

Undefeated Aggies Run Over Texas Christian, 13-0

17,000 Fans See Fourth Win For '17-Year-Old' Team

Hallmark, Turner, Butchofsky and Flanagan Lead Aggies To Victory

Taking to the air in third period of the game Homer Norton's "glorified high school team" of Texas Aggies clipped the horns off the Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs before a crowd of 17,000 Saturday afternoon at the T.C.U. stadium, in Fort Worth, to the tune of 13-0.

The two scores were made on passes from the mighty arm of Jim (Babe) Hallmark and these two attacks from the air netted the Aggies 103 yards. On the first throw, Bob Butchofsky was standing in the clear, took the ball on the Frog 15 yard line and ran across for the first tally without being touched. Stanley Turner converted from placement for the extra point.

Seven minutes later Hallmark faded back and threw to Marion Flanagan near the sidelines. The fleet Aggie half ran about 20 yards for the second score. Turner, on attempted conversion, failed to make the extra point.

Twice during the first two periods the Aggies hammered inside the Frog 20 yard line to be hurled back by what appeared to be super effort on the part of the T. C. U. team. One time the Aggies pushed the ball down to the Frog two yard line and lost it on downs. Greatly outplayed, the Frogs managed only once to get the ball down to the Aggie 15 yard line, the only scoring threat the T.C.U. team made during the game.

The first half of the game proved to be rather dull, with only an occasional thrilling moment, highlighted by the brilliant punting of Turner, who pulled the Aggies out of hole after hole with his cool and accurate kicking. Jim Lucas, toe man for the Frogs, tried hard to carry his punts up to the Turner standard, but did not make the showing that Turner handed in.

The Aggies held the ball much better than in previous games, it was observed, with only a minimum of fumbles. Early in the second period the Frogs got the ball on the Aggie 23 yard line as the result of an Aggie fumble which Royal James of the Frogs recovered. On the first play after the recovery, Lucas dropped the oval and Earl Beesley recovered for the Aggies on the 21.

The Aggies opened up with their passing late in the third period and drove down to the Frog 17 before they were stopped. It was Hallmark doing the pitching and Jesse Burditt and Marion Settegast doing the catching, that brought the ball into scoring position.

Late in the game Teixeira went in for the Frogs and made many brilliant efforts to rub out the zero by the T.C.U. name on the score board, but was effectively stopped by the defensive coordination of the Aggies.

In the starting lineup Geer and Settegast took the end positions; Moncrief and Bryant were at tackle; Neville and Turley were at guard and Wright was center. Butchofsky, Hallmark, Flanagan and Turner made up the backfield roster. Substitutions for the Aggies included Gibson and Moore at ends, Shira and Eberle at tackle, Tassos and Hohn at guard; Gary at center and Deere, Burditt and Beesley in the backfield.

On first downs, the Aggies chalked up 11 and the Frogs 2; the Aggies gained 111 yards rushing to the Frogs' 4; the Aggies attempted 21 passes and completed 8, while the Frogs attempted 21 passes and completed only 3; the Aggies gained 178 yards on forward passes to the Frogs' 22; each two had two forward passes intercepted; the Aggies lost 50 yards by penalties and the Frogs lost 10.

they will know precisely what will be expected of them. They will be given the opportunity to inspect WAC barracks, mess facilities, and recreational rooms, and to interview Air-WACs to gain first-hand information on their suitability to Army life.

It was emphasized that the Army Air Forces campaign will not be merely directed toward the recruitment of large numbers of women, but in every case the suitability of the volunteer for the available job will be the fundamental consideration underlying acceptance.

Through the job of training and experience, WACs in the AAF become like any other soldier, an integral part of a smoothly functioning machine.

The AAF campaign will be conducted under the direction of the Training Command with Headquarters at Fort Worth, Texas. Teams will be placed in the field by virtually every Air Forces installation in the country for the purpose of interviewing applicants.

University Sets Up War Time Aims

"Our one aim is complete victory over our enemies and their way of life. To that end we expect our students to choose work which will equip them for leadership and service at this time. We know that our students will want this training as quickly as possible. Therefore, our entire program is planned to permit year-round attendance and a wide choice of necessary wartime studies. We shall cooperate with all students in their effort to obtain the best possible training in the time at their disposal.

"We are determined, in spite of changes from peacetime policies, that standards of instruction and good learning shall not be lowered. No educational values will be sacrificed.

"Our one goal for our students is that they become stalwart, understanding, and useful. That, we believe, is the heart of education, whether in peace or in war." Because Lawrence College, Appleton, Wis., is the only Midwest conference school with a football team this year, it was difficult for the school to find opponents to meet on the gridiron. It looked as though Lawrence would have to celebrate a football-less Homecoming until it was learned that Notre Dame's V-12 team had no game scheduled for October 16. Lawrence College officials were successful in persuading the Notre Dame team to play that day so now Lawrence no longer looks forward to a barren homecoming.

Consolidated Tigers Defeat Iola, 64-0

Friday night, October 15, the local Consolidated High Tigers defeated the Iola Bulldogs 64-0. This was another game in which the local club left no doubt in the spectators mind as to the outcome of the game.

