Executive Offices

The National Institute of Public Affairs announces the availability of fifty "internships" for the study of the federal government. The appointments, which are open to seniors and graduate students, contemplate several months of resident study in Washington.

Interiors, an orientation period of about one month, is placed in a Federal Office on a full-time non-salaried basis to study government operations and carry out practical assignments under the supervision of a competent official. The information study includes round table discussions with administrators, legislators, press correspondents, etc. Seminars and courses in economics, government, public administration, and sociology are available to interns after hours at the American and George Washington Universities and the Graduate School of the U. S. Department of Agriculture without tuition.

Applications will be received until January 6, 1943, for the periods March 1 to September 30, 1943 and July 1, 1943, to January 31, 1944. Appointments provide training without cost, but do not provide personal expenses. The General Education Board provides the Institute funds from which grants-in-aid may be made to internship appointees who are graduates of Southern institutions.

Application forms may be had in Dean Brooks' office.

ALL MEN WHO BECAME EIGHTEEN years of age during July and August, 1942, are required by law to register with the Selective Service System during the week beginning December 10, 1942. Arrangements have been made for students to register on the first floor of the Academic Building. They should report at their first vacant period between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. Registration cards on all students will be sent to the local boards at their homes and future inquiries about draft status should be made with the home board.

Students completely enlisted in the Enlisted Reserve Corps, the Naval or Marine Reserve, or in the other advanced course ROTC with contracts are not required to register.

If classes are suspended to permit the entire student body to participate in the movie on December 11, the registration office will not be open until classes are resumed. The students who are due to register should, however, use their first vacant period after the registration office is open to register.

F. C. Bolton, Dean.

Don't Worry About Your WAAC's Warmth; She Has GI Bloomers

If any of you Aggies have any girl-friends in the WAACs, then don't worry about her being stylish or warm this winter.

What was good enough for Grandma is evidently good enough for a WAAC, because their governmental issue clothes include not only khaki colored pants with quarter-length legs, but a pair of good old-fashioned baggy bloomers!

D. Smith accounted for five points for the Field team. T. F. Morgan came through with five points for the Infantrymen.

Class A football saw D Engineers take E Infantry by a 15-6 score. Two touchdowns, a point-after-touchdown, and a safety accounted for the Engineer tally. They had three 40-yard crosses to one for the Infantry team.

band was allowed to lead the band to spring supper formations, and then finally voted upon by his classmates. However, this year because of changes in the school schedule, the juniors did not have a chance to show their abilities. Formal ceremonies presenting the new drum majors with their batons will come at final review, when the former drum majors march across the field with their classmates and the incumbent seniors take over the band.

—1925 BATT—

150,000 watt loud speaker begged the fifty thousand cadets to stay behind the team even though things were looking bad.

Meanwhile, on field one the Texas team had taken the Aggie kick-off and was on our ten. Here indeed, was a spot for a fight.

First down ten, Texas' ball, Pink-panties back! There's the snap—he's fading! He's fading! He's still fading! And down he goes! Pink-panties is downed by nine Aggie huskies on the Texas 2 yard line! There seems to be a question on the play, however.

There's the referees' signal—a Texas man was caught changing the wave length of his receiver over to the Aggie band. Five yards penalty, and the ball goes over to the Aggies. Another touchdown for the Aggies. From then on the Texas team buckled down and the games stayed in the middle of the field, neither team being able to get the advantage.

And so, the great day ended, Texas A. & M. winning over Texas university 12-0, 6-0, 6-0.

When the sun went down across the tracks, many a weary head was laid to rest, and many a weary heart rejoiced again in the unfeeling, never ending supremacy of Aggiedland.

Ballot boxes will be placed in the rotunda of the Academic building and the September maintenance receipt must be presented and stamped to get the ballot.

Juniors only will vote at one box on Longhorn editor and Social Secretary. John Holman automatically won the Battalion editorship by virtue of the withdrawal in his favor of his two opponents, Douglas Lancaster and Nelson Karbach. The entire corps will vote for the other candidates.

All candidates will be introduced Monday night at yell practice, said Gus Link, secretary of the election committee.

Other members of the Student Election committee present were Walter Cardwell, chairman; L. D. Boone; Rocky Sutherland; and Link.
