

WTAW Batt Chat

Paul Lukas, star of stage and screen, will be the guest of Radio Harris, livewire WTAW commentator, Saturday, February 3, at 11:15 a. m., CWT. Miss Harris brings a celebrated personality to the microphone weekly in an interview planned to give WTAW listeners the latest Broadway and Hollywood chatter.

SUPERIOR DRY CLEANING LAUTERSTEIN'S Phone 4-4444

That torrid torch tune of the thirties, "Temptation" and "My Heart Tells Me" will be intoned by Curley Bradley on WTAW's Farm and Home Makers program, Monday, February 5, at 11:30 a. m., CWT.

Under the direction of Rex Maupin, the Home Towners will play "Love is Sweeping the County" and the Harmonizers, string sextet, will present "Barbara Polka" and "Estrellita."

Kay Baxter, ace homemaker, will have more up-to-the-minute hints for homemakers and Mirandy, the Persimmon Holler philosopher, will add her bit of cheer.

The quick-witted Quiz Kids will tackle a tough "Spotlight Question" propounded by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, on their WTAW broadcast, Sunday, February 4, at 6:30 p. m., CWT.

The five knowing youngsters who will grapple with the question submitted by the First Lady of the Land are Joel Kupperman, 8; Ann Farrell, 14; Harve Fischman, 14; Richard Williams, 15; and a newcomer, 10-year-old Jack Mendelsohn, Jr., whose specialty is astronomy.

Joe Kelly will serve as quizmaster of ceremonies.

Artie Shaw and his torrid clarinet will join the music brawl, Eddie Condon's Jazz Concert, over WTAW on Saturday, February 3, at 12:00, CWT.

Heard with Shaw will be the hot lips and rhythmic rands of regulars Pee Wee Russell, Mugsy Spanier, Gene Schroeder, Maxie Kaminsky and Joe Grauso.

The inimitable Ozark Ramblers in their distinctive hillbilly style will present "Ridin' All Day," "Don't You Tell a Soul," "There's a Chill on the Hill Tonight" and "Blues in E-Flat" on their WTAW program Monday, February 5 at 3:15 p. m., CWT.

On Tuesday, February 6, the group will present "Oh, Suzannah," "I'm Making Believe," "The Yokel Loved to Yodel" and "Nagasaki."

Members of the Ozark Ramblers include the Miccolis Sisters, Johnny, Monty and Ambrose.

Back in the United States after three months overseas covering the fighting fronts in Europe, Leonard Stowe, WTAW war correspondent, author and commentator, will continue the broadcast schedule he has followed in recent weeks. He is heard each Saturday at 6:15 p. m., CWT, and Sunday at 12:55 p. m., CWT.

Stowe, author of the best-seller, "They Shall Not Sleep," visited London, Paris, Rome and Athens on his recent tour and covered the First and Third Army fighting fronts.

BLUE (WTAW) Correspondents Abroad, the Monday-through-Friday presentation of the latest war news direct from the battle areas, will be heard at a new time beginning Monday, February 5, when the program shifts from 12:15 p. m. to 2:00 p. m., CWT. Each 15-minute broadcast includes pickups from three BLUE Network news centers on the fighting fronts.

Beginning early in February, the Andrews Sisters Show, heard Sundays at 3:30 p. m., CWT, over WTAW, will be broadcast from Army and Navy hospitals. The program currently is aired from the BLUE's Hollywood studios.

Accompanying the trio on their weekly visit to a servicemen's rest center will be "Gabby" Hayes, bewhiskered Western film comic, Vic Schoen's orchestra, Foy Willing and his Riders of the Purple Sage,

HITCH-HIKING

Continued from Page 1 you make on the driver can do much to prompt him to pick up someone next time. The first thing you should do is introduce yourself. If your host inclines toward conversation, it's your duty to talk. Unless the driver is smoking it's always best to ask before lighting up. If he asks, you should be ready to help out with the driving.

At the end of your ride you should make it clear how much you appreciated the lift. If drivers find out how much a ride means now-a-days, they aren't so likely to pass you up next time.

So when that old thumb gets to itching, or that long-awaited furlough or leave comes through, why not remember that there's a way even to hitch-hiking. Find out where the right corner is. Watch that you aren't upstreaming. In-sure future rides by being courteous to your driver. Let him know how much you appreciated the lift. Hitch-hiking isn't dead—especially if we don't purposely kill it. Hit the road—but hit it right—and good luck.

TURKEY

Allow one square foot of floor space per poult up to six or eight weeks, and do not brood more than 150 to 200 under one hover. If the birds are to be raised in strict confinement provide four square feet floor space after they reach 10 weeks of age. Put the birds on range when 10 to 12 weeks old.

Another wise practice is to provide two inches of feeder space up to three or four weeks of age, increasing it gradually to five inches per poult at six to eight weeks. Still another is placing three or four one-gallon waterers per hundred poult from day olds to three weeks. From three to eight weeks, change to three-gallon fountains, and from eight weeks to market, supply four five-gallon containers, or a 10 foot drinking trough. For roosts use 2 by 4 inch material placed 24 inches apart with flat sides exposed, and two or three feet from the ground, providing 14 to 16 inches of roosting space per bird. Remove droppings or move roosts to clean ground regularly.
