Judge Ware Quotes War Loan Figures At Kiwanis Meeting

Figures on the progress of the Seventh War Loan drive in Brazos County were given the College Station Kiwanis Club by A. S. Ware, Brazos County judge, at the club's regular meeting on June 19. Judge Ware advised that the total quota for the county had been subscribed to 138% of the goal set, but emphasized that the county quota for Series E bond sales was still far short. His talk was concluded by an appeal to every citizen of the community to buy additional Series E bonds without the necessity of high-pressure salesmanship tactics.

The meeting was opened by group singing of America and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Late news developments were read by Byron Winstead, of the College publicity department.

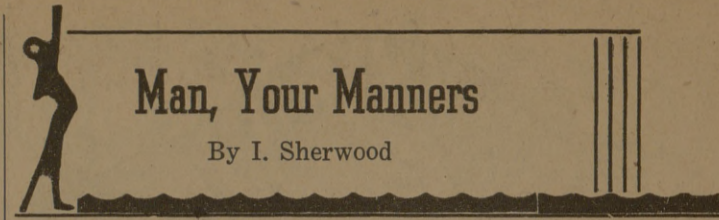

Col. Frank Anderson announced that a softball league of eight teams, made up of boys and adults of College Station, was in the process of formation and would begin play soon. Mayor Ernest Langford, who introduced the speaker, also made announcements of a meeting of all residents of the city for July 2 and of the city clean-up campaign scheduled for June 25, 26, and 27.

Man, Your Manners

By I. Sherwood

"To settle an argument will you tell me the correct way in which to eat peas? One person says they are always eaten with a fork, another that they may be eaten with either a spoon or fork." It is customary to eat vegetables with a fork. This applies in the case of peas.

"Should a fork be held with prongs up or down when eating vegetables?" Vegetables should be conveyed to the mouth on the fork the prongs of which are up. When eating meat one should hold the fork with prongs down. "Is it improper to cut up all of the meat on your dinner plate at one time?" The problem of how much meat to cut up at one time really depends upon the "style" of eating that you prefer. You may follow the Continental method of cutting off one bite of meat at a time and conveying it directly to your mouth, with your fork remaining in your left hand, tines down, as it was for cutting. Or you may prefer the American style of cutting off two or three bites of meat, laying down your knife, transferring your fork to your right hand, and eating the bites of meat, interspersed among bites of the rest of the dinner. You would never cut up your entire serving of meat at any one time.

day of the following April, on which date all subsequent elections have been held. The city took advantage of other statutes, in April 1941 dividing the city into wards with two councilmen from each ward whose terms expired in alternate years. At that time the title of a "city father" was changed from alderman to councilman. Another statute taken advantage of allowed the voters to pass upon the city manager plan, which was adopted on April 4, 1944 by an eleven to one majority.
