Executive Offices

CONTRARY to prevailing rumors, classes have not been suspended for the week of December 7. When the weather permits movie taking, certain classes will be suspended, but students are warned that they are expected to prepare lessons for each day and that classes will meet according to schedule unless notice is given by announcement in the mess hall at breakfast or dinner that they are suspended for the day, except for the eleven o'clock period. In such case, students are scheduled to participate in the movies and their presence will be checked. Classes at the 11 o'clock period will NOT be suspended on any of the days, although students who attend the morning preaching services at that hour will receive authorized absences.

Monday morning classes will definitely be met as usual and morning classes every day will be met unless the sun is shining by 9 a.m.

The faculty and administrative authorities are anxious to get the movie taking completed as soon as possible, and with the minimum of interference with classes, and urge the fullest cooperation from teachers and students to this end. F. C. Bolton, Dean.

THE SCHEDULE FOR SATURDAY afternoon, December 5, is to be a regular Friday afternoon schedule unless otherwise given in many courses. F. C. Bolton, Dean.

skill and consistency. He has earned a starting position in the Cadet lineup and has proven to be an expert on both offense and defense. His home is at Belton and he is majoring in fish and game.

Aggie quarterback for the 1942 season has been Cullen (Slick) Rogers of Mart, Texas. Slick placed second in the Southwest Conference scoring race last season. With a specialty of pass-receiving, Rogers has led the Cadets to many touchdowns this year. The combination of Daniels to Rogers has been the nemesis of many teams. He leads the nation in pass-receiving at the present time.

Bill (Dub) Sibley, stellar Aggie center, has proven to be the best defensive player on the Cadet squad. In 1941 he was voted to the All-Southwest Conference team through his sparkplug play at center. Bill is a hustler all the way and opposing ball carriers have learned to keep a tight grip on the ball when Dub is around.

Another of the outstanding ends on the Aggie team is Elvis (Boots) Simmons, 205-pounder from Somerville, Texas. Boots divided time with Henderson last year but he has been a starter on the 1942 lineup. He is another of the three two-lettermen on the squad. Simmons has all of the offensive and defensive qualities that a coach pictures in his "dream end."

Jason (Jake) Webster, 192-pound Aggie fullback, has set the pace for Cadet ball-carriers with his blocking and plunging. Jake stunned the sports world in 1941, when he made 24 consecutive conversions before he finally missed. His total for last season was 29 conversions out of 32 attempts.

Last but not least we have Willie Zapalac, dangerous blocker who tips the scales at 200 pounds. In the season of 1940 he was the great Jim Thomason's understudy. Besides being the team's best blocker Willie can hit the line and run the ends as good as any player on the team. Much yardage has been gained by the Aggie team this season by virtue of vicious blocks thrown by Zapalac.

The nine junior members of the Aggie grid squad will probably be playing their last game of their college careers. As they will graduate in September, 1943, they will be in the armed services or graduated by the time the 1943 season rolls around.

Heading the list of juniors are three lettermen who proved their worth last season and have been upholding their prowess this year. Lightning Leo Daniels, the backfield flash, was voted the outstanding sophomore in the Southwest Conference last year. He has led the Aggies with his passing, kicking, and running this year. Next comes Arthur Mercer, hustling Aggie center who has shared that position with Bill Sibley this year. Mercer has proven to be a good defensive center. The last junior letterman is Bobby Williams, diminutive tailback, who, with but a Candidates for Junior Representative on the Student Activities committee must meet the same requirements as those for Junior Yell Leader except that no petition is required and no separate vote of the Sophomore and Junior classes will be held. This officer is elected by the whole corps.

Requirements for Junior Yell Leaders

Junior yell leaders shall be elected by a vote of the sophomore and junior classes. To be eligible for the position a student must meet the following requirements:

(a) He must have attended A. & M. College for three continuous semesters, and at the time of his candidacy be in attendance in his fourth continuous semester.

(b) He must be a classified sophomore with a grade point average of at least 1.25.

(c) He must have passed at least three-fifths of a normal semester's work during the semester immediately preceding his candidacy.

