Trade With Lou —

"Wait Till the Sun Shines Nelly," "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise," and "Here Comes the Sun." The Harmonizers, instrumental sextet, will present their version of "Jenny Lind Polka."

Lulu Belle, guest artist, aided by the Harmonizers, will be heard singing special arrangements of "Beautiful Dreamer" and "Daffy Over Taffy."

In addition, Bradley will give a last minute summary of farm news, and Kay Baxter, Blue Network homemaker, will offer helpful household hints.

Drew Pearson, another of the famous "Washington Merry-Go-Round," who is heard each Sunday at 6:00 p.m., CWT, over the Blue Network in a program of news and predictions, boasts the greatest newspaper circulation of any columnist in the world.

Though there are writers whose syndicated columns appear in more papers than the "Washington Merry-Go-Round", Pearson's 500 some odd newspaper clients possess greater circulation than the others.

Pearson's skill in prophesizing political, international and war situations is phenomenal. Over a great period his predictions have been approximately 68 per cent correct.

Don McNeill, m. c. of the Blue Network's Breakfast Club, has been made an honorary Knight of the Road by Jeff Davis, Supreme Knight and president of Hoboes of America, Inc. "In other words," says McNeill, "I am now a bum."

Rex Maupin, maestro of the string ensemble on the Blue's Hello Sweetheart (Saturdays, 4:45 p. m. CWT), observes that the Russians are making Minsk-meat out of the Nazis.

Somewhere in France, George Hicks, Blue Network war correspondent whose dramatic eyewitness account of the Allied invasion drew unparralleled applause, today learned that his first broadcast record has been sold for a $100,000 War Bond purchase.

The transcription, presented to the War Finance Committee of the U. S. Treasury Department by the Blue Network, was sold at the Army Air Force Exhibit of "Shots From The Sky," to James Ward of the Embassy Dairy, Washington, in honor of his paratrooper son, James, Jr.

Cliff Arquette becomes a numerology addict during the Glamour Manor broadcast, Wednesday, July 12, at 11:00 a.m., CWT, over the Blue Network and WTAW. Things are finally "figured" out with the help of Lurene Tuttle, Bee Benadaret and Tyler McVey. Hal Stevens' vocal solo will be "It Can Happen to You," and Charlie Hale's orchestra will be heard in "Amour."

A wise grandmother salvages a tangled romance in the Blue Network's My True Story, Friday, July 14, from 9:15 a.m. to 9:40 a.m., CWT. The girl comes from a poor family, the boy from one of impressive financial status. It appears that haughty folks may break up the course of true love in "Not Good Enough," but the lad's grandmother straightens out

FEATURED ON WTAW

The BLUE's daytime dramatic feature "My True Story" contains a complete story each day — no "to be continued" tag. Among the attractive actresses who are heard frequently is pretty Jean Gillespie, one of radio's rising young stars.

the whole mess neatly, though not until after many dubious moments.

The Three Romeos will trill the wolves' cantata, "Hey, Babe, Hey," on their Blue Network program of songs, Thursday, July 13, at 4:15 p.m., CWT. The lads also will chant "Kentucky," "Down Home Rag," and "Ridin' Down the Canyon."

Larry Keating, co-host of the Blue Network's daily Hollywood Startime broadcast from the RKO-Radio lot in Hollywood (2:15 p.m., CWT), recalls an unusual meeting with William Jennings Bryan, the "Great Commoner," during a Democratic conclave in Houston, Texas.

A friend of Larry's had finished singing "Marcheta," a song then popular, and none of the half-filled hotel dining room applauded but Larry. At that moment a heavy hand was laid on his shoulder and a voice said:

"Thank you, my lad, I thought no one had recognized me."

It was Bryan, himself, who had just come into the room!

From the fall of the gavel on Wednesday, July 19, to the sine die adjournment expected some forty-eight hours later, high spots of the Democratic National Convention in Chicago's Stadium will be covered by a top-flight corps of Blue Network commentators and correspondents.

The Blue's coverage of the Democratic conclave will start at 12:00 noon, CWT, on Wednesday, July 19, with an address of welcome to delegates and alternates by Mayor Edward J. Yelly, of Chicago. Senator Scott Lucas, Illinois senior senator, will follow the Mayor with an address to the convention and the Blue will then carry a speech by Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic National Chairman, outlining campaign issues and policies.

At 9:00 p.m., CWT, on the same date, the Blue will broadcast an address by Mrs. Charles W. Tillet, of North Carolina, stressing the role women will play in the forthcoming campaign. Installation of the temporary speaker, Governor Kerr, of Oklahoma, and delivery of the keynote address of the convention will be heard over the network following Mrs. Tillet's speech.

On Thursday, July 20, starting at 12:00 noon, CWT, the presentation of the permanent chairman of the convention will be heard over the Blue, followed by the report of the committees on platform and resolutions.

Thursday night, the balloting for candidates for president and vice-president will be broadcast, with an address by Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, of California. Additional details on Blue convention coverage will be completed early next week.

With G. W. (Johnny) Johnstone, Blue Network director of news and special features, in charge, the Blue's convention broadcasting will be handled by a staff including George Milne, chief engineer of the network; Gene Rouse, central division news and special features manager; and Bryson Rash, WMAL and Blue news and special features manager in Washington.

Blue commentators and correspondents who will cover all angles of the convention include Earl Godwin, Ray Henle, Baukhage, Henry J. Taylor, Leon Henderson, William Hillman, Walter Kiernan, Patricia Dougherty (covering women's angles), Bryson Rash, Ernest K. Lindley, Washington political commentator and columnist, and Cleo Roberts, Blue commentator who has just returned to the United States from the Southwest Pacific, where he covered the war in that sector. Roberts will act as a roving reporter, handling color and human interest stories.

Five girls, with names familiar to every musical ear, will be serenaded by Cliff Edwards on his program of songs broadcast Wednesday, July 12, at 10:45 a.m., CWT, over the Blue Network.

Edwards, who is heard Mondays through Fridays, will devote his Wednesday program to songs whose titles bear a girl's name. The selections will be "Diane," "Louise," "Charmaine," "Mary Lou," and "I Wonder What's Become of Sally?"
