Men With Dates Let In Free At Prom

All service men who bring dates of the Juke Box Prom tonight will be admitted free.

According to Richard Jenkins, there will be several pieces during which the man with a date will not have to fear the stag line cutting in on him. This is a new idea and if it works out to the satisfaction of all tonight, it will be used at the rest of the dances.

Jenkins also stated that there will be more of the slow pieces played for those who like them rather than the faster jitterbug ones.

The admission price for the stags will be the usual 25c per person. The dance will start at 8:30 and end at 11:30. Everyone is invited to be there and all that can be asked to bring dates.

Coach Norton Issues Call to All Aggies Who Desire to Play College Football Report Tues.

Coach Homer Norton Friday issued a call for all boys interested in football to meet for a general get-together and discussion of next fall's prospects at the gymnasium next Tuesday afternoon as soon after 5 p. m. as possible.

"We want to meet every boy who played high school football, and every boy who has an ambition to play college football," Coach Norton said. "In September we will have a football team to represent A. & M. College, and never will a boy have a better chance of making the Aggie eleven than during the coming season."

Coach Norton already has the names of more than 25 boys who have good prospects of remaining in school throughout the next football season, but he wants to become acquainted with every boy in school who is interested in playing the game.

The meeting will be held next Tuesday shortly after 5 p. m. in the gymnasium at Kyle Field, and will be over in plenty of time for supper formations, Coach Norton said.

Summer Cotton School Students Have Rare Privilege of Hearing Cotton Expert Speak

Cotton Production And Marketing is Topic of Speech

Students in the 34th Summer Cotton School, being conducted at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas under the direction of Dr. Ide P. Trotter, head of the Department of Agronomy, were told Thursday that Texas is too large and growing conditions too varied for any one variety of cotton to be considered the "best" from an overall standpoint.

The speaker was James R. Kennedy, chief of the Cotton and Fiber Division of the Food Distribution Administration's Southwestern Region. This is part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Kennedy's headquarters are in Dallas. His address was one of a series by authorities on various phases of cotton production and marketing arranged for students in the 1943 school.

Large Intramural Meets To Be Held In Near Future

According to W. L. Penberthy, Head of the Physical Education Department, there will be a table tennis tournament held for all Aggies interested in the near future.

There will also be an intramural track meet in which anyone can enter as well as a handball and a golf tournament to be held later on in the summer. A swimming meet in which every company may enter its team will be held sometime in the latter part of August.

Medals will be given to the winners and runners-up in each event. If the table tennis tournament has progressed far enough along by the time Cook and Cartland arrive for their war-bond games with challengers, the play-off might be held and the winners be the ones to play these two champions.

All of the companies who are planning on entering their teams in any of these events are asked to get organized as soon as possible in order that there might be as little confusion as possible when the time comes for the games to be played. There is expected to be a keen competition in most of all of these events.

The intramural track meet held last semester was very successful in most aspects and those who entered said the sense of fair play in competition was very high.

Crook Steals and Doesn't Like It

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — You in my opinion are the worst bunch of crooks on the coast," said a postcard received Wednesday by H. M. Katz, owner of a gold-buying agency.

The writer said one lot of supposed gold he'd obtained from the Katz agency, bearing a $90 price tag, was worth only $4.

"For reasons of my own, I wish to remain anonymous," he added.

Katz and the police department explained: the man had stolen brass which Katz had substituted for gold, as a precaution, in his show window.

said. There is a distinct commercial advantage in a uniform product, it was pointed out, citing the area around Paris, Texas, where the cotton produced is in great demand by a large tire manufacturer. Within a one-variety community the growers are usually more progressive, not only an adequate supply of good seed is assured but it can be obtained at less cost, and there is less trouble at the gin. These are additional factors in favor of the one-variety program that were pointed out.

Citing the different fiber lengths produced in Texas, Kennedy predicted that when the State as a whole produced a fiber averaging one inch in length Texas can compete with any cotton growing state.
