

Ags Clash With Baylor Bears Saturday On Kyle Field

Bears Are Heavier; Aggies Practice Point Kicking

By Harold Borofsky

The Texas Aggies meet the Baylor Bears this Saturday afternoon in a crucial conference game for both teams. The Bears lost their opener to T.C.U. but bounced back and handed Arkansas a defeat, thus staying in the running for the conference crown. The Aggies, who lost a heartbreaker to T.C.U. in their opener last week cannot afford to lose another one. The Bears have a weight advantage of ten pounds per man on the line and nine pounds per man in the backfield, which may prove to be an important factor if the game is played in the rain.

Anchoring the Baylor line will be Richard Johnson who starred for the Bears in 1942. Johnson plays center and is a reliable extra point kicker. Starting at left end will be Joe Joiner, who currently is rated as one of the top ends of the conference. The other end slot will be filled by J. W. Arbuckle, while Clarence McGaw and James Parker will hold down the tackle posts and Mickey Attas and Frank Devereaux will start as guards.

The Bear backfield is one of the most versatile in the South and headlines Sammy Pierce is cur-pound all-stater last year at Vernon High School. Pierce is currently the second ranking ball carrier in the conference, being topped only by Preston Smith of the Aggies. Running with Pierce will be Jack Price, who calls the signals, Bobby Griffin, triple-threat-er from Garland, and Billy Kimbrough, a dangerous passer.

The Aggies, stinging from last week's defeat, will be primed to give the Bears the works. No one was injured last week, and now that Monte Monerief has recovered from an attack of the flu the team will be at top strength.

Goode, Smith, and Ballentine have been practicing extra point kicking all week, and Tom Daniels has been sharpening up on his passing.

The Aggies will go into the game slight favorites by virtue of Baylor's 7-7 tie with the Texas Tech last week. The Cadets trounced Tech 16-6. Should the weather be damp the Bears will have the advantage. In any case, it looks like another thrilling battle is on tap. See you at Kyle Field!

P. E. Department Gets Former Profs

"Spike" White, sometimes officially cited as Carlton Gaily White, has been released from service with the U. S. navy and has resumed his job with the physical education department where he plays an important part in the direction of intramurals, it has been announced by W. L. Penberthy, head of the department.

Penberthy also announced the addition to his staff of Lieutenant Herman Segrest, former star athlete at North Texas State, who is now on terminal leave from the Air Corps. Segrest and his family have taken up residence in College Station and he has entered upon his duties with the PE department.

White left Texas A&M in the Fall of 1942 and has served three years including many months of sea duty. His job with the navy was physical training and administrative work, and he has gained valuable experience that will be useful in his present job, it was stated. He was a Lieutenant Senior Grade in the navy.

Segrest was stationed on the campus as Physical Training officer with the Air Corps program here and has served at Fort Worth AAF and other Air Corps stations.

Chopping Block

By Frank Cawthon

A&M 14—Baylor 0.

The Aggies forward wall and running power will be too much for the Bear's to cope with. Baylor is badly injured from their tie game with Texas Tech, and will not be in the top notch condition needed to score on Ole' Army.

Texas 19—Rice 7.

The Owls need George Walmsley to throw against Texas, but he won't become eligible until Nov. 1. The Steer's powerful line and unlimited backfield reserve will be the deciding factor. Also to become eligible the first will be such welcomed men as Ralph Ellsworth, George McCal, Joe Baumgardner, and H. K. Allen, but these stars will be sporting Orange and White of Texas U.

S.M.U. 10—Tulane 7.

An up and coming Mustang eleven which is improving by leaps and bounds, will journey to New Orleans for this tussle. In my opinion the Green Wave will be surprised at the power the Mustangs can show when at full strength.

Mississippi 19—Arkansas 12

After the Razorbacks poor showing against the Longhorns, the stock in this Ozark eleven dropped considerably. They are pretty well on the door-mat list, while Old Miss' sports a smooth working team. The Razorbacks will play a more improved game from last week, and make the Southern fight all the way for a victory.

Oklahoma A&M 20—T.C.U. 6.

All-American Bob Fennimore should have a field day against the Frogs, who won't have Lady Luck on their side this week. On a comparative basis, the Horned Toads will not look as good against the Aggies as SMU did.

for civilian use and Dr. Levert secured three for the Veterinary School.

