A. A. U. P. Meets In Sbis Tonight For Forum Discussion

Residents of Area Urged to be Present At 8 to Take Part

The A and M. College Chapter of the A. A. U. P. meets tonight at 8 o'clock in the lounge of Sbis Hall to engage in an informal discussion of the subject, proposed changes in college education after the war. In charge of the open forum will be Dr. J. Q. Hays, chairman of a chapter committee appointed to study the subject. After giving a preliminary report of the committee's work, he will introduce Professor G. B. Wilcox, Director of Student Personnel, who will tell what is being done by the Academic Council's committee which is engaged in the investigation of a similar subject. Professor Wilcox is chairman of this committee.

Joining in the discussion will be other members of the two groups. Dr. C. C. Doak, of the Academic Council Committee, is expected to take part along with committee members for the A. A. U. P. Dr. Ralph Steen, History; Dr. Fred Arnold, Agricultural Economics; Dr. William Potts, Chemistry; and Professor Carl Files, Mechanical Engineering.

The chapter invites all College Station-Bryan residents interested in the problems of college education to attend the meeting and take part in the discussion.

College Medical Association Hears Texas Dean Speak

Junior AVMA Hears Dr. C. D. Leake at 7:15, Wednesday, January 12

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake, Dean of the University of Texas School of Medicine at Galveston, will address members and guests of the Junior AVMA Wednesday night, January 12th at 7:15 it was announced today. Doctor Leake, who is noted pharmacologist, will talk on "Chemotherapy and Antibiotics."

Educated at Princeton and the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Leake later taught at Wisconsin in the department of physiology and pharmacology for several years. During World War I, he was in the Chemical Warfare Service.

Following this Doctor Leake organized the department of pharmacology at the University of California, and remained there until 1942 when he accepted the deanship of the Galveston school.

Although he is a pharmacologist, Dr. Leake has done much research in related fields of hematology, the history of medicine, translations, and has been a contributor to many medical and scientific periodicals.

The Veterinary staff, students and friends are cordially invited.

Note to Students Entering Services

Under certain conditions students who drop out of college for the purpose of entering the armed services may be granted credit for their courses. To obtain credit it is necessary to submit a petition and show induction papers. These petitions may be secured at Room 210, Administration Building. In order to take advantage of this, no student will be allowed to withdraw from school until one week prior to his induction.

Ten Texas Cities To Hold First 1944 FBI Conferences

Three Phases of Law Enforcement Will Be Subject of Meets

Three important phases of law enforcement—crime prevention, techniques of arrest, and road blockades—will be included on the program of the first 1944 FBI Law Enforcement Conferences to be held in ten Southeast Texas cities beginning January 17, Ray J. Abbatichio, Jr., Special Agent in Charge of the FBI office here, announced today.

Road blockades and their importance in the apprehension of escaped convicts and prisoners of war will be discussed by Texas Ranger W. E. Naylor, through the cooperation of Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., Director, Texas Department of Public Safety, Mr. Abbatichio stated.

"Ranger Naylor is an expert in the setting up of the road blockade," Mr. Abbatichio said, "and is therefore well qualified to lead a discussion among other peace officers in the use of this important technique."

The mechanics of arrest will be discussed in conjunction with accepted disarming methods by two FBI firearms instructors assigned to the FBI office here. These men, as is the case with all FBI Agents, have been trained in arrest techniques, and the methods they are to demonstrate are those used most successfully by Texas and other state and local peace officers.

A motion picture dealing with the Japanese Nation will also be shown to the officers. It was prepared by the Office of War Information for the purpose of acquainting Americans with the background and history of their enemy. It will be followed by a confidential Army Signal Corps film, the showing of which is restricted to duly constituted law enforcement officers.

The Fraser plan of crime prevention, which stresses the education of youth in the methods of law enforcement as a means of nipping criminal activities in the bud, will be outlined by Fred Erisman, criminal district attorney of the 124th Texas District at Longview, and President of the District and County Attorneys Association of Texas.

The meeting will close with a panel forum restricted to full-time peace officers.

The series of conferences, first to be held this year, will open with a meeting at the Palace Theater, Corpus Christi, January 17 and will be followed by others at L'Arcade Theater, Yorktown, January 18; Elementary School, Palacios, January 19; Cozy Theater, Schulenburg, January 20; State Penitentiary, Huntsville, January 21; Rio

Complimenting the Texas Aggies

January 5th, 1944

Dr. F. C. Bolton,
President of Texas A. & M. College,
College Station, Texas.

Dear Dr. Bolton:

We have just had the pleasure of taking care of the members of the football team of your college who played in the Orange Bowl Game in this city, and wished to let you know of the high regard we have for these boys and their families, and we regretted to see them leave. They had endeared themselves to everyone, not only in our hotel but in the City of Miami and everyone was enthusiastic about such a fine student body. The boys were most gentlemanly at all times and we had much pleasure in having them at our hotel and felt you should know how we in Miami felt towards these boys.

We shall follow them with interest and if at any time you make a visit to Miami, it will be a pleasure to have you with us.

With our kindest regards and best wishes to all the members of the faculty and boys, we are,

Most cordially yours,
HOTEL URMEV
ANDREW G. O'ROURKE, Mgr.

