Announcements

Because of the present very heavy use of the Swimming Pool taxes severely the filtering and chlorinating equipment in the late afternoon, it has been decided, at the suggestion of the College physician, to close the Swimming Pool to all others than students of the College and army trainees.

Thursday, July 15 is the deadline for filing applications for degrees to be conferred at the end of the current semester. This deadline applies to both graduate and undergraduate students. Those students who have not already done so should make formal application in the Registrar's Office immediately.

The Cream and Kow Club will have a meeting Wednesday, July 14 at 6:30 p.m. in the A. & M. Creamery. All students are urged to be present and help make the meeting a good one. Refreshments will be served.

Women Offered Opportunity To Further Help

Women are offered another opportunity for important service in the U. S. Army as the urgent call for women dietitians is issued by the Houston Officer Procurement District which is responsible in this area for the procurement of army officers direct from civil life.

The Surgeon General's Office has just asked the Officer Procurement Service to obtain a large number of these dietitians for appointment in the relative rank of Second Lieutenant. These trained experts are critically needed for the proper feeding of hospitalized soldiers of the U. S. Army. They will be responsible for the entire food service to all patients in army hospitals; plan daily menus with special reference to proper diet and nutritional requirements, making best use of products available, direct preparation of food with special attention to food constituents, palatability and attractiveness; calculate and direct special diets including metabolic diets prescribed by medical officers; instruct patients in correct dietary habits; assist in ordering food supplies, kitchen equipment and in operating the dietetic department.

The qualifications for women dietitian officers are; a degree from a college of recognized standing with a major in food and nutrition or institutional management.

GRAIN

Cupid Scores a Hit

College Station was the victim of an air raid by none other than the well-known "Gunner Dan Cupid". After the "all clear" had sounded, it was discovered that A/S Peter S. Garaffo had been seriously wounded. Mr. Garaffo's condition was such that he immediately sent for a Miss Violet Golbin of Chicago, Illinois. The happy couple will be united in wedlock on the 31st of July in Bryan. Pending the joyous occasion, Mr. Garaffo is temporarily in a subconscious state of mind, but we are all wishing him a very speedy recovery.

Jist Jokes

A/S Erwin L. Carvin had a difficult time shining his wings on his shirt, until he discovered they were cloth.

A/S Fred Scott says he has a hard time reading his lessons during the day, because he is a graduate of night school!

Dr. Gammon, head of the History Department of A. & M. says "a pedal chill in the lower extremities is having cold feet." He further states, "a French G-I haircut, is the same as being sent to Ye Olde Chopper Block."

Academic Flight leader A/S Robert McKinnon was a little peeved when A/S Justin Jorden actually watched his arm swing recently when Mr. McKinnon commanded, "Mr. Jorden, watch your arm swing please."

A/S Wilbur Jack is very happy, because a blue motorcycle he bought is on its way from Louisville. Mr. Jack likes cycling best, next to flying.

Squadron III won the much coveted blue and gold streamers Friday for the weekly review. Nice work, gentlemen, but let's keep the ribbons flying from our guidon from now on. See you again, two days nearer VICTORY!

GREMLIN GAB

By Alan E. Goldsmith

Well, fellows, another weekend has passed and our detachment has been given its relief. The new Squadron IV has arrived and we are all very happy to have you with us. We hope that you will come to hold same feeling in your hearts for our group that we have. Welcome to 308 C. T. D!

You still have time to write a nice letter to that sweet young thing to invite her to the Wing Ball on July 16. This event promises to be the biggest and best that has ever been held on this campus. Student officers without dates can watch this column for their names and their condition at the Ball. The invitations for this event are on the way and the lucky young ladies will be present.

Payday is a thought of yesterday to most of the "beavers" and they are all happily contemplating next Friday night when their dates will come to visit them. Everyone is anxiously awaiting the coming maneuvers that are to make us more familiar with the appearance of troops when deployed on the ground under actual battle conditions. Rumor No. 138749.3 has it that gas is also going to be used. Oh, for the life if a rumor-monger.

Some of the men are the proud (?) possessors of lovely red sun tans as a result of langorous sun baths on the roofs of their respective halls over the past weekend. A/S De Groft of Squadron II has some olive oil left over from anointing his own burn and offers it to anyone who would care to use it.

The men are all enthused over the prospect of being proud possessors of the M-1 helmets. It is our opinion that the enthusiasm will wear off after a few days' wear.

Service Records

Nineteen years ago in the city of New Orleans a wondrous event occurred. It was the birth of none other than Alvin B. Cooter the esteemed Editor-in-Chief of the A. C. T. D. News. Alvin first saw the light of day on February 20, 1924. His first two years of schooling were in New Orleans, but then the wandering urge caught up with him and he next appeared in Cardiff South Wales, England. During his travels Al visited Belgium, France, Switzerland, and Germany. After two years of roaming he returned to New Orleans. In 1930 Mr. Cooter's family moved to Ft. Worth, Texas where he finished his schooling. In high school he joined the ROTC and soon rose to the position of Battalion Commander. Alvin was also quite active in Archery and in Journalism. His ROTC rating automatically made him a 1st. Sergeant in the National Guard upon his graduation.

