Methodist Church Monday, May 21. Members of the society brought Indian relics and souvenirs to the meeting, which were displayed during the program.

'Travel Party' Honors Consolidated Faculty And Senior Class

A "travel party" was tendered the Senior Class and faculty of the A. & M. Consolidated High School by the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church of College Station Thursday, May 17, in the Education building of the church.

A travel tour of the states of the nation was simulated by appropriate booths, each of which formed a part of the program and refreshment course. Mrs. L. M. Haupt served fruit juice at the Texas booth, and Mrs. R. L. Brown displayed Indian dolls in a tepee village at the New Mexico booth. At the California booth guests received napkins, plates, and olives, and viewed appropriate displays shown by Mrs. George Litton.

Mrs. F. M. Chestnut gave a brief talk on scenic drives and pinned a rose, the state flower, on each guest at the Oregon booth. Fish sandwiches were also served.

Pictured donkeys furnished imaginary transportation to the Colorado booth, where ice cream and cake were served at the top of Pike's Peak. Mrs. R. L. Brown showed moving picture scenes of mountains, canyons, and other natural formations to simulate the trip home.

The program was concluded by a number of Texas songs played by C. F. Craighead, and group singing of "God Bless America."

Committees named were as follows: Nacogdoches Project, Mrs. E. L. Williams and Miss Bennie Campbell; Landing Craft Infantry, Mrs. R. E. Patterson and Mrs. Byron Alfred Brown; Yearbook, Mrs. V. M. Faires, Mrs. W. E. Echols, and Mrs. L. L. Fouraker; Junior Membership, Mrs. S. B. Williams and Miss Cynthia Lancaster; Historical, Mrs. J. E. Marsh and Miss Lucy Brogdon; Ellis Island, Mrs. P. H. Lovely spring flowers adorned the living room, and a delicious refreshment course was served.

by is "women" (who could want or have better). When approached with the question, "What's lacking at A. & M.?" Dan replied, "There's nothing lacking that outfits and a little heavy timber won't fix up." Dan emphasized that the thing he'd enjoyed most since he'd entered Texas A. & M. was "going to the football games, making the corp trips, and being able to stand in front of a corp of yelling Aggies and leading the songs and yells."

Dan's future is rather uncertain; he has a principal appointment to West Point and is scheduled to enter July 2. He has distinguished every semester since he's been here and is majoring in ME.

"I hope for one thing," Dan added as a final statement, "and that is that we beat the HELL out-a Texas next fall."

The cost of the engagement ring.
The marriage license fee.
The cost of the wedding ring.
The cost of the present to the bride.
The cost of the gifts to best man and ushers.
The cost of ties, gloves, and boutonnieres for the best man and ushers (if the wedding is formal).
The check if you have a bachelor dinner.

The cost of a bouquet for the bride (optional).
The cost of corsages for your mother and bride's mother.
Transportation for your best man and yourself from your home or hotel to the church.
The clergyman's fee.
All expenses of the honeymoon trip.
In some localities the groom pays for the flowers for the bride's attendants but usually these are included in the expenses of the bride's father; they are considered a part of the wedding decorations.

THE LOWDOWN ON CAMPUS DISTRACTIONS

By J. L. Everett

Friday and Saturday at the Campus will be "Mr. Lucky" and "Youth Runs Wild". "Mr. Lucky" with Cary Grant, is the story of a gangster and his rise to society. The other feature, "Youth Runs Wild", starring Bonita Granville, is a preaching on juvenile delinquency. The story centers around parents in defense plants whose offspring get out of hand.

LOWDOWN—Both good—worth seeing!
Sunday at the Campus "Christmas Holiday" is the feature. This picture, with Deanna Durbin and Gene Kelly, is from W. Somerset Maugham's novel of a girl married to a man serving life for murder.

She meets a soldier on Christmas furlough who helps her through the tragedy that follows. LOWDOWN: See it!
"The Thin Man Goes Home", with William Powell and Myrna Loy, will be at the Palace Sunday. Detective Nick Charles and his wife, Nora, return to Nick's home town for a reunion with his family. When a young artist is killed and his inartistic paintings are quickly purchased by strangers, Nick senses an espionage plot and is quickly embarked on a clue chase. There are many suspects and another slaying before Nick discovers the culprit. LOWDOWN: A fine picture—see it!

Dean Shepardson Named Director of Luling Foundation

Dean Chas. N. Shepardson of the School of Agriculture, has been notified that he has been chosen a director of the Luling Foundation to succeed E. J. Kyle, former dean of Agriculture.

This foundation was set up in the middle 1920's by Edgar B. Davis, oil man, who was raised at Luling and had witnessed the steady decline in productivity of farm lands in that section through continuous cotton planting. Main purpose of the foundation is to demonstrate diversified livestock raising to restore soil balances and to take away the constant perils of a one-crop farming system.

lad with a great love for horses. This is also Jeanne Crain's first picture and her characterization of Char is excellent. Char is pictured as a sweet country girl.

The old familiar success pattern is evident in this story. A young hero starts with practically nothing, overcomes all of his obstacles, and winds up a success. In the background is the less familiar story of a glorious comeback of an old man, which is also engineered by the young hero.

This film is in technicolor and shows some of Indiana's most beautiful scenery. The race is exciting, and the proceedings of the county fair make the scene a colorful bit of America, a la Hollywood. The structure of this story is the conventional chronological series of events.

The story will probably appear shallow if not peruse to adult moviegoers, particularly to those who have never developed a liking for horses or racing. But it will be interesting to lovers of horses and to all children. For these the picture is not one to be acclaimed by the critics.

All our prosperity must come from the land. Don't let it loaf.