Fun-packed Entertainment At Guion Hall on All-Service Show

Entertainment galore was the feature of Sunday's All-service show held at Guion Hall before an audience of radio and theatre listeners at 3:30. The Aggie band under the direction of Colonel Richard J. Dunn highlighted the half-hour program with renditions of stirring military airs.

Even before the broadcast started, the audience had a preview of what was to come when Ben Strong of the Navy here at Aggie-land supplied the program with organ entertainment. Two old favorites, "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and "Stormy Weather" were the hits of this musical prelude to the regular radio show. The show opened with the Ag-

Aggieland's Singing Cadets Report Best Trip Ever at TSCW

Trip to Denton and Corsicana on 8th and 9th Enjoyed by All

The Singing Cadets of Aggie-land, under the direction of Euell Porter of Bryan made two appearances this past week end to conclude the winter semester's season of concerts. The first appearance was made in Denton before an audience of students from the "sweetheart school", T. S. C. W. and the second program was given to the congregation of the Methodist Church in Corsicana, being broadcast over the radio station KAND.

Immediately upon arrival in Denton the Cadets were served supper in the dining hall. Arrangements were made for dates as each of the boys registered. They were quartered at Stoddard Hall, the senior dormitory, in the recreation room. The program, which took place immediately before "We've Never Been Licked" was shown, is reported to have been "light, rousing and spirited". The entire program consisted of the more popular numbers in the club's repertoire, including several of the traditional Aggie songs. Between songs there were several skits and solos. "Frog" Carr gave his rendition of the farce entitled "Mergotroid, the Cow". A magician's skit was presented by Pat and Mike represented by Pat (See AGGIE, Page 4)

Board Names Poultrymen In Extension

Martin and Moore Are Elected As Poultry Husbandry Professors

Appointment of Ted Martin and Samuel A. Moore as poultry husbandmen for the A. & M. Extension Service was announced here Saturday by Acting Director James D. Prewitt. Martin, for the past 13 months Zavala County agricultural agent, will join the headquarters staff on January 10, and Moore on January 17. Moore comes from the University of Arkansas, Fayetteville, where he has served as Extension Service poultryman since 1936. Both are graduates of the Texas A. & M. College with the B. S. degree in poultry husbandry.

They succeed George P. McCarthy and H. H. Weatherly, Extension poultry husbandmen for the past several years. Weatherly resigned on November 15 to manage the R. E. James Bar Nothing turkey ranch near Austin, and McCarthy will leave the service on January 15 to become director of feed research for Universal Mills, Fort Worth.

Born at Osage, Coryell County, in October, 1912, Martin was graduated at A. and M. College with the class of 1939. He had experience in hatchery and general poultry work at Normangee, Houston and Waco until appointed assistant county agricultural agent in Hidalgo County on July 1, 1941, where his work was mainly with 4-H club boys. On November 1, 1942, he was transferred to Zavala County. Although a native of Tennessee, Moore grew up at Mt. Vernon, Franklin County, where he attended high school before entering A. & M. in 1926. After being graduated in 1930, he did post-graduate work at the University of Washington, Pullman, Washington, while serving as poultryman on the college staff. In 1932 he became supervisor of the feed department of a milling company at Spokane, Washington, and in 1936 was appointed Extension poultry husbandman at the University of Arkansas.

The new staff member will have charge of the Extension educational work in poultry in Texas. Last year this state rose from fifth to second place among the states in production of hen eggs, and Texas is the leading producer of turkeys in the nation.

Camera Club Meets Wednesday at 7 P. M.

Claude Stone, president of the Camera Club, announced that the Camera Club will sponsor a picture judging contest which is to be held January 21. Aggie-ex Sent To Bombardier School

Aviation Cadet Cecil H. Dickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dickson, DeQueen, Arkansas, has reported for duty at the Army Air Forces Bombardier School, Carsbad, New Mexico, where he will study advanced high-level bombardiering and dead-reckoning navigation.

The Carsbad Army Air Field is under the supervision of the "father of modern bombardiering," Col. John P. Ryan, and promises to be greatest bombardiering school in the world.

Cadet Dickson, a former student of A. & M., received his pre-flight training at the Army Air Forces Replacement Center, Santa Ana, California.

During the 18 weeks advanced training course, Cadet Dickson will learn the bombardier's art under simulated combat conditions. He will be taught the intricacies of the famed Modern bombsight, and, in addition, be given an intensified course in dead-reckoning navigation. This revolutionary type of cadet training will qualify Cadet Dickson as a double-threat man. Such airmen, equally skillful in both fields of aerial warfare, are especially valuable in our medium bombers where space is at a premium.

On graduation Cadet Dickson will be awarded his silver bombardier's wings, and either commissioned a second lieutenant or appointed a flight officer.

Auditing Book Needed By Aggie-ex Prisoner

William G. Yates, class of '39, an Economics Major, has been reported a Prisoner of War in Germany. His wife, who recently wrote to Dean Brooks, asked him if she might obtain an auditing book that she could send to her husband. Yates has written his wife to send him one in order that he may teach auditing to some of his fellow prisoners of war, while they remain in prison camp.
