dance as it is expected that some Cadets will not be able to get dates at such a late date.

Arrangements have been made by the Jackson Association so that the cadets will have a place to stay if they wish to remain in Huntsville overnight.

According to the Houstonian, SHSTC school paper, the price for the dance will be $1.20, couple or stags, and there will be a refreshment booth in the gymnasium, where soft drinks will be sold.

Members of the Jackson Hall Association have gone to a great deal of trouble to make this an occasion that the Aggies will not forget for a long time.

soon provided and after the new Academic Building became available ample space was provided for the operation of the store.

At the beginning of World War I, the college had many civilians in training on the campus and was in need of additional facilities to take care of their shopping needs.

Shortly before President Bizzell left A. & M., authority was granted to erect a store building large enough to take care of the needs of the student body.

Many changes in styles, buying habits and customer reactions have been noted by Mr. Chatham during the more than a third of a century he has managed The Exchange Store.

Out of the profits realized over the 36 years of Mr. Chatham's management, the indebtedness of the store has been liquidated.

It has long been Mr. Chatham's policy and in this he is joined by the college administration that surplus profits, if any are realized, be returned to the students through increased recreational facilities.

Mr. Chatham's most recent experience has been to experience again 1918 and see war training return to the campus in the form of thousands of servicemen, many of whom found in the modern facilities of The Exchange Store innovations that would have opened the eyes of their buddies of World War I who also traded at "Chatham's Store."

Meadows of D Co. and Brown of H Co. were pitching it out close on one court, while a heated match between Woods of D Co. and Wallace of H Co. was also going.

A Co. defeated D Troop in all games last Friday. The horsemen were always pitching well, but the infantrymen were doing just a little better most of the time.

H Co. came back after taking it on the chin by the accurate D Co. men, to beat F Co. in all the games. Baker and Ar buckle won their games again as they did against D Co.

D Troop got a forfeit over the Band.

A Battery took the Second Co. Frogs into camp last Tuesday by taking four games and losing two.

The second game of this series was an extremely close one. The game was tied at a score of 20-20, when Darby and Kelson put two in as close as they could be. It was called a tie and the game went on with the Frogs taking the next two points.

Troop 102 has collected 16,506 pounds and troop 411, 14,500 lbs. The cubs have collected over 8,000 pounds.