The local club, the Tigers, has not had a coach since Damon Tassos resigned last Monday. The team is under the direction of Jimmy Cashion, and Mr. Bunting, the superintendent handles the subs during the game.

Cashion made the first score of the game for the Tigers in their seventh play from scrimmage, but the extra point was no good. Iola set up the next touchdown for the Tigers by fumbling on their 38 and Cashion took the ball over from there for the second score for the Tigers. Cashion, number 43, took the ball over for the Tiger's third score from the 6.

In the second period Carroll passed to Cashion for the fourth score. Later in the second period Cashion passed to Shaffer to the 2 yard line and Marshall took it over for the fifth score. Spiker returned an Iola punt for the sixth score.

In the third period Carroll ran the ball over from the 30 for the seventh score and later Cashion again ran the ball over for the eighth Tiger score.

In the fourth period Marshall ran 32 yards for the ninth score and in the last few minutes of play, Shaffer ran the ball over from the 3 for the tenth and final score of the game. Cashion made four of the ten try for extra points good.

The line play of the Tigers has improved and if this improvement keeps up the Tigers will have an excellent chance for the district championship.

NTAC Prepares for Clash With Aggies On Saturday Oct. 23

Stout, Reed, and Smith Will Be Out; Team Not Up to Par Minus Stars

Arlington, Oct. 18—The North Texas Aggies are bearing down in practice sessions this week in preparation for their game at Kyle Field next Saturday with the Texas Aggies.

It appears that the Arlington squad will not be at full strength for this contest, since it is doubtful that J. P. "Pete" Stout, 200-pound NTAC tailback, whose running and passing have sparked the team's offense in every game the locals have played thus far in the season, will not be able to play. Stout received a blow on the head in the Southwestern-NTAC contest in Austin last Friday night and is still in an Austin hospital.

In pasting the "Little Ags" 26-0 in that game, the Pirates not only disabled Stout but also bruised several others so painfully they will not be in top form. Included in this group are J. J. Gibson, blocking back from TCU; Burnie Smith, big tackle from SMU, and James Reed, crack guard from Texas Tech.

All this is not to say that the Ags will limp on the field Saturday in wheel chairs. Some pretty fair replacements are available. James Batchelor, former Texas Longhorn fullback, will replace Gibson and Howard "Red" Maley, former SMU passing wizard, will substitute for Stout.

Very probably Kieth Curry, 210-pound tackle from T. C. U. will fill in for Reed and Weldon "Scratch" Edwards, a 225-pound tackle from T. C. U. will replace Smith.

Coach J. G. Holmes will devote most of the practice periods this week to drills on pass defense. "Those Aggies can really throw that ball," Holmes said. "We've got to pass some ourselves if we get anywhere."

After watching the big Aggies subdue T. C. U. last weekend, Holmes declared that the Cadets are the best club except Southwestern that he has seen all season, and he's seen nearly all the Southwest Conference clubs play.

The University of Illinois recently found out that many of the Navy and Army men stationed on the campus didn't know about the USO at Champaign-Urbana.

The baby grows up! After taking a neat razzing from every sports writer in the Southwest Conference, the "glorified high school" Texas Aggies have made four attempts on the gridirons of the Southwest and have brought in four slabs of bacon.

So it looks, as if Norton's high school lads will be a threat to the conference title, in spite that they have been called the Aggie "Kiddie Korp" by the sports scribes.

The win over the Frogs at Fort Worth Saturday served to strengthen the Aggie team and to better prepare them for the coming onslaughts with SMU and Arkansas and for the Turkey Day classic with Texas to be played here on Kyle Field. In each of these coming games, the Aggies have a fair chance to keep up their winning streak—since all three of these teams have been brought together and trained under war-time conditions and limitations.

The game next Saturday with North Texas Agricultural College, a branch in the A. & M. system, may prove to be a different story. The junior Aggies are well fortified with Navy V-12 men, with a 210 pound line to romp through the Aggie aggregation to clear the way for an experienced backfield that has been collected from the best football teams of the nation. However, Uncle Sam may have altered some of this condition by transferring a group of football-minded V-12 men to other college the latter part of last week. And—doping out what the Aggies will do this year is a task that most sports writers have stuck the neck out on, since they seem to miss the fact that the "Spirit of Aggieland" lives on, even in war-time. And—many sports writers have failed to take into consideration the fact that Homer Norton and his staff are tops, even when dealing with a "glorified high school Kiddie Korp."

So it is possible that the Junior Aggies from NTAC may be planning to weigh their V-12 anchors on Kyle Field Saturday, but before they do, they'll have to lick eleven good football players, the Twelfth Man, and the spirit of Aggieland that is winning much harder and much more serious battles on every front of the war torn world of today.

One Year Course In Languages

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Practical one-year courses in many tongues should replace the traditional cultural studies for two and three years in a few languages in post-war schools, stated Professor Mario A. Pei of the romance languages department, Columbia University, recently.

While Professor is in favor of continuing the lenthier language studies for those who wish to specialize in them, he feels that the briefer, intensive courses in many tongues will not only banish the average American student's apathy to language training, but will also be of greater use in post-war relations with other countries.

"What is wanted during the war and after is languages, many languages, for purposes of communication, but not a few selected languages for grammatical and stylistic correctness and literary values," says Professor Pei.
