

Aggie 1945 Football Schedule Released By Coach Norton

Baylor Back On List After Two Year's Absence; 10 Games Carded

Coach Homer Norton today released the Texas Aggies' football schedule for 1945 calling for ten games, three on Kyle Field and seven on the road. All six other Southwest Conference foes will be met, with additional games with Texas Tech, Oklahoma, Louisiana State and University of Miami.

Games with Texas Tech in San Antonio, Louisiana State in Baton Rouge and Miami will be played at night. There is a possibility that the Oklahoma contest scheduled tentatively to be played at Norman may be moved to Oklahoma City and played at night.

The ten-game schedule follows:
 Sept. 29—Texas Tech at San Antonio (night).
 Oct. 6—Oklahoma at Norman.
 Oct. 13—Louisiana State at Baton Rouge (night).
 Oct. 20—TCU at Fort Worth.
 Oct. 27—Baylor at College Station.
 Nov. 3—Arkansas at Fayetteville.
 Nov. 10—SMU at College Station.
 Nov. 17—Rice at Houston.
 Nov. 29—Texas at College Station.
 Dec. 7—Miami at Miami (night).
 Baylor goes back on the Texas Aggie schedule in the old order, a place held the past two years by the North Texas Aggies while the Baylor Bears were not playing football.

Ags Defeated

McCloskey General Hospital defeated the Aggie basketball team here last night 46 to 33. Half-time score was tied at 13.

High point man was O'Sullivan of the Medics with 14 points. Boyd and Soss of McCloskey and Cherno of the Aggies were tied for second with 10 each.

Lettermen Honored At Tuesday Dinner

Aggie football and cross-country lettermen were honored Tuesday night at the annual "T" banquet held in Sbsia Hall.

Presentation of Aggie bars for second year lettermen and Aggie "T" medals for first year lettermen was made by C. W. Crawford, chairman of the athletic council and Coaches Norton and Rap Putman introduced the football and cross country lettermen.

Jimmy Cashion, who left for the Army Thursday, was named as the most valuable player. He received a handsome luggage piece, given by S. A. "Pop" Lipscomb and W. F. Munnerlyn. Also receiving like awards for team captains were Monte Moncrief and Greek Tassos. Cotton Howell received the award given annually by Bert Pfaff of Tyler to the outstanding blocker. The team captains were chosen by the lettermen, while the most valuable player and best blocker were selected by the coaches.

Main speaker of the evening was Rufus Peoples of Tehuacana, newly elected member of the board of directors of the college. J. A. "Hop" Reynolds of Dallas served as toastmaster.

 that was the date of the group's second anniversary in the Mediterranean Theater of Operations and it was also the eve of its 2500th combat mission against the Nazis.