Unlike the old method of fracture reduction, these instruments are attached directly to the broken bones. It is a very complicated instrument, consisting of many parts and adjustments, yet it is small, compact, and light. It consists of two pin bar assemblies which are driven into opposite ends of the

Boy Scouts Issue 1st Annual Report

Boy Scout Troop 102, made up of boys at College Station, although in existence for 15 years, has just issued its first annual report with Aden Magee, Troop member, as editor. The written report covers activities, advancements and awards received during the charter year ending Sept. 30.

Included in the accomplishments of the Troop during the year were: won Honor Patrol (first place) at Camp Strake near Conroe; won Star Patrol at Camp Arrow Moon near Hearne; won Eisenhower award for paper collection for the war effort; won first place at a Court of Honor; won Silver Jubilee award; awarded citations for participating in forestry work; awarded citations by the U. S. Treasury for participating in war loan activities, and won first place in district swimming meet.

A permanent meeting place for the Troop has been secured in the American Legion house on the Texas A&M College campus. Troop members plan to secure two large squad tents as soon as they are released by the Army. Other needs cited in the annual report include lanterns, cooking gear, and more literature on handicraft, nature, camping and other scouting activities.

The Troop began the charter year with 19 active and 3 associate members. During the year it gained 6 new members. R. G. Cherry and C. W. Manning were named acting scout masters, succeeding the late C. J. Hesse.

Membership of Troop 102 includes: Richard Birdwell, Wm. B. Hale, Johnny S. Lancaster, Clifford LaMotte, Homer LaMotte, Lamar McNew, Aden Magee, Jason Magee, Wm. F. Munnerlyn, James A. Prewit, George M. Rodgers, Royce W. Rodgers, Ralph D. Smith, Ide P. Trotter, David Williams and Pete Yarnell. Members of the Troop in the armed forces are James T. Bonnen, Jerry E. Bonnen and Milton Sorrels. Associate members are Robert Lee Hunt and Robert E. Wright.

broken bone, and these parts connected by a steel reduction bar assembly, which has many varied adjustments by which the ends of the bones may be lined up and brought into apposition. The animal is able to walk in a day or so, and the instrument is not so large, cumbersome, and inconvenient as the old method.

PENNY'S SERENADE

By W. L. Penberthy

During the playing of a football game many interesting and amusing things happen that the spectators never have the opportunity to enjoy. To be in a "Bull Pen" with a group of officials is a very entertaining experience because each one has a little story to tell that happened in a game he worked. Recently an official told me of a third string substitute who entered the game in the closing stages. He said the sub's team was being hopelessly defeated, but in spite of this the sub ran up and down the line slapping his team mates on the back and shouting, "If you ever played in your life now is the time." We surely must admire the youngster's zeal and enthusiasm, but like so many of us it was wasted because it came much too late.

We have all seen distance races where a runner would hang back until the last lap and then come dashing in with a burst of speed that carried him well up in the race, but usually failed to win him the race.

We all like to see a fast start and a strong finish, but we must not forget the all essential middle part of any race or assignment, and that burst of speed at the end of a race somehow or another loses its effectiveness and thrill when it is started too late. The successful people are the ones who start fast, stay up with the crowd, and then finish strong ahead of the field.

A&M Consolidated Mothers and Dads Plan Barbecue

Cooking to dishwashing will be done by the Dad members of the A&M Consolidated School Mothers and Dads Club at the first community supper that has been planned by the club this year, it has been announced by President R. L. Hunt.

The supper will be held on November first in the A&M Consolidated School gymnasium.

Barbecue, with all the trimmings, ice cream and soft drinks will be featured on the menu and the entire affair is in the hands of the men of the community from the planning, to the cleaning up. The men have helped in the suppers held in other years with the planning and supervision by the Mothers and a complete supper with the ladies, as guests is expected to be an innovation.

The community suppers which have been held as the major social activity of the club for many years serve a two-fold purpose, to bring the community together and to raise funds for the improvement of the school. It has long been one of the most outstanding features of the club with hundreds attending. It is open to the entire community.

Committee heads appointed to carry out the plans are F. I. Dahlberg, Luke Patranella, R. C. Potts, C. B. Godbey, O. C. Copeland, Ray Oden, Ralph Steen, and Dan Davidson.

What cheers are to the players . . . chrysanthemums are to your girl. Call or stop by and select her favorite "mum" before the game. We'll make it up into a corsage, and deliver it to her room or to yours. They cost so little too!
