

Intramural Sports Program Keeps Cadets In Trim

Meet the Aggies....

By R. L. Weatherly
 And here they are . . . the 1943 Aggies! At the start of the season the big time sports writers gave the Aggies a corner in the Southwest Conference's cellar. Now that this "glorified high school team" has romped through the first three games of the season with three thrilling victories, it looks as if they will go all the way and most of those sports writers who discarded the Aggies to the ground floor have climbed on the Aggie band wagon.

What the 1943 team lacks in experience and weight has been made up by the incomparable coaching of Homer Norton and his excellent staff and by the Twelfth Man . . . that glorious spirit of Aggieland that has carried many an Aggie team through to victory.

lege" and this tradition is a long-lasting and famous one.

This will not be the first time that Miss Adams has received recognition on the A. & M. campus, for in 1942 she was selected by band leader Glenn Miller from many other beauties to be one of the girls in the "Senior Favorite" section of the Longhorn for 1942.

Last night many of the Aggies made the trip to Denton where the Tessies played hostesses to them at a dance in the Union building from 8 until 11 o'clock. The Cadets usually have a swell time at "Aggie-Heaven" and last night was no exception. The members of the corps wish to use this medium to thank the students of T. S. Officials and Managers Meet To Plan Activities For Fall

Basketball and Touch Football First; Speedball, Handball, Track Later On

Last Wednesday night the Physical Education department held its annual get-together at the Y. M. C. A. cabin and discussed plans for next semester's intramural sports activities. Mr. Penberthy welcomed those present and stated that the purpose of the get-together was to let the boys ask questions and to get organized. Mr. Penberthy, acting as master of ceremonies, then introduced M. L. Cashion of the Y. M. C. A., L. D. Boone of the Student Activities Office, and the following tactical officers, who in turn introduced the cadets who were appointed intramural managers for their various organizations: Col. A. J. Bennett, Major Joe E. Davis, Major J. E. Breland, Major G. P. Lerner, Captain C. E. Williams, Captain J. H. Echterhoff, Lt. R. W. Snyder, and Lt. A. J. Garafola. Colonel Welty, our P. M. C. & T. then delivered a short talk on his opinion of the P. E. and intramural program. Col. Welty said that the need for physical training is apparent in the Army and that we should be proud because we have prepared our boys to take the toughest jobs. He also told the athletic officers that job is an important one and that they should be proud to hold it.

Mr. Penberthy then introduced his assistant, Mr. Ponthieux and Dr. Bolton, the principal speaker of the evening, who then took the floor. Dr. Bolton, in his speech, mentioned the many purposes that our intramural sports program serves. "Of course," said Dean Bolton, "the most important purpose is to prepare boys for the rigorous army life they will soon encounter, but the development of competitive spirit, discipline, self-control, and loyalty cannot be neglected when mentioning the merits of such a program."

Dean Bolton then complemented the athletic officers and wished them success. He said that he believed that the main reason for the success of A. & M.-Exes was the fact that they lived at Aggieland with their fellow Aggies and really got to know what that Aggie spirit meant.

After Dean Bolton's talk Mr. Penberthy outlined the program for this fall and gave the intramural managers their instructions. According to Mr. Penberthy the first two sports in line are basketball and touch football, with cross-country, water polo, and perhaps others such as speedball and handball later on in the winter. It was stated that any man who wishes to play will be given a chance and it is hoped that there will be no forfeits this semester. When the corps lived in organizations the intramural program worked out well and there is no reason why the cadets should not have pride in their organizations now. Games will start at 5:10 and 5:50 when the new time schedule goes into effect.
