Ag Experiment Station Attracts Wide Attention

Research being conducted by the swine division of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station is attracting world-wide attention, and many inquiries are being received as a result of recent publications by Dr. Bryant R. Holland and Dr. Carl M. Lyman, according to Fred Hale, head of the division.

The most recent inquiry is from Prof. Vosily N. Bulsin of the Moscow Academy of Science, who requested through the Government Purchasing Commission of the Soviet Union a copy of Dr. Holland's report on "Elimination of Humin (stet) Formation in Acid Hydrolysis of Protein-Carbohydrate Mixture and the Quantitative Separation of Amino Acids by Electrical Transport."

Dr. Lyman recently received a very interested inquiry from Dr. E. Brand of the department of Biochemistry, Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York. The information sought by Dr. Brand was based on Dr. Lyman's report on a "Microbiological Method for Determination of Amino Acids in Feeds and Foodstuffs."

Both Dr. Holland and Dr. Lyman recently delivered papers at the New York meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dolly Madison, wife of President Madison, is given credit for having rescued the Declaration of Independence when the British burned the Capital City in 1814.

Federal Government Needs Metallurgists

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced that it is accepting applications for Metallurgist at salaries from $2,433 to $6,228 a year including overtime pay. These positions are in Washington, D. C., and throughout the United States.

No written test is required for these positions but applicants must have had from 3 to 10 years of appropriate experience. Education may be substituted in part for experience. There are no age limits. Applications for Metallurgist will be accepted by the United States Civil Service Commission until the needs of the service have been met.

Appointments will be war service appointments and will be made in accordance with War Manpower Commission policies and employment stabilization programs. Applications are not desired from persons now using their highest skills in war work.

Further information and application forms may be obtained from the Commission's Local Secretary at College Station, Texas, or from most first-and second-class post offices, Civil Service Regional Offices, or the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C.

When the British burned Washington in 1814, Dolly Madison, wife of President Madison, saved the full length picture of George Washington by cutting it from the frame as the British entered the city. The picture is now in the White House, and is the only article there today that occupied a place in the original mansion.

tions consist of general farming and livestock, and Peeples is developing one of the state's finest purebred Aberdeen-Angus herds. He is well known in livestock and agricultural circles of the Southwest and has been actively identified with both the Houston and the Ft. Worth stock shows.

Elected president of the Association last June, Peeples has carried on the fine tradition of leadership that the organization has received down through the years from its presidents and other officers. He and Mrs. Peeples have three children, two boys and a girl.

In commenting on his appointment, President Peeples said, "I am proud of the appointment, as any A. & M. man would be. It came unsolicited, and the first I knew about it was a telephone call from the Governor asking if I would serve in place of Mr. Burns, who had resigned. The Board has suffered a real loss in the resignation of John Burns, but I will do my best to replace him."

her usual fervor. The four become a troupe and gain success on the stage. The picture has a happy ending.

The Lowdown: A good picture and worth a CQ to see it.