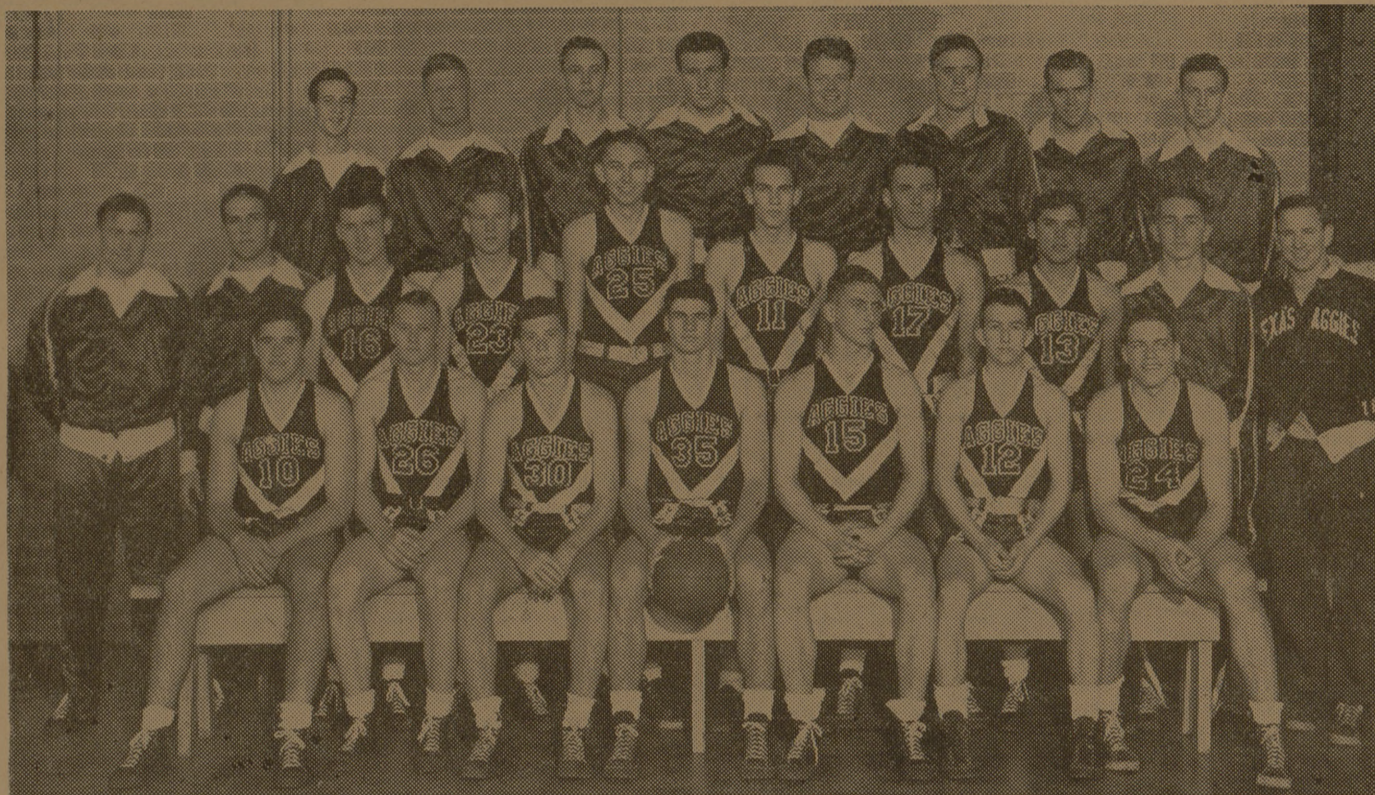

The citation covers the day of the Salerno invasion, Sept. 10, 1943. On that day, the 27th, then flying A-36 Invaders and commanded by Col. Dorr E. Newton, Jr., Fox Hollow Farms, Malvern, Pa., in the words of the citation, "set itself above and apart from other similar units . . . in the same engagement," when it "completely neutralized the combat effectiveness of three Axis panzer divisions."

In a "grueling, daylong assault," the general orders read, "the 27th Fighter Group, coordinated with attacks of other units of the Allied Air Forces, prevented the transfer of overwhelmingly powerful reinforcements and contributed in great measure to the successful establishment of the Salerno beachhead."

The citation particularly lauds the "skill and devotion . . . of the group personnel." The invaders were based at that time on Sicily. Over half the ground personnel were on landing craft and on the beachhead, under severe artillery fire and aerial attack, waiting to establish a new air base on the European mainland. The rest remained in Sicily, laboring night and day to keep all aircraft flying despite heavy damage from enemy anti-aircraft fire. The highest tribute is paid to these ground officers, crew chiefs, armorers and engineering, communications, ordnance, and administrative personnel for "the great credit they reflect upon the military service of the United States."

The 27th Fighter Group has previously been cited for its gallantry in action on Bataan and Java and in the skies over Australia in the early days of the war with Japan.

Capt. McGregor attended Temple High School, Temple, Texas, and Texas A. & M. College at College Station, Texas, and Lt. Long went to Austin High School, El Paso, and Texas A. & M. Lt. Long is a squadron armament officer.

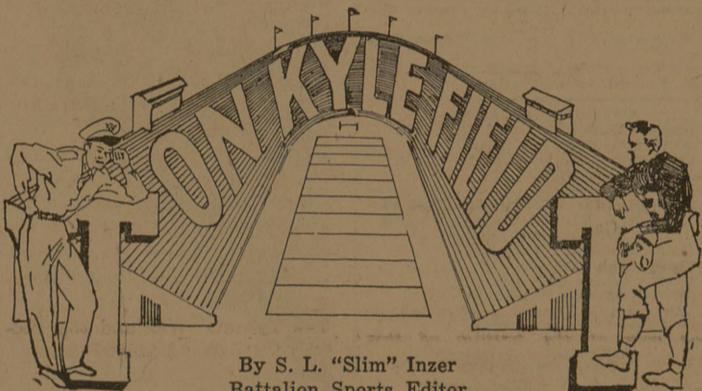

Here are the cagers who wear the Maroon and White of Texas A. & M. College. This year's team is young and inexperienced, but they have one conference game and never fail to show the Aggie fight.

Front row: Kenneth Abrams, Bob Collins, Charles Weinbaum, Hub Ellis, Milt Cherno, Bill McCormick, and Cotton Howell.

Yours Until I Pick a Winner

Well, ole Army it looks like I have finally come to the end of my rope, but it is with regret that I sit down here and bang out Kyle Field for the last time. It has been fun, and I hope that my readers (both of them) have enjoyed reading this column as much as I have enjoyed writing it.

Fond memories will always return when I think of the "Fall of '44," even though we didn't win all of the ball games. The SMU and Rice games, the nights before and after the SMU and Rice games, Silver Taps at Austin again, Corps Balls here when we played on Kyle Field, fumbles and more fumbles, those two nights in San Antonio, the thirty hours it took me to hitch-hike back—these are some of the things I will think of when I think of my last semester at A. & M.

