President Walton said: "College freshmen are younger than ever before, and the college has a definite responsibility to set up a special office to assist in orientation of those young men to college life."

"The new Student Personnel Office will be a direct point of contact between student, parent and college, a service we long have felt the need for, and one which will prove of inestimable value to the conscientious student who desires to get all of the advantage possible out of his college career at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas."

"For the parents of students the new office also will furnish assurance that the welfare and progress of their sons are receiving expert, sympathetic and remedial attention every hour of the day."

"Manpower demands for the armed services have removed from the campus senior officers who have assisted in this work in the past, and have made necessary the creation of an overall agency to handle student problems."

Mr. Wilcox, former member of the Education department, has been connected with the college for more than 20 years. He is a past president of the State Teachers Association of Texas, a member of the Teachers Retirement Board and a member of numerous committees on educational matters.

An overall enrollment of approximately 200 students for the forthcoming semester was indicated by figures in the office of H. L. Heatson, acting registrar. Between 800 and 900 new freshmen are expected to register, there will be approximately the same number of sophomores and second-semester freshmen, and these classified as juniors and seniors will number between 200 and 300, it was estimated.

This indicated enrollment coupled with the Air Corps unit, Navy and Marine radio unit and other War Department trainees will assure full utilization of the teaching, housing and mess facilities of the college plant, it was said.
