lose and everything to gain.

THIRTY-SECOND NOTES
The Aggieldand played in G I's Friday night when they were called away from a rehearsal for the "Showtime" broadcast to play the Engineers Ball. It seems that Herb Miller was detained en route from Alexandria, La. . .

RECORD OF THE WEEK:
"Manhattan Serenade," played by Harry James and ork. It's one of his finest of the year and is growing in popularity daily. On the back side "Daybreak" is also good, but doesn't touch "Manhattan." Helen Forrest comes through as usual with superb vocalizing.

To end the column here is another one of those THINGS . . . The song least likely to be revived at this time: LET'S HAVE ANOTHER CUP OF COFFEE.

TO COLLEGE EMPLOYEES—In compliance with government regulations on gas rationing the College has been authorized to set up a transportation committee to pass on applications for supplemental mileage ration. These applications for the teaching division should be turned in at E. L. Angell's office. The Director of Extension Service, Experiment Station and Forestry Service will designate some individual in his organization to accept these applications. We have been requested by the Brazos County Board to notify College employees that their applications should be filed at College and not with the Bryan Board.

During the next few days certain groups of students will be called upon to participate in activities which are to form part of the movie being filmed here.

Arrangements are to be made to excuse students from classes when absolutely necessary, but they will be expected to miss the minimum amount of time. When weather conditions interfere with shooting a scene, they are expected to attend classes.

Certain students will shortly receive calls to report to their deans for conference. These calls take precedence over classes, drills or participation in the movie, and students will report to their deans at the period indicated without fail.

—TEXAS GAME—

assume the sparkplug role and upon his shoulders Coach Homer Norton places the Aggie chances for victory. He is the most dangerous man on the team, and is expected to give the Longhorns plenty of trouble come Turkey Day.

Little Barney Welch, 170 lbs. of dynamite, understudies Daniels and does the job in magnificent style. Since he was inserted in the Aggie lineup, the Maroon team has suddenly found its punch and in recent games has been regarded as a real threat. Welch is the top Aggie punter, but passes and runs in effective fashion. He has thrown some 20 passes and four of those have been touchdowns, three coming in one game.

Bucek Heads Line

Felix Bucek, the Aggies' candidate for All-America honors, is the mainspring of that "never-say-die" forward wall and he'll be matching wits against Texas' Stanley Mauldin, phenomenal tackle. Bucek has stood out like a sore thumb throughout the year and Thursday, Line-Coach Bill James will place the responsibility of stopping the Longhorns' powerful running plays.

Bill Sibley, Aggie pivot man, has made a remarkable comeback in the past two games and will be counted on heavily in that Cadet defense. Others expected to see much service in the line include Bill Henderson and Boots Simmons at ends; Ray Mulholland at the opposite guard slot; and Wayne Cure and Hank Foldberg at tackles.

McKay—TU Offense

For Texas University, it'll be Roy Dale McKay, upon whose shoulders Coach Dana X. Bible will place the Steer offensive. His absence or presence makes much difference to the Texas team for he is their leading threat. He is the kicker, runner and passer on the team and he will have much say as to the outcome of the forthcoming fray.

The stage is all set for a "dream" game—the kind of game both Aggie and Longhorn fans have been dreaming of. The teams are very evenly matched, although the home eleven boasts of a better record. But in these games, records are thrown in the waste basket and each team starts from scratch. Texas is in a spot. It must whip the Aggies to win the crown, while the Cadets are after remorseful revenge for that stinging blow struck by Texas on Kyle Field last year. Each team is out for blood, but it's the fans who are going to get the most kick out of this spintingling affair!