As for my predictions this year, I don't think I was as bad as my average showed, but what is my word against 2,000 Aggies. Good luck, Army, and "Skin'em Alive in '45."

Faculty Volleyball Players Needed

Attention is called to the fact that more faculty members are needed to engage in the faculty volleyball games. It was pointed out by a member of the faculty that in order for the plans to be successful, a larger number of men must turn out for the games.

On next Tuesday, January 30, at 7 p. m., the next meeting of those who wish to play will be held. The men who participated in last times games have expressed hope that there will be a large number of men at this meeting.

 structure administration of the School of Agriculture, by which it has attained nationwide prestige. In the work of the Council itself, his services as a member of its Executive Committee, as Chairman of the Course Committee, and repeatedly as Chairman of the Faculty Committee on Athletics and the Athletic Council have been of outstanding value.

"In expressing its appreciation of his past services, the Council rejoices in the prospect that he will continue to serve the College in ways for which he is particularly fitted, and expresses the sincere hope that he will find happiness in the performance of his new duties."

Also on the records of the Academic Council is a resolution regarding the services of Dr. George Summey Jr., who has retired as head of the Department of English to devote his full time to instruction. It reads:

"The members of the Academic Council wish to express to Dr. George Summey Jr., their sincere good wishes upon his retirement from the Academic Council to assume larger teaching duties. The Council will miss his steady influence, his sound realistic advice, which is modestly and considerately given, and his willing helpfulness, which has led to the solution of difficult problems.

"A man whose judgements are founded in thorough-going scholarship, Dr. Summey is a force for good on this campus. By his publications and reputation among English scholars throughout the nation, he has added to the stature of the College. It is fortunate for the College that, in his future service, his wholesome influence on students will not be lessened, and his opportunity for scholarly accomplishment will be continued."

This resolution was signed by B. M. Faires, L. G. Jones, and T. D. Brooks.

Both resolutions were submitted to the Academic Council through Executive Vice President F. C. Bolton with the request that they be made a part of the minutes of the Council and that a copy be given each of the two men commended.

INTRAMURALS

By R. L. Bynes

As the picture stands at present, it looks as though Bob English's F Company has a mighty good chance to cop that coveted intramural banner for the coming semester in that they are among the finalists in both the touch football division, the speedball division, and they have just snatched the crown in the volleyball department.

Thursday afternoon, the infantrymen from south of Sbsia Hall escorted B Battery out, as far as the championship in volleyball was concerned, with their two consecutive wins of 15-4, and 15-14 to grab the volleyball championship for themselves. Playing heads up ball all the way, the boys from F Company routed the buggy-bitches in the first performance, 15-4. Although you couldn't prove it by the score, the battery-men—with Goad, Peterman, and Kidd at the reins—made a fine effort to pull the game out of the first for themselves, but the colorful skillful play of fish Howard and English was just too much for the slightly crippled B Battery. Several Battery-men were not able to participate in the contest. B Battery managed to eke out a momentary 11-10 lead several minutes after the outset of the second feud largely through the helpful kibitzing of Dick Goad with his fellow teammates.

In gaining the finals, English's outfit—although dropping the first game 11-15, they went on to defeat E Troop in the next two: 15-7, and 15-9; even though the oval did connect with fish Howard's breadbasket once or twice during the game. English displayed typical Aggie sportsmanship late in the fourth period as cold sweat was drooling down the collars of everyone present, when he allowed the game point to be played over because some anonymous student unconsciously got in the way of the ball. Everyone present from F Company was happy about the whole thing, and why shouldn't they be, for on the next play of the game they stacked up the championship for themselves.

Wednesday night, the B Company infantrymen literally plowed A Company under with a very one-sided score of 37-11 to emerge as champs in the basketball division. In the touch football finals, A Company is scheduled to meet F Company sometime later in the week.

In a game which can be described truthfully as "big versus little," F Battery, relying mainly on the might of Sacra, and Shira, first string tackle of last years team; managed to plug up a last minute tie to emerge as semi-finalists in speedball.

The comparatively diminutive A Battery, sparked by the skillful play of pint-sized fish Pryzant, kept the big boys on their toes most of the game. Pryzant had to leave the game late in the fourth quarter when he sustained a painful bruise on the calf of his right leg while preventing the massive Shira from counting for the F Battery near the end of the game. Other standouts for A Battery were: Lonquist, Henning, Cornforth, Lane, and Higgins. The final score was 5-4, F Battery over A Battery. F Battery gained the semi-finals by tromping B Company

Spring Football Practice Begins Here February 5

Coach Homer Norton has issued a call for football candidates entering Texas A. & M. College too late last fall to try out for the Maroon and White team, or high school boys entering school at beginning of February semester to report for two or three weeks of individual attention practice beginning Feb. 5.

Texas Aggie lettermen and squadmen from 1944 who may be in school at opening of fall practice also will report for workouts and will help Norton and assistants train the new men.
