Lovely Geraldine Fitzgerald as the fascinating Edith Bolling Galt and Alexander Knox as Woodrow Wilson re-enact twenty-five minutes of Zanuck's film biography on the BLUE Network's "Radio Hall of Fame." "Radio Hall" is given a rousing send off with this exclusive dramatization.

On or about December 15 there'll be two "Mirandys"—so don't confuse them. One, of course, is Mirandy, the Ozark philosopher, whose honey chatter is heard on WTAW Farm and Home Makers program, Mondays through Fridays at 11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon, CWT. The second will be the All-America, first-prize rose for 1944.

45, which has been named for none other than this same Mirandy of Persimmon Holler.

Voted the most perfect rose produced in the All-American rose competition for 1945 by the 20 test gardens in the United States, the "Mirandy" is a dark red bloom developed by the Armstrong Nurseries of Ontario, Cal. It is a cross between the "Charlotte Armstrong", a gorgeous cerise rose, and "Night", a very dark red rose. It has a penetrating, full-bodied fragrance matching the richness of its color and form.

A rose grower herself, the Blue's Mirandy considers the naming of the prize-winner the greatest honor she has ever received.

Donna Dae, featured singer with Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, heard Thursdays over WTAW at 6:00 p.m., CWT has obtained a leave of absence to entertain servicemen overseas. Donna leaves during the middle or latter part of November for the European Theatre of war.

the party with intent to rob the guests. Such is the situation that confronts the Green Hornet in the WTAW program of that name, Tuesday, October 24, at 6:30 p.m., CWT.

Britt Reid, who is really the Green Hornet, is a guest at the party. With customary courage and precision, he renders the crooks harmless and rescues the financier and his son.

Herbert landed squarely on a big bounding Nazi and what does the blighter do but run into the woods like a bloomin' rabbit.

This unusually humorous situation is portrayed on WTAW Blue Network's Listening Post, Tuesday, October 24, at 9:45 a.m., CWT. The story is a dramatization of the Saturday Evening Post yarn, "Willie and the Commandos," by Richard Stern.

Heard on Wednesday, October 25, will be "Time to Move On," by Charlotte Edwards. "A Faint North Wind," by Edwin A. Peeples, is scheduled for Thursday, October 26. All dramatizations are from the October 28 issue of the Post.

Using his horse, Silver, as bait to capture some hoss rustlers, the Masked Horseman finds himself in an unexpected trap during the Friday, October 27, dramatization of WTAW Lone Ranger program. Heard at 6:30 to 7:00 p.m., CWT, the exciting drama is titled "The Road Trader".

How Ethel and Albert awake at three a.m. to answer the telephone calls of a group of late revellers who have developed "Telephonitis" will be told on the Thursday, October 26, broadcast of the Private Lives of Ethel and Albert, to be heard at 3:00 p.m., CWT over WTAW.

Albert's indignant moralizing about people who stay out until the wee small hours is cut short when the pretty secretary of a friend of his burlesque sweet nothings at him. To Ethel's utter confusion, he suddenly decides they are becoming too stolid, don't go out enough, remarks that people need recreation.

Martha Mears will make a repeat appearance on Hollywood Star Time, Wednesday, October 25, at 2:15 p.m., CWT, over WTAW. She'll sing the new hit "Let Me Love You Tonight," Muzzy Marcellino, the second singing guest, will intone "San Fernando Valley."

Curley Bradley, baritone m.c. of the WTAW Farm and Home Makers program, will sing songs of the sea on the Friday, October 27, broadcast (11:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon, CWT), in keeping with the national observance of Navy Day. His selections will be "He's a Salt-Water Cowboy," "Arm in Arm" and "The Navy Hymn".

The Home Towners, under the direction of Rex Maupin, will play "Here Comes the Navy," and the Cadets Quartet will intone a medley of "Strike Up the Band, Here

Announcements

The next order for A. & M. Class Rings will leave the Registrar's Office on November 1, 1944. Any students registered as a classified junior is eligible to order the A. & M. ring but delivery of the ring to him will not be made until he is registered as a classified senior or he is called to military service and presents satisfactory evidence of such call. All rings ordered by juniors must be paid for in full at time of ordering.

Comes a Sailor, "Nancy Lee," the "Marine's Hymn" and two additional Navy songs, "Anchors Awigh" and "Apprentice Seaman."

Kay Baxter, ace homemaker, will present household hints, and Mirandy will have another tale to tell of her Persimmon Holler friends.

Produced and directed by Robert B. White, Farm and Home Makers is heard via the Blue, Mondays through Fridays.

Sometime just before Christmas the Breakfast at Sardi's program, which each day awards a Good Neighbor orchid, will announce the winner of a nationwide contest to determine America's Good Neighbor of the Year.

The ultimate winner will be chosen from the entire list of 260 daily winners of the year 1944, and will receive a $1,000 war bond from Tom Breneman, host of the daily WTAW broadcast.

Final selection will be made by radio editors of daily and weekly newspapers and radio magazines of the entire country, to whom a brochure will be sent early in December containing copies of letters nominating the twenty outstanding Good Neighbors saluted during the year.

It is possible that the winner may be brought to Hollywood to appear with Breneman on the Breakfast at Sardi's broadcast at which the award is made.

Breakfast at Sardi's is broadcast Mondays through Fridays over the BLUE Network at 10:00 a.m., CWT.

It's not a case of brother against brother when Quiz Kids Harve Fischman, 14, and Sparky Fischman, 5, answer roll call in WTAW's celebrated schoolhouse of the air. Instead, it's a radio manifestation of what Philadelphia is supposed to be the city of.

When Sparky makes a brilliant reply to one of Quizmaster Joe Kelly's brain-busters, Harve's face lights up with an expansive that's my-boy-smile. And when big brother Harve gives correct answers, Sparky chortles in high glee and claps away wildly.

Sparky is Harve's protege. He began grooming his younger brother for Quiz Kid status when Sparky was a tiny two, scarcely able to lisp "ptarmigan." When Sparky was midway in his third year, Harve, whose specialty is American history, began teaching him the names of U. S. presidents.

After a month of coaching, Harve felt confident that Sparky had memorized the presidents to perfection. So one evening before a suitable audience of neighborhood small fry, Harve called upon Sparky to name the thirteenth president. Sparky hesitated a moment, gulped, and said: "Hitler."

But seldom does Sparky fail so abysmally. Generally, his retentive little brain cells fasten onto all the facts his talented brother thrusts at him. He's now in kindergarten, but the bulk of his knowledge is supplied by impromptu seminars with Tutor Harve.

Three R's are enough for the lads and there's little chance that a fourth R-Rivalry—will ever come between them.

Biology Club to Have Special Meeting Wed.

William F. Huddleston announced today that the Biology Club will have a special meeting Wednesday night at 7:00 p.m. in the Biology Lecture Room of the Science Hall.

The Biology Club has remained inactive for the past three semesters due to a lack of members, and this meeting is for the purpose of electing officers and greeting new members, Huddleston said. He added that there are several interesting programs planned for the coming semester, including talks by some of the faculty and members of the Extension Service, along with several interesting movies.

Ex-Servicemen Meet; To Have Rifle Club

The Ex-serviceman's club met Monday night in a regular meeting to discuss the plans for further organization.

There is to be a rifle club organized among the ex-servicemen, and there should be some keen competition between these veterans from all branches of the service.

A lounge has been provided for in the orderly room of H ramp of Hart Hall. All ex-servicemen are welcome to use this lounge.

The next meeting of the club will be on Monday night, Oct. 30, at 3:15 in room 106 of the Academic Building.