Leaving school in 1941 he accepted the position of Supervisor of Supply of the Southwest District for Montgomery Ward. Cooter remained in this position until October 9, 1942 at which time he enlisted in the Air Corps as an Aviation Cadet. He was inducted on January 23, 1943 and sent to Shepard Field for his basic training. Upon completing it he was transferred to College Station.

Mr. Cooter has a mild, unassuming manner and a marvelous sense of humor. He is short and stocky, being five feet five inches tall and weighing 146 pounds; has brown hair, green eyes, and a ruddy complexion. His favorite pastimes are ice skating, horseback riding, and hunting, while his dislikes are fishing and baseball. Al's hobby is photography, but he is unable to continue it to any extent at the present time.

Mr. Cooter's ambition is to become a pilot and if possible to remain in the army after the war. If this isn't possible he intends to become a commercial pilot. He is a member of Squadron Five and is soon to leave for classification. Alvin will carry with him the best wishes of all who know him here, as he is very well liked by everyone who has ever had the occasion to meet him. We feel sure he will attain the goal he is seeking with a large amount of success.

PROP WASH

Squadron II

"Honest Louie" he is known as now. When the quiz sheets were handed out in Friday's Geography test Lewis Miller received the key instead of an unanswered paper. In a very short time he discovered the error and promptly exchanged it for the real McCoy. "Oh, well", he said.

Just before the Squadron marched to the drill field for Friday's review James Wallis was called from ranks to answer a long distance telephone call and missed the all important event. The call was from his best and only girl friend in Washington, D. C. and Jimmy, poor lad, has been floating pretty high ever since. Jack Wright and Buford Witt, his roommates, report that he keeps saying in his sleep, "I got a call from D. C., I got a call from D. C."

Although we did not receive the coveted blue and yellow ribbons at the last review we shared in the honors as the red and white streamers were attached to the top of our guidon. This signified that we had the best academic flight for the week. Can you keep the hustle just as lively this week as it was last?

BACKWASH

By Andy Matula

Disappointed

The boys who had P. E. Monday afternoon. They gave "wildcat" when it rained at noon mess. But P. E. classes were held anyway. I railroad from now on.

Something He Ate

This little incident indicates that something is radically wrong with the boys from Anchor Hall. The other day as we passed Bolton Hall, a sailor stood and saluted a bull, as the two bar man passed him. It ain't the heat, it's the humidity.

We hear that the teapippers are publishing a summer Daily Texan. Must be a shortage of "confetti" or something...

Confused

Backwash is. We went to see "Background to Danger" in Bryan Sunday. We lost count of what was happening after the second reel. We weren't the only ones though; the girl sitting next to me got so confused she began clutching my shoulders instead of her boy friend's. Women are wearing long fingernails again.

G. I. Reports

There are 40 Signal Corps Aggies at O. C. S., Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. They expect to polish gold bars in September. So Jack Keith, ex-Battalion editor and corps executive writes us.

In the News

Lt. Austin Nance '43 at the Anti-Aircraft School at Camp Davis in North Carolina, is responsible for this bit of information. You can read it in its entirety in the June 26 issue of the New Yorker (which proves that all anybody reads around here is Esquire).

It's from an article by Stanley Walker about Texas; Walker interviews Mrs. Cornelia Cooke Smith (she's the curator of the O. Henry Museum in Austin) and here's her opinion of the tea-hounds.

"There they go, Reds. Look at 'em. The place is full of such scallawags. Go over to Texas A. & M. and you'll see some real men. Nineteen generals have come from A. & M. But those fellows, Bah!"

That Ole Army speaks for itself. But we wonder why Walker didn't ever come over here.

WELTY

(Continued From Page 1) carried on. West Point had no "hazing". If some one wanted water he would have to go out and get it in the middle of the "area," and carry it up to his room himself. "Freshmen were not required to work for upper classmen", stated Col. Welty. This is all very different today. The dormitories are as fine as those here at A. & M. and all modern conveniences are available.

All cadets now enrolled here are urged to stay as long as possible according to Col. Welty, and all of us now going to this school are regarded as potential officers. "This school is second only to West Point", states the Colonel, "and you have instructors here, both military and academic, second only to West Point." The Colonel's address was interesting to all who

Civil Service Is Seeking Inspectors

To select men and women for scientific inspectors of war-valuable quartz crystals at the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., a nation-wide examination has been announced, according to the Post Office department at College Station.

Specific education or experience is not required. Appointees will be trained in a definite scientific technique and will receive $1971 a year, including over-time pay, while they learn.

After a short training period, successful trainees are eligible for promotion to positions that pay $2190 a year, overtime included.

Since this personnel is urgently needed, applications should be filed immediately with the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C. so that arrangements can be made to have applicants report for the first examination on July 23, 1943. Applications will be accepted as late as September 10, 1943.

The continuous demand for stenographers and typists for employment in the tenth region and in Washington, D. C. has resulted in another appeal for clerical workers.

Men and women who desire appointment to positions as stenographers and typists in the tenth region must be 16 years old at the time they enter on duty. Only females seventeen and one-half years old at the time of their appointment will be eligible for Washington positions. Males with a 4-F draft classification and other wise qualified may also be appointed to Washington. There is no maximum age limit.

Applications may be secured at any first or second class post office and should be filed with the director, Tenth Civil Service Region, 210 S. Harwood, Dallas, Texas.

All appointments will be made in accordance with the War Department Commission's regulations.