To get his name on the ballot, the student must file at the Student Activities Office at least one week prior to the election. He must file a petition of candidacy signed by at least 200 sophomores, juniors or seniors with the chairman of the Student Elections Committee at least one week prior to the election. At the time of filing he must pay a filing fee of fifty cents. If he is declared ineligible by action of the Student Elections Committee, or if he withdraws of his own free will, this fee is to be refunded. All of the candidates who qualify as candidates under the above requirements will appear before a meeting of the sophomore class to be voted on. The six candidates who receive the highest number of votes shall appear at a joint meeting of the junior and sophomore classes.

This year one football player stood far out in front in statistical points calculated in its 1942 poll by the Williamson System. He was no other than "Flat-foot" Frankie Sinkwich, halfback or fullback or almost what-have-you of Georgia—present No. 1 football team of the nation. No wonder he otherwise is called "the Fire-Ball." This remarkable gridiron performer received votes on nearly every one of the hundreds of replies to a questionnaire sent out by the System in November.

Next to Frankie in widespread popularity was Paul Governali, out-weight of 174 pounds, hits the line with the force of a 200-pound fullback. His speed and deception has dealt misery to many a would-be tackler.

Others on the list of juniors are: Bill Andrews, speedy tackle from Amarillo; Truman Cox, pass-snagging end who hails from Donna; Don Luehy, vicious tackle whose home is at Monahans; Ed Ogdee, a guard from San Benito who has seen much service this year; Pete Slaughter, of Houston, another end who is a sweet player on either offense or defense; and Ed Sturcken, 222-pound fullback from San Antonio.

outs since the Texas game have featured pass patterns, and judging by this and the remarks of Coach Norton the Aggies will flash the most dazzling aerial attack that they have yet cooked up this year.

The game is expected to provide plenty of thrills for the fans, as a spirited and excited contest is forecast. The Cougars are out to avenge the 7-0 licking which the Aggies handed them last year in Seattle, and the Aggies are out to prove that they can come back after the Texas defeat. The same combination that provided the winning touchdown of an otherwise deadlocked battle last year will be playing for the Aggies again today. It was a 34-yard pass from Leo Daniels to Cullen Rogers that scored the only tally of last year's game, and Jake Webster converted the extra point.

As far as physical condition is concerned the Aggies will be rather handicapped today. Felix Bucek, ace guard, and standout of the Aggie line was just released from the hospital in time to make the train Thursday and will be far from ready to go this afternoon. In addition to suffering from three cracked ribs, he was also handicapped by a light case of the flu. Several other Aggies are still nursing injuries from the Texas clash, and the squad will be far from top shape when they take the field. The kickoff is slated for 2:30, and the game will be broadcast over the Texas Quality Network.

A Christmas Carol

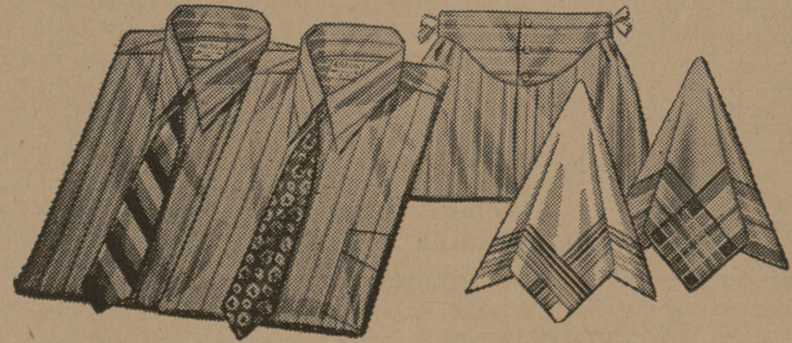

IN MODERN DRESS

Old Scrooge used to be a dreadful killjoy and skin-flint. But one night he had a vision of a shirt, a tie and a handkerchief. The shirt had the handsomest pattern and collar he'd ever seen. The tie harmonized so beautifully with the shirt that he thought he heard the angels singing. And the handkerchief chimed in smoothly. The vision announced itself as "Arrow Carol Tones."

Next day, Scrooge lost no time buying Arrow Carol Tones for himself, his nephew Fred, Tiny Tim, and everyone else he could think of. The shirts all had the Sanforized label, which meant they couldn't shrink out of fit. The ties knotted perfectly, and their patterns looked like £1,000,000. And the shorts were most comfortable. So, everyone was happy, and old Scrooge became the most popular man in town.
