

Aggies Mar Sooner Record With 19-14 Defeat Saturday

Fumbles Prove Disastrous For Oklahoma University

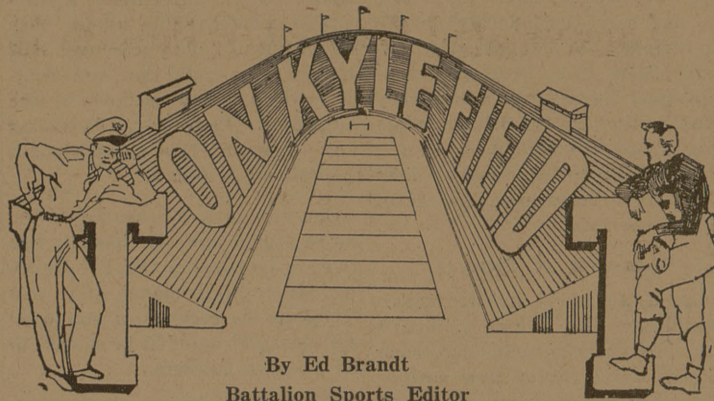

Cashing in on three expensive Oklahoma fumbles, the Texas Aggies piled up a score of 19-14 over the Sooners during last Saturday's game at Owen Field in Norman, Oklahoma. An Aggie fumble and a 77-yard drive were responsible for the two Oklahoma scores.

The red-shirted Sooners got off to a bad start with a fumble in the first play of the game. Bob Butchofsky covered the ball, and it was a first and ten to go for the Aggies on the Oklahoma 21 yard stripe. With Peeewe Smith doing some fancy running, the Aggies worked up to the one-yard line, and Bob Goode dived over the stripe on a line back to score the first Cadet tally of the day.

Then came an exchange of punts, with both sides running into a solid wall of opposition when they tried to carry the ball. Before the first quarter was five minutes old, Steward of Oklahoma made the second costly Sooner fumble which was covered by hard-driving Aggie end Charley Yeargain, and the Cadets took over on the Sooner 27. Goode shot a 23 yard pass to Norton Higgins, and A. & M. advanced to the 12-yard line. From there, Smith and Goode drove down to the one-yard line and Goode plowed across again, to chalk up the second Aggie score of the afternoon. Higgins kicked the extra point, and the score stood Texas Aggies 13, Oklahoma 0.

Sooners Switch Offense
The Sooners switched from the "T" formation to the single wing, and the Oklahoma team began to click. Hawkins loped 33 yards through the Aggie defense, but penalties marred the rally and the Aggies took over the ball on their own 14, after Hawkins punted the Sooners out of a hole. Johnny Feagan missed the ball on a bad pass from center; Oklahoma's Joe Harrell pounced on the ball, and the Sooners found themselves in possession on the Aggie seven yard stripe. Hawkins plunged over the goal on a reverse to the left, and Bodenham's conversion made the score 13-7, in favor of the Aggies.

Oklahoma Goes Ahead
In the second half, Steward found an opening in the Cadet line, and galloped through it for thirty eight yards. With the ball on the Aggies' 37, Venable's eleven yard spinner and a pass to Aubrey McCall moved the Sooners down to the Aggie 10, and Venable powered on through for the remaining yardage. Bodenham kicked the point and the Sooners took

The old injury plague has finally hit the Aggies, and this week finds three key men sidelined. Fullback Preston Smith is suffering from bruised ribs and sore elbows, tackle Leonard Dickey is ailing with a severe charlie-horse in his left thigh, and quarterback Tom Daniels is in the college hospital with the flu. At first Smith's ribs were reported as being broken, but on examination, it was learned that they are only badly bruised. Dickey is expected to see service in the LSU tussle, but his time will be limited. As for Tom Daniel, he is reported to have fever of 102, and though he will probably make the Baton Rouge trip, is not expected to play. The starting line-up has not been announced, as things may turn expected to make their grades, and good ones. With an athlete, a good part of his time is taken up with practice and game trips and as a consequence, his grades suffer. After a hard day's practice session, or upon returning to the campus after a weekend of rough and tough football, a man is naturally expected to be just a little worn out. It is at these times that grades suffer, and grade points drop. With this drop in grades, comes a drop in eligibility, and no team can be a team without eligible players. That is where the upperclassmen come in. You juniors and seniors who are making fairly good grades should take it upon yourselves to help out the football players in your own outfit, and should do it with a feeling of content in knowing that you in a small way have directly helped that Ole Army ball team be just a shade better than it was before. It means a lot to the fellows on the squad for someone to give them a little help in class- es that they miss or are behind in. Realize that these ball players are your buddies, and that they are the boys next to you in ranks in the outfits. Help them all you can, and do the best you can to cooperate with them. We are all Aggies down here, and should keep that uppermost in our minds at all times. An Aggie is a person who is noted for having that sense of cooperation that makes us all work together for the same common goal. Think it over, Army, and give these football players all the help and support you can. This is another way to show that ole ball team that the whole corps is behind them 100%. We've got to push them and pull them when the going gets tough, and nothing can be tougher than being behind or missing class work. It's up to you. What are you going to do with it? Are you going to be an Aggie, or are you going to promptly forget about it and leave the team to struggle for itself. Take this as a challenge, and let's see what you can do about it.

here is how they should turn out this week.
A&M over LSU. This will be the week's closest game, but the Aggies have it by a single point, say 14-13.

Texas U. over Oklahoma U. The Longhorns will have their hands full, but make it TU 20, OU 7.

Arkansas over Baylor. This will be the highest scoring game of the week. Score: Arkansas 26, Baylor 6.

Oklahoma A&M over SMU. The Oklahoma Aggies will walk away with this one about 33 to 0.

Tulane over Rice. The Green Wave should wave on to the tune of about 25 to 0.
