rectors of the Texas Home Demonstration Association this morning, (August 4). I found the members of this Board to be very sincere and keenly interested in home demonstration work in Texas. In addition to this, they had all worked long and effectively.

"We did not agree about Miss Hearn, the Board being of the opinion that Miss Hearn could not successfully carry out the duties to which she had been assigned, and it was my sincere belief that she was wholly competent to do so and would be entirely successful. I think the women of the Association will be fair about it.

"I consider my meeting with this group of women from all parts of the State to have been very profitable."

Gilchrist reaffirmed his earlier statement Monday in saying, "I consider Miss Hearn very capable and I am sure that things will work out all right in the end."

Mrs. Leon Sullivan of Red Oak, president of the Women's Association reported that the meeting was profitable to both parties but continued: "We did not agree about Miss Hearn, however, President Gilchrist being of the opinion that it was the duty of the women to accept appointment of Miss Hearn."

May 13th the Board of Directors of Texas A. & M. appointed Miss Hearn to succeed Mildred Horton as state home demonstration agent. Miss Hearn was graduated from Mary Hardin Baylor located in Belton with a B.S. degree in Home Economics and entered the Extension Service in March of 1930 as home demonstration agent of Bell County. In 1934 she came to the headquarters staff at A. & M. as a specialist in home industries.

She was promoted to the position of District Agent of District 7, comprising 21 Central West Texas counties, in the fall of 1935 a position which she held until her appointment as Vice Director of the Extension Service and State Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Hearn is a member of the American Home Economics Association, a member of Epsilon Sigma Phi, a national extension fraternity, and is on the Alumni Advisory Council of Mary Hardin Baylor.

The Texas Home Demonstration Association is made up of women from all over the state of Texas but its membership does not include any professional home demonstration agents. This group also earlier recommended that the board for A. & M. be made up of members from each of the Texas Senatorial Districts and further that the board include women.

and individual training in these fields at all levels, was explained. This proposal is part of an agenda of objectives of the Texas A. & M. College which he is setting down on paper for the first time and which will be presented for consideration to the board of directors. These proposals will embrace the correlation of the agricultural agencies of the A. & M. system in the interest of efficiency and elimination of duplication of expenditure and effort.

The Brazos County A. & M. Club served watermelons to around 150 of its members which had been secured through the efforts of P. L. Downs, Jr., club good samaritan, and Luke Patranella and George McCullough, College Station business men. Surplus melons were auctioned off under what was claimed to be the Chinese system and sold from five cents to over $6.00 each.

At the business meeting of the club following the watermelon supper, E. G. Smith was elected assistant secretary to serve during any absences of Secretary Fred Hale. There was some discussion of adopting a standard design for pins to be presented to presidents of A. & M. clubs over the State, and President Roberts appointed Fred Hale, W. R. Carmichael, club vice president, and Chas. W. Crawford, who acted as secretary at the Monday night meeting, to serve as a committee to investigate the possibilities of the proposal.
