

Aggies Determined to Return to Win Column in LSU Game

No Additional Injuries Suffered In Sooner Tilt; Team Leaves Thursday

Determination to regain their winning ways after suffering their first defeat of the season at the hands of the Oklahoma Sooners, the Aggies are busy this week preparing for the Louisiana State University Tigers. The Tigers are also licking the wounds of defeat, having fallen before the Rice Owls last Saturday by the score of 14-13.

L. S. U. is reported to have a powerful team this fall, although they have failed to taste sweet victory so far. Previous to the Rice defeat, the Tigers played a 27-27 tie with a strong Alabama eleven. Therefore, L. S. U. will be trying to get into the winning column for the first time this year, and they will be hard to handle.

Last year, a group of game and inexperienced Aggies, later named the "Kiddie Korps", upset a highly favored Tiger eleven in a regular season game, 28-13. The Bengals later gained revenge in the Orange Bowl when they outscored the same Aggies, 19-14.

Coach Norton's boys came out of the Oklahoma game in pretty good shape, suffering no additional injuries. Butch Butchofsky, stellar back who was held out of the OU game, is still a question mark. He may see some service against the Tigers if the special helmet can be secured in time. The helmet is being constructed to protect his fractured jaw. If this helmet can be constructed in time for this tilt, it will help the Aggie chances no end. Butch was missed sorely in the Oklahoma game, more for his line-backing ability than his offensive play.

L. S. U. has built its offense around letterman Red Knight, who was Steven Van Buren's understudy last year. Knight has developed into a flashy tailback, and with Knight, the Bengals have eight lettermen, including an all-veteran line.

The Aggies will again be playing under the handicap of not having their entire Corps to back them. The game is to be played in Baton Rouge, and not all Cadets will be able to make the long trip.

The Whiz Kids will leave for Baton Rouge on the Thursday night train, according to present plans. This schedule will put the team at the site of the game Friday, permitting a day of rest before the tussle.

Aggies Show Fighting Spirit in OU Tussle

"We fought our hearts out, but they just had a better team."

Those words of Coach Homer Norton give the story of the Aggie's defeat at the hands of the Oklahoma Sooners. The Aggies did fight their hearts out, they overcame a 14 point OU lead, but they just did not have the stuff to defeat the powerful Sooners.

No credit should be taken away from the Oklahoma. They had a good, clean, well balanced team, and they won simply because they had the better team. In Derald Lebow, OU showed a fine back, but it was their all-around play which brought them victory.

No excuses can be made by the Aggies, and no excuses need to be made. These boys lived up to the tradition set for them by the past Aggie teams—that tradition of never giving up. Coach Norton's boys came from behind and tied up the game in the third quarter.

Rambling Around on the Sports Front

Eldon Long, letterman end, had left school, again weakening the end positions of the Aggies. James Mitchell, another wingman, has also departed from the campus.

Players say that Oklahoma was one of the cleanest teams they have ever played against. . . This writer hit a new low in forecasting last week when he missed three out of five. Another week like that and

Randolph Ramblers Keep Rambling Along

Last Saturday was a full week for Southwest Conference grid teams, and after the dust had cleared only S. M. U. still had a perfect record. Of course, Randolph Field was still undefeated but they are likely to remain that way for the remainder of the season. In fact, they have about as much chance of losing a game as Hitler has of being elected president of the United States.

S. M. U. has the non-coveted honor of playing the Ramblers this week-end, which means their perfect record will be ruined. (Their team may be slightly ruined also.)

Little George Walmsley led the Rise Owls to a victory over the L. S. U. Tigers, 14-13. This was considered an upset in some quarters, but it shows those Owls are plenty tough this year.

Texas went down in defeat before the afore mentioned "Reckling Ramblers" by the score of 42-6. They were without the services of their star passer, Bobby Layne, but his presence would not and it looked for a time as if they might upset the powerful Sooners. But Oklahoma quickly pushed over another touchdown which proved to be the clincher.

Looking at the statistics, we find the Aggies outplayed their opponents in some departments. In first downs, the Aggies led, 15-14, and although they were outtrushed by the Sooner's ground game, the Nortonmen led in yards gained from passes, 131-51. Bobby Goff had a 47.5 yard punting average on the two punts he made and in the total yards gained, A. & M. amassed 417 yards to 334 for the Sooners.

These figures show that the teams were playing on pretty even terms for most of the night. The Aggies battled them tooth for tooth, and were still fighting when the final gun sounded.

