KYLE FIELD

many expected the DeWare Field House to be filled to capacity last Saturday night when the Agg played TCU but apparently many cadets stayed away... however, things may change now after that astounding Texas Aggie win over TCU... Football signs can be seen here and there on the old campus emphasizing the Maroon-White game... The Field Artillery freshmen put out a grand sign over Shisa Hall, so get busy you "paddle-feet" out in the new area and match that... Where's the ole spirit, anyway?

Look for a big change in the make-up style of the Batt paper next semester... Don't read Ben Ames Williams latest novel, The Strange Woman, unless you want to hate womanhood the rest of your life and throw a perfectly good book out the window in disgust at the leading character. You just can't imagine a woman as mean, low-down, and wonderful as Jenny in that book.

It Has Been Said

That one of the nation's illustrious Congressmen was making an unusually long-winded speech one day, stopping between every five or six words to take a drink of ice-water. After blowing and drinking for about a half-hour, one of his colleagues arose and shouted, "Mr. Speaker, I only want to say that this is the first time I've ever seen a windmill run by water!" The much-abashed windmill never got up again.

ROBERTS

yards for the winning tally. Milton Sims received the kick-off and made a beautiful return all the way up from the 5 to the 38. At that moment Mr. Roberts, 165 pounds of muscle from Corpus Christi, set down to work. From every angle he threw them and from every angle he completed them. He tossed one to Garner for 6, to Sims for 2, to Wolters for 14, and again to Wolters for another 12. Now the ball was deep in B Field territory. On the next play Roberts faded back, found no open receiver, and ran wide around left end all the way to the 14-yard line. He was covered again on the following play only this time he was thrown for a 15-yard loss.

Then came the pay-off heave. Roberts faded all the way back to the 40 and shot a terrific one down in the general direction of Milton Sims on the 12. As the ball sailed over Sims' head, he made a futile leap for it, but was pushed aside. Right then Referee Kyle Drake stepped in and called the interference play that led to the I Field victory.
