Jerry Wayne, rising young crooner heard on the Ed Wynn Show, will sub for absent Morton Downey on WTAW's Songs from Morton Downey, during the week of January 15. The program is heard Monday through Friday at 2:00 p. m., CWT.

Carrying on, also, will be the program regulars—Announcer David Ross, "Listening Lady" Leah Ray, the choir, and Jimmy Lytell's orchestra.

Radie Harris, for many years one of radio's most authoritative commentators on stage and screen affairs, will begin a weekly series on WTAW, Saturday, January 13, at 11:15 a. m., CWT.

In her debut broadcast, Miss Harris will present as her guest celebrity Frederic March, now starring in the stage version of "Bell for Adano" and the motion picture, "Tomorrow the World."

Miss Harris, who currently conducts a movie gossip column in the entertainment trade journal, Variety, is credited with having interviewed more stage and screen personalities than any of her contemporaries.

Groucho Marx, the merry madman with a moustache, will cavort as m. c. of the Radio Hall of Fame, Sunday, January 14, at 5:00-6:00 p. m., CWT, over WTAW.

Other stars on the star-studded show will be Martha Raye, wide-mouthed comedienne, and Bill Goodwin of the Burns and Allen Show.

Paul Whiteman and the Radio Hall of Fame orchestra and chorus will supply the musical portions of the broadcast.

With a new m. c., a new format, and an orchestra to provide background music, WTAW's afternoon funfest, Ladies Be Seated, will present a new streamlined show on Monday, January 15, at the regular time, 1:30 p. m., CWT.

Johnny Olsen, the BLUE comic who is just inches away from radio's top-rung, will be the new master-of-ceremonies, replacing Ed East and Polly, who will devote their time to other commitments. A lively orchestra has been added and the program will take on a minstrel show flavor.

For the benefit of large studio audiences, the fiddlers and drum beaters will wear comic costumes.

"You're an Old Smoothie" and "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now" will be sung by Baritone Curley Bradley on WTAW's Farm and Home Makers program Friday, January 12, at 11:30 a. m., CWT.

Other musical numbers to be heard include "This is the Army, Mr. Jones," "Wang, Wang Blues," "When Buddha Smiles," "Mornin' on the Farm" and "Whistling Pete."

Featured on the morning variety show are Home Economist Kay Baxter, the vocalizing Three Rom-published herself as the authority of the day on Social Etiquette. Etiquette, her weighty book of 913 pages, has been revised five times and has been printed over forty times. The value of Etiquette as a book to be referred to for specific information is not denied, but more interesting and much more practical for our purposes are several modern books written in a lighter vein.

The following books are suggested because they deal with current problems, they are humorous and easily read, and above all, because they answer the questions you might ask if you "had the ear" of an authority on etiquette or a personality expert.

Gentlemen Aren't Sissies, by Norton Jonathan is a humorous guide for the streamlined "man about town." Read it straight through for amusement, even if your manners don't need polishing.

Conversation, Please . . . a clinic for talkers, by Loren Carroll is designed to help put words in the mouth of the person who finds only a "frog in his throat".

Co-Etiquette, by Elizabeth Eldridge emphasizes the young lady's manners, but it's a good idea to know "all the angles."

The Art of Living, Andre Maurois' charming and witty book, includes chapters on the art of loving, the art of marriage, the art of family life, the art of friendship, the art of thinking, the art of working, the art of commanding, the art of growing old, and the art of happiness.

Manners for Moderns, by Marjorie E. McCrady and Blanche Wheeler, is a practical but inclusive book with information pertinent to developing a "streamlined code of etiquette."

Dr. M. E. Dodd Will Be On Baptist Hour

Dr. M. E. Dodd, the Baptist Hour speaker for Sunday morning January 14th, is leading Southern Baptists in an all-out Southwide Crusade to win one million to Christ in 1945, the Centennial year of Southern Baptist, as announced by S. F. Lowe, of Atlanta, Georgia, director of the Radio Committee; S.B.C.

The announcement of Mr. Lowe also states that in his message Dr. Dodd will challenge every believer to join a great army of the Lord in so living and wooing and winning in 1945 as for each to lead one or more to become followers of Christ.

Lowe expressed satisfaction that most Protestant groups as well as Baptists are majoring in Evangelism as they enter the new post-war era.

Sunday morning's program will be featured by several of the abiding spirited evangelistic hymns rendered by the Baptist Hour Choir, John D. Hoffman, Director and George Lee Hamrick, Organist.

The Baptist Hour is broadcast over an independent Southern network of 36 stations covering the territory from Washington, D. C. to the far Southwest, and can be heard in Texas over KPRC, Houston; WFAA, Dallas; KGNC, Amarillo, Texas.

BANQUET

Other important guests included Col. Charles Duckworth, commanding officer at Bryan Army Airfield, his wife, and his staff; Commander Gene A. Landrum, commandant of naval affairs here on the campus, his wife, and his staff; and finally Major Joe E. Davis, assistant commandant here at A. & M., and his wife, Major Davis, incidentally, was attending on behalf of Colonel M. D. Welty, who was unable to be present.

At 8:35 the A Cappella Choir of the Stephen F. Austin High School in Bryan, composed of some thirty or forty members, and under the direction of Mr. Euell Porter, opened their part of the program with the National Anthem. Several negro spirituals, "Plenty a Good Room," and "Climb'n up the Mountain" were sung by the choir as part of their program. This choir is very outstanding in that it has made numerous appearances at conventions, meetings, banquets, etc., throughout Texas.

Gibb Gilchrist, president of A. & M. College and the principal speaker of the evening, outlined his views for the improvement in the near future, of both Brazos County and A. & M. College. Among important topics discussed was the formation of a committee, with plans laid out by engineers to locate and build sewage disposal locations for Bryan and College Station. He also stated that corporation lines should be laid out between these two communities. Gilchrist also proposed the establishment of numerous Agricultural and Mechanical Art Schools throughout Texas to train men to be better farmers, dairymen, and cattlemen and industrial worker. Gilchrist also proposed both better church environment for the students here at A. & M., and also better law enforcement of all kinds.

Other council members serving this year are: Miss Kay Doney, Mrs. J. C. Gaines, Luke Patrelan, Reagan Warren, and Mrs. H. N. Young, representative from troop leaders. Several more council members will be appointed at a later date, it was announced by the Commissioner.

The need for more troop leaders was stressed at the meeting. "So much remains to be done in 1945," Mrs. Long, in charge of organization, said at the meeting. "Even with the many men and women working during 1944 we have not been able to say to every girl who wants to be a Girl Scout that we have room in a troop for you. This is one of the aims of the organization in the coming year, and in order to do it we need to add more and more leaders and workers to our list."

Girl Scout troop leaders now serving the girls in this community are: Mrs. W. D. Harris, Mrs. Howard Hedges, Mrs. Paul Johnson, Mrs. B. L. Warwick, Mrs. M. P. Holleman, Mrs. Charles Munday, Mrs. C.
