The Four Vagabonds will present those poignant arboreal arias, "Poinciana" and "Magic of Magnolias," on their BLUE Network program of songs, Friday, June 16, at 6:00-6:15 p.m., CWT. The velvet-voiced foursome also will sing "Pretty Kitty Blue Eyes," "Coming in on a Wing and a Prayer," and "Aint'cha Got No Time For Love?"

Dorothy Maynor, celebrated soprano, and the accomplished piano duo of Arthur Whittemore and Jack Lowe will be the guest artists on the RCA program, The Music America Loves Best, Saturday, June 17, at 6:30 p.m., CWT, over the BLUE Network. All three are RCA-Victor recording artists on WTAW.

The program will open with "I Want to Be Happy" from Vincent Youman's "No, No, Nanette," by the RCA-Victor Chorus. Miss Maynor's numbers will be "Dequis le Jour" from "Louise" by Charpentier, and the Negro spiritual, "Nobody Knows De Trouble I've Seen."

At the twin pianos, Whittemore and Lowe will offer Ravel's "Bolero" and "Begin the Beguine" from Cole Porter's "Jubilee," accompanied in both selections by the orchestra will combine efforts in "The Continental" and the program will close with "Gimme Dat Ole Time Religion," in which Dorothy Maynor will be joined by the chorus.

Christina Carroll, Metropolitan Opera soprano, who, when only 12, prematurely described herself as an opera singer, and Met baritone, Martial Singher, who's been heard on three continents, will co-star as guests on the BLUE Network's World of Song program, Sunday, June 18, at 3:30 p.m., CWT on WTAW.

Miss Carroll's selections are the "Musette Faltz" from "La Boheme" and "The World Is Mine Tonight". Singher will be heard in "Palaisir D'Amour" and Massenets "Elegie". Wilfred Pelletier will conduct the orchestra in an elaborate new arrangement of "Speak Low" from "One Touch of Venus," and the entire company will be heard in a medley from the operetta "Ciboulette."

Three continents on which Singher has sung are Europe (Paris Grand Opera Company), South America (Teatro Colon in Buenos Aires) and, of course, the Metropolitan in New York.

Folks who did their dancing back in the early Rudy Valee days will be reminded of the curly-haired crooner, now a Coast Guard officer, when "Girl of My Dreams" is included on the BLUE Network's Keepsakes program, Sunday, June 18, at 7:30 p.m., CWT, on WTAW.

Other selections to be sung by Dorothy Kirsten, soprano, Mack Harrell, baritone, and the chorus, and played by Tom Jones' orchestra, are: "Suppose I Had Never Met You," "Carlonia in the Morning," "I'll Bacchio," "Oh, Miss Hannah," "The Bubble," "Di Provenza Il Mar" and "Auf Weid-ersehn."

The swift romance of a girl who elopes with a sailor and keeps the marriage a secret from her mother because of the latter's heart condition, will be dramatized on the BLUE Network's My True Story broadcast, Thursday, June 15, at 9:15 a.m., CWT, on WTAW.

The girl not only keeps the secret from her mother, but also from her sister with whom she has heretofore shared all confidences. However, when she learns that her sister is also married secretly and is to have a baby she tells the whole story.

The result of her disclosures will be revealed on Thursday's broadcast of the Blue Network's true-life dramas, heard Monday through Fridays at 9:15 a.m., CWT.

Capt. Sam Logan, U. S. Marine Corps fighter pilot, who was viciously attacked by a Jap ZeRo while parachuting down from his damaged Corsair, will comment on his miraculous escape via the Blue Network broadcast of Meet Your Navy, Friday, June 16, at 7:30 p.m., CWT, on WTAW.

The dramatized portion of the program will describe how Captain Logan bailed out of his riddled plane in a dog-fight near the Russell Islands. As he drifted over the sea, a Jap airman made four passes, attempting to catch the captain in the whirling propeller blades. In one pass his foot was severed, but he nevertheless managed to inflate a rubber boat, doctor the stump of his ankle and remain conscious until rescued.

In the musical segment of the show the Bouncing Bluejacket Bowmen will play "Sleepy Gal" and the Great Lakes Orchestra will offer fresh arrangements of "I'll Get By," "Anchors in the Sky," and "Falling in Love with Love." A bluejacket soloist will sing "Swinging on a Star" and the choir of 200 voices will intone "O, God of Love."

Meet Your Navy, a weekly presentation of the Blue Network, originates at the U.S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

Twenty-one Stars," new musical variety series that will present headliners of the entertainment world who are now in uniform, and graphically describe the varied functions of the U. S. Army Service Forces, will be unveiled via the Blue Network, Saturday, June 17, at 2:02-2:30 p.m., CWT, on WTAW.

Guest on the premiere broadcast will be Brig. Gen. Joe Battle, Deputy Chief of Staff of Service Commands, who will be interviewed by "Sergeant Steed." The latter, portrayed by an actor still to be chosen, will serve as narrator for the series.

Privates Buddy Clark and Bob Eberle, both topnotch singers in civilian life, will occupy the solo

A serious and sincere gent, Bryson was part of an invasion bull-session held among fellow announcers some five weeks ago. All six gabbers wrote down their predictions for time and place of the historic day. Bryson's guess: June 6, with forces taking off from England and landing on the coast of France!