When a team does that, whether they win, lose, or draw, any school should be proud of them.

I'll let you do the guessing. . . No information is yet available on just when Bob Butchofsky's special helmet will be ready. . . Coach Norton was pretty smart for not scheduling Randolph Field. Not that we are scared of them, but we like to be healthy. . . The signs on the dorms are a bit more lively than they were earlier in the season. . . Just like the good old days. . . Beat L. S. U.

have altered the outcome in any way. S. M. U. eked out a 16-15, yes, that's right victory over Southwestern. The Ponies were hard pressed to win this one, being forced, to make several goal-line stands.

Arkansas pushed T. C. U. all over the field, but had to be content with a 6-6 draw as these teams opened the Southwest race.

All in all, it was a thrilling Saturday which saw Texas and the Aggies fall from the undefeated list. But last week is now history, and each succeeding week-end promises just a many thrills.

Aggie Trackmen Win Cross-Country Meet at OU Game

Texas Aggie cross-country track team took a dual meet with the Oklahoma Sooners run between halves of the Aggie-Sooners football game in Oklahoma City Saturday night by a score of 30 to 25. The five Aggie runners placed second, third, fifth, sixth and ninth. This was the first meet of the season for the Aggie harriers who are coached by Ray Putnam of the Physical Education Department.

For the Aggies, J. D. Hampton, Brady, came in second; Buddy Bradford, San Antonio, third; Ray Holbrook, Goose Creek, fifth; Glen Bell, Pineland, sixth, and Jim Jarrett, Edcouch, ninth.

In the scoring, first place counted ten, second place received nine points, and so on to tenth place counting one point.

Winner of the meet was Clarence Vicklund, Navy V-12 student of the University of Oklahoma, former track star at the University of Wisconsin, and Big 6 Conference distance champion last year.

Intramural Activities To Begin Soon Athletic Officers To Meet This Week

A Company to Carry Pennant in Parades

As soon as a meeting of the Intramural Officers can be held and a program agreed on for the semester, Intramural activities for this semester will get under way, said W. W. Penberthy, head of the College Physical Education Department.

It is planned to hold a meeting of all athletic officers this week said Penberthy so as to start the Intramural Program as soon as possible. At present, Five sports are tentatively planned for this semester's play; These are Basketball, Volleyball, Touch Football, Speedball, and a cross-country meet. At the meeting the possibility of adding other sports to the program will be discussed, said Penberthy.

Last semester's program was one of the most successful ever staged, according to Mr. Penberthy, and the competition was some of the keenest ever seen in Intramural history. J. R. Wade's A Co. Indians won the Intramural flag last semester and they will carry this flag in all parades. A Company was followed by Eep Brown's G Battery freshmen in second place, F Company, captained by Bob English finished third; Spider Westbrook's D Company men were fourth, and they were followed by B Battery in fifth place, captained by Bill Griffin.

Some of the boys who sparked these outfits last semester will be on hand to furnish plenty of competition during Intramural play this term. Back to play for A Company this semester will be "Flop" Stripling, Eddie Pate, Jay Williams, Johnny Young, Vernon Dietz, and Willie Williams. Repeating for Brown's G Battery team will be Hampton, Wall, Lyth, and several other outstanding freshmen. Bob English will have virtually his whole roster of last semester back for this term's play, including Abrams, Blackstone, Ar buckle, Wallace, and Bill Davis. D Company has been somewhat split up with only Bill and Jim Henderson and Bob Seyle returning from last semester's spud that was corps runnerup in Basketball and Volleyball. Jim Coscia, Bill Jaggers, his major field of interest.

The Institute of International Education will send application forms upon request. (Applicants in Puerto Rico may obtain forms from the Office of the Chancellor of the University of Puerto Rico.) Before asking for forms, students should read this announcement carefully and be sure that they meet all requirements for eligibility.

Applications and all required credentials must be on file at the Institute of International Education, 2 West 45th Street, New York 19, N. Y. not later than NOVEMBER 15, 1944. Awards will be made as soon as possible after that date.

Have a "Coke" = Welcome back

. . . or giving a returned soldier a taste of home

There's an easy way to make a soldier on furlough feel right at home. It's to offer him refreshing Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke" is always the hospitable thing to say. In many lands overseas, as in your own living room, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, —has become a happy symbol of hospitality, at home as everywhere else.
